

The Mariettian

MARIETTA, PA.

Saturday Morning, July 21, 1866.

FOR GOVERNOR.

Gen. J. W. Geary, of Cumberland Co.

Forney's Press in speaking of the recent carrying over the head of the President, the second Freedmen's bill, says: 'The Tribune's last blow at the freedmen in his fifth veto was this afternoon nobly warded off by the loyal congressional majorities, and now the bureau will stand under the shelter of the law, with no thanks to the Moses of Tennessee. You will recollect his first veto killed the original bill, and that the bureau was liable at any moment to be dismantled by his orders. He had often threatened to discontinue it: Hence the imperative necessity of this bill, and the priceless importance of the votes of Congress. The extraordinary feat of reading the veto and passing the bill over his head in both Houses on the same afternoon, shows the granite solidity of the Union forces in Congress, and is a good pattern for our politicians to imitate.'

Col. Forney in a very able article in the Press, urges Congress not to adjourn. He predicts that in the event of an adjournment, the President will issue a Proclamation of general amnesty, and which will be followed by elections for members of Congress in the seceded States for the present unexpired term. That the elected rebels and copperheads in the North will secretly assemble in Washington. That the President will then issue his proclamation, convening an extra session of Congress at short notice, and before the Republican members can reach there, Congress will be organized by these elements, and the Southern members admitted to seats. This once done, there will be no power to remove them. The very worst consequences will surely follow an adjournment.

Senator James H. Lane of Kansas was a lawyer by profession; a native of Indiana; served in the Mexican war and in the late rebellion; killed his neighbor, Mr. Jenkins, in Kansas, in 1858, on a slight misunderstanding. It is said that he committed suicide in consequence of finding that his constituents were dissatisfied with his Andy Johnson course; and that his re-election to the U. S. Senate was exceedingly doubtful. By others that exposures, about to be made, of subsidies paid him for his influence in Congress and with Andy Johnson.

An English counterfeiter of greenbacks has been arrested at Atlanta. He states that the bills were made at Nottingham, England, and that he, with nine accomplices, came here for the purpose of peddling them. Three are in New York, two in Boston, one in Cincinnati, one in St. Louis, one in Nashville, and one unknown. He refused to describe them, or give any information against them.

The War Department has made public the record in the case of James W. Duncan, tried at Savannah in April or May for the murder of prisoners at Andersonville. He was found guilty of manslaughter, in violation of the laws of war, and sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. The sentence has been confirmed by the President, and Duncan is confined at Fort Pulaski.

Gen. Ould, late rebel Commissioner of Exchange, is in Washington. He says the people of the South will send none but those who took part in the rebellion to the Philadelphia Convention, for the reasons that there are none others in the South who have an ounce of brains. The South he says will soon resume control of the country as before the war.

Speaker Colfax has been, for the eighth time, unanimously renominated for Congress in Indiana unsolicited. What a record this is to leave behind him! What will be Andrew Johnson's compared to this? An honest man, it has been truly said, is the noblest work of God. Here is treachery and fidelity, choose ye.

Postmaster General Dennison has resigned and A. W. Randall, first assistant, appointed in his place. It is said Montgomery Blair tried hard to get in again.

Gen. John A. Dix has the 'Johnson fever.' He wants a place in 'my policy' cabinet.

Attorney General Speed has resigned from Johnson's cabinet.

Freeman Clark, Comptroller of the Treasury, has also resigned.

In Portland, since the fire, seventy-five children have been born in total.

IN MEMORIAM.—The Rochester Democrat proposes to erect a monument in honor of the defunct Democracy, and offers the following as an inscription:—
Ere Jacet!
THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY,
a kind husband of SLAVERY,
an indulgent father of RIOTS,
and a firm friend
of REBELLION.

The tender plant that north winds chilled,
Has drooped and withered in its prime;
But what the snowy ballot killed,
May flourish in a warmer clime.

A despatch from Annapolis, July 10th, says: A sad accident occurred here last night. A party of seven, composed of five priests and two students left Annapolis at four o'clock on a pleasure trip down the bay. When off Thomas Point, Father Clapens was lost overboard, and while endeavoring to save him the boat capsized, and Fathers Bradley and Goodemann, and students F. F. Keony and Runge, were lost. The two others remained clinging to the boat, and drifted ashore on Thomas Point and then walked to Washington city, arriving this morning. A party was sent in search of the bodies, but failed as yet to recover any of them, for which a liberal reward has been offered.

The St. Louis train stopped as usual at Carlingville, a few days ago, to enable the passengers to obtain refreshments. Two ladies stepped from the car to the platform, and inquired of a gentleman the name of the place. He told them: 'Is this the Carlingville where General Palmer resides?' asked they. They were told it was, and the general offered to point out the general's residence. To this offer one of the females responded, 'No, sir, I have no desire to see his house. I am a Kentucky lady, sir, and I spit (editing the action to the word) upon Carlingville.' Carlingville still exists.

The Norfolk Old Dominion classifies the political parties in Virginia as National Union men, radical Union men and ancient democrats. The radical Unionists are said to favor the disfranchisement of rebels and the enfranchisement of negroes. John Minor Botts, Judge Underwood, and John F. Lewis are leading men in this party. The 'ancient democrats,' now, as formerly, are secessionists.

At Salem, Illinois, on the 4th inst., Generals Sherman and Logan were present, and General Logan, in concluding his speech, said:
'I was a Whig, but I have great affection for you loyal Democrats, your fathers, who sent your sons to support Gen. Sherman, who, I believe, is a Democrat.'

General Sherman promptly interrupted General Logan, saying: 'I never was a Democrat!' I only voted once in my life.'

The Tacony print works, located in Frankford, Philadelphia, were entirely destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon, involving a total loss of nearly thirteen hundred thousand dollars; partly insured; three hundred and fifty operators thrown out of employment. The fire was unquestionably the work of an incendiary.

A returned Californian, named Stroeter, deposited $1,000 in a barrel of beans, and hid it in a barn in Ellington township, about six miles from Quincy, Illinois, fearing it would be stolen. The barn took fire, and 1,500 bushels of corn were burned, and the money went with it, the barrel of beans being a poor bank of deposit.

Col. Thos. A. Scott and other leading railroad engineers are asking the consent of Congress to tunnel the Mississippi river at St. Louis, instead of bridging it; the tunnel to be constructed of wrought iron, not to exceed in cost $3,000,000, and to be completed in three years.

The commencement exercises of Princeton College closed last Wednesday. This institution is 119 years old, and its first president was Aaron Burr. It is in very prosperous circumstances, and stands as high as any similar college in the country.

Senator Lane told some of his friends in Washington, before he left for Kansas, that he 'thought he would go and blow out his brains,' on account of the political wreck he had made of himself.

The investigation into the conduct of General Kilpatrick, Minister to Chili, shows that there is no truth in the shameful charges made by the Democratic newspapers against him.

A London merchant recently advertised for a clerk who could 'bear confinement.' He received an answer from one who had been upward of seven years in jail. 'Of course he was eligible.'

The Camden and Amboy Railroad Company are laying steel rails in place of the old iron ones. This rail is expensive, but it is thought will be far more durable than iron.

PURIFY THE BLOOD.—If the blood be pure the body, which is formed from and by the blood cannot be diseased. But if there be in any part of the body any affection, such as a boil or ulcer, even a bruise, the blood circulating through that part takes up impure matters from the local effusion and carries it into the general system. This is the cause often of sudden death to persons of full habit, afflicted with boils and ulcers, and who use no medicine; the matter gets into the circulating system and chokes up the fine blood vessels which supply the brain with vitality, and life ceases as if bereft by lightning. Now this can be realized. BRANDRETT'S PILLS take all impure matters from the circulation, and save the general health, soon curing local affections also. Brandrett's Pills protect from tedious times of sickness and often save life.
Sold by all respectable Dealers in Medicines.
