The cops had a meeting in front of the Donegal House on Saturday evegiog. The leaders had hung a star pangled banner out of the third story rindow so as to fall immediately over he head of the speaker and a large boatman's night hawk immediately behind him and a large store box to stand on. The first speaker was Andy Frantz _who, by the way, delivered a strong publican speech a couple of years since in the Town Hall Park. Some of his locologo hearers recognized his voice and thought he was hardly warm yet in his new quarters. He drew some frightfol conclusions should abolition rule continue any longer. He was followed by a weak-voiced, long legged limb of the law, named Swift, from Lancaster. After Swift had got through, Andy, ever ready to hear himself, pitched in again. but this time in german. These political exercises were under the auspices of the Clymer Club.

@ On Saturday night about ten c'clock, the denizens of Market street were alarmed by the cry of murder. Quite a crowd followed up as far as the Maytown road, where they found two men and two women-all drunk-one of the men was badly cut and bruised. They were arrested and taken to the lock-up. On Sunday morning they were brought before Esquire Auxer, who discharged them. They were all Irish beggars, and said that it was only whiskey that was fighting; after being discharged they left together in the very best of spirits.

at It appears from an article in the Express that the jury in the case of John Reland vs. Mary Roland, for divorce, had a great difficulty in agreeing. That paper says: "The matter was submitted at eleven o'clock yesterday, when the jury retired to one of the small apartments used for juries, in the Court floase, where the members were still discussing the merits of the testimony adduced on the trial, at noon, to day. Refreshments are furnished regularly to the jurors, but they were obliged to pass the night on the floor or benches of the place in which they were cooped."

We are informed by the obliging licket agent, Jos. G. Sultzbach, that extursion tickets will be issued from this place to Philadelphia to those wishing attend the Union Convention, on Aufeet 31st, September 1, 2 and 3d, good or return from 4th to 10th of Septem-This will enable all who wish to F.J. Wilson Hamilton, a private Balchman in Columbia, struck a drunken fellow named Mullen (who was staggering about at two o'clock in the morning), with his walking cane, from the effects of which he fell over a cellar door broke his neck and died immediately. No blame appears to be attached to lamilton's conduct.

J. P. Bear, of Bainbridge, who Ras "a little how come you so" was knocked down and robbed of $35 on Wednesday night last, as he was coming down Front street, when near the resilance of Mr. Dellinger. He accuses ac. Cochran of being one of the party, here were two, and a warrant is out for arrest. Cochran has left.

The County Convention has re-Rested Thaddens Stevens, John Strohm athaniel Eilmaker. Thomas E. Frankin and A. Herr Smith to represent this onty in the 3d of September Convenon in Philadelphia. No better selecon could possibly have been made. All good men and true.

Maxwell's Marietta Academy, on Thursday last Milton W. Roth, one of the pupils, delivered the following farewell address to his teachers and schoolmates: Schoolmates :- It is with pleasure that I address you here to-day; I am very thankful both to our Creator and to our Teachers-to the one because he has given us health, vigor and strength, to allend the loyal gathering, and remain perform the duties assigned to us; and Meral days after, at reduced reilroad to the other because they have done all return mail (free of charge,) by addressing that was in their power to urge us on the undersigned. Those having fears of being toward the hill of science and literature. Where is the man that can get along in this world without learning? If you point me out one, I will point you out fifty that does not, but show me a Byron, Shakespeare or a Milton, that does not, and though he may be poor, yet he is rich. Now, schoolmates, why may we not all just as well make some mark in envelopes. Address, Dr. J. Skillin Houghthis world, though it may not be as emi nent as the mark made by George Wash ington, yet strive to make it shine like the glittering diamond, and sound through every land as does the thunder after lightning.

To R. S. Maxwell, Teacher: Kind teacher you have done your duty well, may you ever journey onward in a successful course, and when your time shall come to part with those who now crowd around you, may you be left with a clear conscience to sleep in peace, and your spirit return to Him who gave it.

To Miss A. E. Smith, Assistant : And to you, kind assistant, I would say that when you have parted with those friends which you have made, may they still receive one thought, and may heaven's choicest favors ever attend your journey onward.

To all: With this, and a hoping heart I bid you one and all farewell.

Thursday evening's Lancaster Express thus gives the yankee proselyte a mest on Saturday (this) evening "digunder the fifth rib": "Last evening the town ball to perfect the organias: as the procession of Boys in Blue passed alion of the "Geary Club." There the residence of Jay Cadwell—the "my all also be a delegation appointed to policy" postmaster of Lancaster—the accomplished lady and daughter of that gentleman, waived a hearty greeting, which the boys were just in the act of responding to by hearty cheers, when the veritable Jay made his appearance at the door. This put a wet blanket on the affair and they passed on in silence. Comment is unnecessary."

THIS ACADEMY being again successfully Monday, September 17th, 1866.

This Academy is situated on the banks of the Susquehanny, in the pleasant Borough of Marietta, Lancaster county, Pa. It contains about 3000 inhabitants and four Evangelical churches of different denominations, to which parents can have a choice in sending their youth. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company run four Passenger Trains through the place daily, making it easy of access from all parts of the State, which renders it peculiarly desirable to parents who may wish to send their sons and daughters from home to be educated.

sons and daughters from home to be educated.

The present Principal feels greatly encouraged at the patronage extended toward this enterprise, that he is determined that nothing shall be left undone to make it one of the best schools in the State for obtaining a thorough education.

The branches taught embrace all those of a thorough English and Classical education, together with French and German, Drawing, Painting, Vocal and Instrumental Music.

Every branch will be taught in the most borough manner

Whilst the principal will constantly aim to make thorough scholars, he still deems it no less important to inculcate moral and religious principles. He pledges his best exertions to secure the present and future welfare of those committed to his charge.

Lectures upon scientific subjects, will be delivered before the students during the session.

TERMS:—The School Year is divided into two resisting of twenty-two weeks each.
