

The Mariettian.

MARIETTA, PA:

Saturday Morning, August 4, 1866.

FOR GOVERNOR,

Gen'l John W. Geary,
OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

It is a disagreeable office to expose the faults of any one. To allude to the personal habits of the President of the United States, except to praise him, is a duty still more painful; but the recent letter of Col. Forney to Mr. Johnson, in which allusion is made to the disgraceful attitude in which he placed himself before the nation on the day that he was inaugurated as Vice-President, recalls a statement made by a friend just returned from Washington after a year's residence there.

He says that he has frequently seen President Johnson so much intoxicated that he fairly staggered in the streets, and that he is almost constantly under the influence of spirituous liquor. Now this fact, though well known to the Washingtonians, is seldom spoken of in the papers. We would not do so now, but that our readers may understand fully the kind of man who is permitted to rule over us. May not this unfortunate habit account in a measure for some of Mr. Johnson's proceedings?

A man living at a village near Mobile, on Monday night, attempted to frighten some girls by wrapping a white cloth round his body and personating a ghost. All ran but one, who pulled out a revolver and deliberately fired six balls into the head and body. At the first shot the ghost fell, but she continued firing. She then went home and related the circumstances, and parties returning to the spot found life completely extinct two balls having penetrated the forehead, and the other four the region of the heart. The sympathy of the people favored the girl, and she has not been arrested.

The admission of representatives from Tennessee will have little effect on the political complexion of Congress. In the Senate, David T. Patterson, son-in-law of Mr. Johnson, is of course among the President's supporters; his term expires in 1869. J. S. Fowler, whose term ends in 1871, is exactly of the opposite stripe. In the House, the representatives elected as Unionists are Nathaniel E. Taylor, Horace Maynard, William B. Stokes, S. M. Arnell, and Isaac R. Hawkins. The Democrats are Edmund Cooper, William B. Campbell and John W. Leftwich.—Advertiser.

Two men employed at a limekiln near St. Genevieve, Mo., while watching the kiln at night, took a coffee pot which had been standing all day on the bank and made some coffee in it, of which they drank freely. Soon after they exhibited strong symptoms of having been poisoned, and examining the coffee pot, found in it a small snake which had been boiled up with the coffee, and the essence of which they had been drinking.

Some time ago sixteen men conspired to rob the Clay county (Mo.) Savings Association. They succeeded in obtaining one hundred thousand dollars' worth of money and bonds and started to leave the State. Near the border in Iowa they had a quarrel with regard to the division of the spoils. Those who obtained the smallest share informed against the remainder, and twelve were captured.

One of the grounds on which Johnson vetoed the new freedmen's Bureau Bill is that "eleven States" are not represented in Congress. If that is a valid reason for vetoing the bill, is it not equally as good against all bills passed by this Congress? Yet, Johnson has signed at least a hundred bills passed during this session.

It is said that a volume is about to appear in which it will be demonstrated that Louis Napoleon was profoundly and practically interested in the success of the rebellion and the rupture of the United States government, and also that the London Times was, during the rebellion, in the pay of the confederates.

A mulatto and young white lady who eloped from Mobile on Monday, were overtaken and brought back. The friends of the young lady took the African to parts unknown. It is believed that they lynched him. His father, who has considerable property, is determined to fully investigate the matter.

The best thing said pertinent to the difference between the President and the people comes from a citizen of a reconstructed State: "We are all Johnson men," said Mr. J. M. Botts, in his Baltimore speech; "the only difference is, one goes for what Johnson says, and the other for what he does."

THE ATLANTIC CABLE.—The Atlantic cable has been successfully laid, and dispatches have been received across it. From the starting of the Great Eastern, until land was seen, the average speed was a little less than five nautical miles per hour. The weather throughout was excellent. Since the splice was made on the 13th the Great Eastern was in constant communication with Valentia, and daily bulletins were received from Europe. The telegraph fleet will shortly start for the place where the cable was lost last year, attempt to secure the end, and thus complete a second line between Ireland and America.

THE CABINET.—Mr. Harlan resigned the Secretaryship of the Interior, on Monday, and Orville H. Browning, of Illinois, was appointed in his place. Mr. Harlan's resignation is to take effect on the first of September.

The Cabinet with the new appointments stand as follows:
Secretary of State, William H. Seward; Secretary of War, Edwin M. Stanton; Secretary of the Navy, Gideon Welles; Secretary of the Interior, Orville H. Browning; Postmaster General A. W. Randall; Attorney General, Henry Stanbery.

The term popularly applied in the Southern States to the secession movement, is the "Lost Cause." At their tournaments knights assume this title, and recently when the corner stone of a jail was laid at Memphis the spectators present insisted upon a confederate note and a button belonging to a confederate uniform being deposited with other "archives" to represent their "Lost Cause." The hope is reviving, however, that as Milton wrote Paradise regained, after Paradise lost, "my policy" may practically restore to ascendancy the men and principles overthrown by the victories of our armies.

Last year the President "assumed a virtue, though he had it not." He ordered that no assessments should be made on office-holders for political purposes. He assigned lofty reasons which were not the true reasons for this course. He simply wanted to embarrass and defeat the Republicans, but did not deem it prudent to say so. This year all the office-holders are called upon for assessments for party purposes, but not in aid of the Republicans. So the hypocrisy of the President last year stands confessed.

At the public celebration of the Fourth in New Orleans, Mayor Monroe in introducing the reader of the Declaration of Independence, took occasion to say that "he differed from one expression of opinion in that document, to the effect that all men were created equal. The nigger could not be considered the equal of the white man, and as the writer of the Declaration, Mr. Jefferson, was a slaveholder, it stood to reason that he never could have meant to include the nigger in that assertion."

The city engineer of Portland, Maine, Mr. Charles R. Goodell, has addressed a communication to the Mayor and Common Council of that city, recommending important improvements in the plan of the city. He proposes that the principal streets that ran through the burnt district be widened, and that the Legislature be asked to pass a special law authorizing the city to take all lands required in making the alterations.

A western editor with a talent for emphasis, says, "The Blair family, consisting of the senior Francis, the junior Francis, and Montgomery, is the three-headed Cerberus stationed at the entrance to the Executive mansion, demanding a sop from every political party that seeks an entrance. It is a trinity of supernatural shrewdness, precocious conceit, and vanity soured by disappointed ambition."

An Austrian official has arrived in Mobile, with authority from his government to offer positions in the Austrian army to any late confederate officers who wish to enter the army. His government very wisely wishes that army commanded by men who have seen active service. Several late confederate generals are communicating with the official at present.

In San Francisco the police have discovered a gang of thieves, the oldest of whom is not over 16 or 17 years of age, with a regular organization, who have constructed caverns underneath sidewalks in unfrequented localities, in which they burrow, and from which they construct tunnels to adjacent stores, conveying their stolen goods thence to the upper air.

One of the bolters from Middle Tennessee (says the Nashville Press) received a letter a few days prior to his departure from Nashville, from the Hon. Edmund Cooper, private secretary of the President, advising him to absent himself from his seat in the General Assembly, that the amendment to the constitution might be defeated at all hazards.

Nine horses standing together on an open prairie near Broadhead, Wisconsin, were killed by a single stroke of lightning last Sunday.

News in Brief.

Mr. John Walker, of Columbus, Georgia, died from the effects of a rat's bite.

At Atlanta, Georgia, the graves of thirty Union soldiers have been dug up, and their bones scattered over the ground.

Two years ago the rebels were near the defenses of Washington. Now they are strutting through its streets.

The puddler's strike at the Cambria Iron Works, Johnstown, is at an end. The loss in wages to the employees by the strike amounts to $25,000.

The great seal of the State of Missouri, which was carried away by Claib. Jackson in 1861, has been found at the bottom of a well in Marshall, Texas.

Dartmouth college has just conferred the degree of LL. D., on Major General Sherman. He addressed the graduating class at considerable length, and with eloquence.

A little boy in San Francisco had his head horribly torn by a lion, who seized his arm and drew him up to the bars of the cage in which he was confined.

By order of the British government, a criminal was executed at Baroda, in India, by being dragged through the streets of the city bound to the foot of an elephant.

A farmer in Michigan who took a notion to raise a lot of elk has sold thirty of them to Victor Emmanuel, King of Italy, at a profit of $500 each.

When General Gregory went to Texas, he visited a lawyer at his office and asked him for a copy of the laws of Texas. The lawyer opened a drawer, took out a large and handsome bowie knife and gave it to the General.

A laborer was dug out of a well at Hanover, New York, where he had been buried several hours by the caving in of the walls. He had cut his throat with a pocket-knife, but was alive at last accounts.

A recent tea party near London was composed of sixty-six blind persons; thirty-one deaf and dumb persons, and twenty-one orphans. They had a very cheerful time.

Col. Ricker, Superintendent of the Terre Haute and Richmond Railroad, has been tendered and accepted the general superintendency of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad.

An official in Chicago bought a ticket in a lottery, for the purpose of obtaining evidence against the proprietors and indicting them. The ticket happened to draw a thousand dollar prize and the officer is inclined not to prosecute.

William Zimmerman, a well known and wealthy citizen of Lawrence, Kansas, recently went to Germany on a pleasure trip. It seems that he owed Prussia some service and the authorities arrested him and placed him in the army. He is now amusing himself carrying a musket.

The Hon. William Williamson, of West Chester, died on Wednesday of paralysis. He was the oldest member of the Chester county bar, and at one time was State Senator.

A man has been arrested in Washington for selling blackberries by the quart with three inches of pasteboard in the bottom of the measure.

The battle lately fought at Sadowna in Germany, was evidently the greatest fought in modern times. The loss is estimated at 100,000 men.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, in New York, are about to erect in different parts of the city suitable drinking troughs for horses and dogs.

A negro in Chattanooga, while quarreling with another about a dollar, picked up a gun and struck his opponent on the head with the butt end of it. The gun was thereby discharged, and the contents entered the stomach of his assailant and killed him.

The reward of one thousand dollars offered for the arrest of Probst, was distributed in Philadelphia, in four amounts of two hundred and fifty dollars each, to the three officers who captured him at Market street bridge, and to Jacob Price, the lad at the Naval Asylum, who first gave the information that the prisoner had lost a thumb, that being the circumstance by which he was identified.

The resignation of Secretary Harlan does not take effect until September 1st, as it is stated that it will require until that time to arrange in proper order the affairs of the Department. Mr. Harlan handed in his resignation at this time in order that the President might appoint his successor and submit it to the Senate for confirmation before the adjournment of Congress.

Senator elect Patterson and Representatives elect Cooper, Campbell, Leftwich, Taylor and Thomas, have issued an address to the people of Tennessee, urging them to send delegates to the National Union Convention to assemble in Philadelphia on the 14th of August.

United States Senators.

"M. C. A." the Washington correspondent of the Independent, who has written so many spicy and sensible letters, which have appeared under the heading, "A woman in Washington—What she sees, hears and thinks," in the last number of the Independent gives the following sketch of a number of United States Senators:

The Senate claims but one positively young man, Gov. Sprague, and nature designed him for a dry goods clerk. Circumstances and inherited wealth have made a Senator, after having first made him a Governor, and then a general, before he was thirty.

Vice-President Foster is considered a good executive officer; but his appearance in the chair is by no means prepossessing, and brings back in most vivid contrast the grand yet winning presence of the lamented Senator Foose, who, with inimitable grace and dignity, presided so long over the deliberations of the Senate. As each of the genus homo is said to bear a similitude, either slight or marked, to some of the lower order of animals, in Mr. Foster's physique the suggestion of the hound is very distinctive. The fall of the hair, the droop of the shoulders, the expression of the features, all indicate it. I do not mention this in disparagement, for the expression of Mr. Foster's face is at once refined, intellectual and benevolent.

Another most marked representative of the dog-type in the Senate is Reverdy Johnson. If ever a man looked like a bulldog, it is this ancient Marylander. Stubbed forehead, crossed eyes, short nose prominent mouth, retreating chin, with deep fighting lines running down each cheek—all make the suggestion and the likeness. In utter contrast to the able and learned Marylander is the pure, intellectual face of William Pitt Fessenden, the great debater of the Senate, one of the truest and greatest men of our time.

Mr. Fessenden is one of those great men whose vital organization can scarcely supply the demands of a dominant brain. Mental toil wears on the fine, nervous frame. Thus the apparent irascibility which Mr. Fessenden sometimes betrays in debate is only the surface irritation of overworn nerves. No one has a kinder heart or tenderer feelings; but, by nature, shy, sensitive, and proud, he instinctively sheaths himself in a mail of reserve, from which he comes forth to the precious few who hold the "open sesame" to his deeper life and heart.

Other members in the Senate may excel in ornate speech; but he has no equal in parliamentary debate. In intellectual acumen, in far-seeing, far-reaching statesmanship he has no peer. A wise, incorruptible man, we need not despair of greatness while the Senate of the nation boasts one such statesman.

I have only time, en passant, for a mention of other senators. Here is "Jim Lane," a very lean and uncertain looking individual. Here is Henry S. Lane, of Indiana, who, with this Congress, retires from public life, carrying back to the privacy of a delightful home the high esteem of all who know him; a man whose private and public record is without blemish, and whose fiery eloquence is only equalled by his generous and kindly heart. Here is Governor Morgan, with a face so Romanesque and strong, one would never suspect that he could give a weak vote, or tremble in the balance before a great question. Here is Cowan, cadaverous and conservative. Here is Charles Sumner, classical as a god on one side of his face, and ugly on the other; Charles Sumner, at once both great and weak, harmonious and angular, philanthropic and selfish; who will live in the hereafter as the eloquent champion of one great idea. Here is Sherman, elegant, proper, and commonplace. Here is Ben Wade, burly, belligerent and honest. Here is Henry Wilson, shrewd, busy and comfortable, in physique at least. Here is Howe, of Wisconsin, who has one of the finest and most benevolent of faces; and Doolittle, who has grown very gray and aged since he wandered from the true way. Here is Gratz Brown, of Missouri with his fine face and fiery hair. Here is McDougall, with hoary head, a man of the finest ability and ripest culture, going down to a drunkard's grave. Here, too, is Yates, of Illinois, all his manhood marred by strong drink; and his colleague, Trumbull, spectacled, keen and eager. Here is Sausbury, the semi-rebel, who two Sabbaths ago waited on Mrs. Jeff. Davis to church, pacing up and down the Senate Chamber like a caged lion—a man one hundred years behind his time and proud of it.

One hundred years ago there were in all America only two Methodists, Philip Embury and Barbara Heck. They were the founders of Methodism in this country. Now there are twenty bishops, seventeen thousand ministers, twenty-seven thousand local preachers, Sunday school teachers, &c., two million communicants, nineteen thousand churches, two hundred colleges and academies, and twenty book stores. These figures show that a mighty power Methodism has grown in one hundred years.

Special Notices.

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM.—There is a disease to which the doctors give many names, but which few of them understand. It is simply weakness—a breaking down of the vital forces. Whatever its causes (and they are innumerable), its symptoms are in the main the same. Among the most prominent are extreme lassitude, loss of appetite, loss of flesh, and great mental depression. Indigestion and a Stomach Cough are also frequently concomitants of this distressing state of body and of mind. The common remark in relation to persons in such a condition is, that they are consumptive. Now, what these unfortunate really want is vital strength; and as certainly as a life-reviving tonic is required in such cases, as that the dying flame of an empty lamp requires to be revived with a new supply of oil. Perfectly pure and innocuous, containing nothing but the most genial vegetable extracts, and combining the three grand elements of a stomachic, an alterative, and a genial invigorant.—Hostetter's Bitters are suitable to all constitutions, and are as applicable to the diseases and disabilities of the feeble sex as to those of men.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS.—These Drops are a scientifically compounded fluid preparation, and better than any Pills, Powders or Nostrums. Being liquid, their action is direct and positive, rendering them a reliable, speedy and certain specific for the cure of all obstructions and suppressions of nature. Their operation is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually sold and consumed by the ladies of the United States, every one of whom speak in the strongest terms of praise of their good merits. They are rapidly taking the place of every other Female Remedy, and are considered by all who know ought of them, as the surest, safest and most infallible preparation in the world, for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature, and the promotion of health, regularity and strength. Explicit directions stating when they may be used, and explaining when they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to nature's chosen laws, will be found carefully folded around each bottle, with the written signature of JOHN L. LYON, without which none are genuine.

Prepared by Dr. JOHN L. LYON, 185 Chapel street, New-Haven, Conn., who can be consulted either personally or by mail, (enclosing stamp) concerning all private diseases and female weaknesses. Sold by Druggists every where. C. G. CLARK & Co., Gen'l Agts for U. S. and Canada.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—The advertiser having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years, with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription, free of charge, with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Coughs, Bronchitis, Colds, and all throat and lung affections.

The only object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

Parties wishing the prescription, FREE, by return mail, will please address
Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings County, New-York.

PURIFY THE BLOOD.—If the blood be pure the body, which is formed from and by the blood cannot be diseased. But if there be in any part of the body any affection, such as a boil or ulcer, even a bruise, the blood circulating through that part takes up impure matters from the local affection and carries it into the general system. This is the cause often of sudden death to persons of full habit, afflicted with boils and ulcers, and who use no medicine; the matter gets into the circulating system and chokes up the fine blood vessels which supply the brain with vitality, and life ceases as if by lightning. Now this can be realized. BRANDRETH'S PILLS take all impure matters from the circulation, and save the general health, soon curing local affections also. Brandreth's Pills protect from tedious times of sickness and often save life.

Sold by all respectable Dealers in Medicines.

THE GREATEST DISCOVERY OF THE AGE. Farmers, Families and others can purchase no remedy equal to Dr. TORIAS' Venetian Liniment for dysentery, colic, chronic rheumatism, sore throat, toothache, sea sickness, cuts, burns, swellings, bruises, old sores, head ache, toothache, pains in the limbs, sore chest, &c. If it does not give relief the money will be refunded. All that is asked is a trial, and use it according to directions.

Dr. Tobias. Dear Sir:—I have used your Venetian Liniment in my family for a number of years, and believe it to be the best ever used for what it is recommended that I have ever used. For sudden attack of croup, it is invaluable. I have no hesitation in recommending it for all the uses it professes to cure. I have sold it for many years, and it gives entire satisfaction.
CHAS. H. TRIMMER.
Quakertown, N. J., May 8, 1866.

Price 40 and 80 cents. Sold by all Druggists Depot, 56 Courtlandt-st., N. Y. [40-1m]

SPIKE THE GUNS OF HUMORS. Imposters are in the field with deadly hair dyes, dangerous to health and utterly destructive to the hair. Do not submit to have your head baptized with liquid fire, when that cooling vegetable preparation, CHRISTA DORO'S Hair Dye will, in five minutes, impart any desired shade from light brown to jet black, without injuring the fibres, staining the skin or poisoning the system through the pores. Beware of deleterious dyes! Manufactured by J. CHRISTA DORO, 6 Astor House, New-York. Sold by Druggists. Applied by all Hair-dressers.

ERRORS OF YOUTH.—A gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing JOHN B. OGDEN, No. 13 Chamber St., New-York.

The real Velpau French Pills cure sickness at the stomach, vomiting and heartburn. See notice. Sold by Dr. F. Hinkle, Marietta, and by all good Druggists.

The Peruvian Syrup.

Is a protected solution of the PROTOXIDE OF IRON, a new discovery in medicine which strikes at the root of disease, by supplying the blood with its vital principle, or life element—Iron.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of curing this remedy in Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Rheumatism, Bile, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fever, Hemorrhages, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of The Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the system.

Being free from Alcohol in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by any enervating reaction, but are permanent, increasing strength, vigor and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

DYSPEPSIA AND DEBILITY. From the venerable archdeacon Scott, D. D., Dunham, Canada East, March 24, 1866.
"I am an inveterate Dyspeptic more than 25 years standing."
"I have been so wonderfully benefited by the three short weeks during which I have used the Peruvian Syrup, that I can scarcely persuade myself of the reality of the change. I am widely known, and am recommended to others that which has done so much for me."
A Case of 27 Years' Standing Croup, from Insley Jewett, No. 15 Avon place, Boston.

"I have suffered and sometimes recovered, for 27 years, from Dyspepsia, I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup, and found immediate benefit from it. In the course of four or five weeks I was entirely relieved from my sufferings, and have enjoyed uninterrupted health ever since."

An Eminent Divine of Boston says: "I have been using the Peruvian Syrup some time past; it gives me new vigor, buoyancy of spirits, elasticity of muscles."
Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

A pamphlet of 32 pages, containing certificates of cures, and recommendations from some of the most eminent physicians, clergymen, and others, will be sent free to any address.

SEYMOUR THATCHER, M. D., of Herman, N. Y., writes as follows:—
"Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry gives a universal satisfaction. It cures the cough by loosening the lungs, cleanses the throat and allaying irritation, thus removing the cause behind. I consider it as good as any, if not the best, cough medicine with which I am acquainted."
The Rev. JACOB SCHUELER, of Hamilton, Pa. Well known and much respected among the German population in this country, makes the following statement for the benefit of the afflicted.
"Dear Sirs:—Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—WISTAR'S Balsam of Wild Cherry—it affords me pleasure to commend it to the public."
I am, Sir, a man of advanced age, and in a decline, and little hopes of recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of the contents of the bottle, I was a great improvement in her health. In my individual case made repeated use of your valuable medicine, and have been benefited by it. JACOB SCHUELER.
