The Mariettian

MARIETTA, PA:

Saturday Morning, September 15, 1866.

FOR GOVERNOR, Major General JOHN W. GEARY OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

HISTORY CORRECTED .- A curious little piece of the history of the war has been brought to light by General Dix's virtual salutation of the rebel flag at the opening of the Wigwam when he joined Custer in cheering the rebel tune of "Dixie." General Dix's share in the war has generally been admitted to consist in sending the famous despatch to the naval commander at New Orleans: "If any man hauls down the American flag, shoot him on the spot !" This bold order thrilled the loyal heart of the country, and Gen. Dix's reputation was made in a moment. It stands for one act for which that gentleman deserves, as he has always received the gratitude of the American people. It may startle many persons to be informed that General Dix was not the author of that despotch!

The actual fact, as stated by an authority which cannot be reasonably doubted, is as follows: At the time when the despatch was written, General Dix was Secretary of War, and Judge Holt was Attorney General. When General Dix received the news of the rebel demonstrations at New Orleans, he went to Judge Holt in much perplexity, seeking his advice. In answerto his anxious question, "What shall I do?" the bold patriotic Attorney General at once dictated to him the words of the famous despatch. It seemed toc strong for the Secretary of War, and he remarked: "Would you really send that order !" "Yes sir," firmly replied Judge Holt, and the noble despatch which has made General Dix so famous, was sent. But the credit belongs to Judge Holt and not to General Dix.

That sterling, high-toned family iournal the Germantown Telegraph edited by Major Philip R. Freas, thus speaks of Andy's electioneering speech es: "One might as well attempt to change the spots of the leopard as the pot house instincts of a man, who by the dagger of a rebel conspirator has become President of the United States. At Philadelphia be declared that the Almighty was a tailor; at Niagara when some one in the crowd cried that he had abandoned the Union party, he replied that "the party might go to the Devil." At almost every point he spoke, and he left no opportunity pass to repeat his assaults on everybody who aided in putting down the rebellion, he bandled the lowest epithets with the crowd. He got into furious passions and uttered the grossest phrases. At Cleveland he said he cared nothing for the dignity of the office he held, and no one contradicted him with the evidence of its truth before all. At Alton he was called Judas by some one in the crowd. This angered him greatly and in his reply to this unseen challenger be opened a floodgate of blasphemy lamentable to hear.

The Pennsylvania State Agricul tural Society will hold its annual exhibition at Easton, commencing on the 25th of September. Alexander K. M'Clure, Esq., of Franklin county, will deliver the annual address. He is an intelligent and practical farmer, as well as a good speaker. A. L. Russell, Esq. Adjutant General, will act as marshal. the arrangements for a display which the State, and with the ample space at the President needs "abstinence." its command in the beautiful park at Easton, hopes to do credit to the cause to the encouragement of which it is devoted.

Mr. Lem Lichtenwaliner, of Long robbed of $3050 in government 7-30 securieties last July. A man named Scott Housell was recently arrested in Allentown for the offence, when he confessed that he had committed the robbery, but that the sum stolen amounted to but $2500, and not $3050, as Lichtenwallner, alleges had been taken. Bousell, in his confession, stated the money which he had realized by a sale of the bonds, had all been squandered in gambling and debauchery.

Said a Democrat: "We don't care a copper for Johnson or his principles: we wouldn't vote for him for pound master; but, if we can use him, we will. When we've sucked him dry, we will treat him precisely as we did Tyler and Fillmore."

Bennett, of the Philadelphia Tower Hall Clothing store, makes a return for '65 of $74,313.

M. W. Baldwin, the great Philadelphia locomotive builder, died in that city, on the 7th instant, aged 71.

The Memphis brick masons' have struck for $7 per day.

GENERAL GRANT DISGUSTED .- The correspondent of the New York Herald who accompanies the President on his tour, telegraphed to that paper from Chicago as follows: "It is reported that General Grant has said: 'I am disgusted with this trip. I am disgusted at hearing a man make speeches on the way to his own funeral.' It is reported that this was said in the presence of a clerk in the employ of General Grant's brother, in this city, and other responsible parties. There are no indications, however, that the relations between the President and General Grant are not of an entirely barmonious character, al hough the General passes most of his time in other than the Presidential car when traveling."

55 Josiah Randall, Esq., long known as a prominent lawyer and politician, died in Philadelphia yesterday morning. He was born in 1788, and was consequently, at the time of his death, seventy-eight years of age. Originally a Democrat, he subsequently joined the Whig party, in whose ranks he gained the best part of his eminence as a politician. He afterwards rejoined the Democratic ranks in which he was extremely active during the stirring times

One of the features of the Philadelphia Convention was the presence of Governors there. Among them we noticed Fletcher of Missouri, Brownlow of Tennessee, Morton of Indiana, Boreman of West Virginia, Pierpont of Virginia, Crapo of Michigan Fairchild of Wisconsin, Coney of Maine, Hawley of Connecticut and Ward of New Jer-

He never saw a steamboat, nor a train of cars until last week; and has lived ten miles from any town or village for the last fifty

The Union League House, of Philadelphia, was found on Friday morning of last week to be on fire; fortunately the most valuable articles, such as paintings, carpets, curtains, library, &c., were saved. The building was insured for $60.000-the furniture, &c., at $10,000. The building will be imme-application of CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE, withdiately repaired.

The President did not make political speech at Chicago. The reason was that Gen. Logan was stopping at the same hotel, and arrangements were made to call him out in answer to the President. This coming to the knowledge of the President and Mr. Seward, they concluded to hold their tongues.-Pittsburg Gazette.

The corner stone of the Douglas monument was laid on the 6th, in Chicago, with imposing ceremonies. Among the distinguished participants for fresh supplies of this invaluable article.were the President, Generals Grant and Meade. Admirals Farragut and Radford, and Secretary Seward.

President Johnson's "friends" in Georgia talk of running "Vice President" A. H. Stephens for Governor of that State. If Mr. Johnson's "policy" is successful, they will be ready to run him for President in a year or two.-Pittsburg Commercial.

A correspondent of the Press remarks that it is great injustice to Judas to compare him with Andrew Johnson. Judas did not go travelling round the country on his thirty pieces of silver, but went and hong himself " like a gentleman," and gave up his spirit. Johnson will do neither.

MALARIA EVERYWHERE .-- Rarely has there been a season as fruitful as this of malarious diseases. Not only on the parairies and in the valleys of the West; not merely in all the old haunts of Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fever have these prostrating diseases been unusually virulent; but they have extended to towns and cities never before infested with them, and have ascended the mountains and attacked thousands of people supposed to have been placed by the laws of Nature above their reach. Hence we are compelled to admit that a fatal element pervades the universal air this sesson and should at once result to the only approved preventive of its consequences, Hostetter's Stomacn Bitters, a tonic so potent, an anti-septic so perfect, an alterative so irresistible, and a stimulant so pure, that it enables the human system to resist and baffle all the predisposing cause of disease. With the confidence that one clothed in incombustible garments might move among blazing buildings, the man who arms himself against malaria with this powerful defensive medicine may walk a fever-scourged district fearless of its insalubrious atmosphere. The intermittents and remittents at present so general in all parts of the country may be but the forerunners of a deadlier scourge now on its way westward from the far East. Prepare the system with Hostetter's Bitters for a successful battle with the mephitic causes of all epidemics. Be wise in time. Sold everywhere -New York World. Nov. 6, 1865.

To Consumptives .- The advertiser having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years, with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription, free of charge, with the directions for preparing and useing the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Coughs, Bronchitis, Colds, and all throat and lung affections. The only object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

CONSUMPTIVES.

KEAD WHAT DR. SCHENCK IS DOING. DR. J. H. SCHENCK.

DEAR SIR :-- I feel it a duty I owe to you, and to all who are suffering under the diseases known as Consumption and Liver Compiaint, to let them know what great benefits I have received from your Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic in so short a time. By the bless-ing of God it has cured me thus far. Dr. Schenck, I will now make my statement to you, as follows:—About eighteen months ago I was attacked with a severe cough, and it settled on my lungs; I could not retain anything I ate, and suffered with evening fevers and night sweats. I was very much reduced. The whites of my eyes were much reduced. The winters of my system were very yellow; likewise my skin; my appetite all gone, and unable to digest what I did eat; bowels swollen, irregular and costive I was very low spirited, and had such violent spells of coughing when I lay down at night and when I arose in the morning that they would last one or two hours. last one or two hours. I then would be nearly exhausted, and was at then would be nearly exhausted, and was entirely unable to lie on my left side. I cannot describe my wretched suffering as I would wish to do. Every organ in my body was diseased or deranged. Such was my situation at this time, and I was confined to my bed from the last of February, 1862, to June 1862, not able to sit up. I had the best of medical at-tendance the whole of the time. My cough tendance the whole of the time. My cough was so very bad that it racked me very much I at this time raised a large quantity of thick, yellow, offensive matter, sometimes with blood was generally accompanied by nausea, and a furred and thick coated tongue and a lurred and thick coated tongue. At the time of coughing so badly I would have sharp, shooting pains in my left side and heart, night sweats, and soreness all through my whole chest; had much inward fever, pain in my back and under my shoulder blades and in the small of my back, and at times so severe that it would through the statements. New the statements were severe. that it would throw me into spasms. Now my physician gave me up to die. Others I had, and the best of them, but they could do nothing for me, and at that time I was nothing but skin and bone. I then was in the western part of Missouri. In June last we left there for the kingt and a August last was recommended. for the East, and in August last we came to New York, and I was so reduce t that I could only walk a little with my husband's help. After I had been here a short time the sail water breeze made me feel much better for time and then I had again to call a physician for aid. We had four of the best physicians of New York on the diseases of the lungs, and doctors of all kinds, but of no avail. said I was past cure, and that my lungs were asid I was past cure, and that my nungs were too far gone for any one to cure me. But at this time I was on my feet about the house, not able to do much of anything. In Novem-ber last I grew worsa, and the consumption ber last I grew worse, and the consumption diarrhea set in and lasted about eight weeks. We had tried all and everything that I could grasp at like a dying person for my disease— consumption and liver complaint—but of no

In January, 1863, I was brought down again on my bed, and was not expected to live the night out. My husband stayed at my side, and other friends, and they all gave me up to die. At this time every one who saw me did not think I would ever leave my bed a living woman. The first night I was at-tacked with spasms, and was deranged most of the time. A friend, Mrs. Harris, came to see me the last of the week, and brought the see me the last of the week, and brought the Sunday Mercury. In it was an account of a great cure performed by Dr. Schenck. She read it to me, and it was so much like my disease that I asked my husband to go and see him for me. At this time I had given up all hopes of ever getting well again, and made my peace with God, to be ready whenever he called for me.

On the 27th of January, 1865, my husband called on Dr. Schenck, 32 Boud street, New York, and stated to him my case, with a request for him to call and see me, which he york, and stated to him my case, with a request for him to call and see mic, which he did, and examined me with the respirometer. When he was about to go I asked him if he could cure me? His reply was: "I cannot tell, both lungs are diseased, and the brouchial tubes are affected on both sides." And yet he seemed to think there were lungs enough left to effect a circ if the distributions could be left to effect a core it the diarrhea could be stopped. He said in order to do this, he would have to give me Mandtake Pills in small doses at first, to carry off the morbid matter, and then, with astringents, he hoped to check it, which he did, but the constant coughing, night sweats, and diarrhea had prostrated me so that he was afraid my vital powers were too much prostrated ever to rally, and yet he seemed to think if I could live to get enough Pulmonic Syrup through my system to cause expectoration there were lungs enough left for me to recover. He wished me to try the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic at once, aving it w no good. The first week it seemed to give me strength, so that on Sunday after I sat up in bed and ate hearty for a sick woman; but the next week I lost all hope and wished my husband not to give me any more medicine. Du the doctor had warned him of this, and when the medicine was clearing out the sys-tem it made them feel somewhat restless, and to persevere; and he insisted on my taking it; and now I feel the benefit of it. For after eight days I began to gain my strength, and, with the exception of a cold that put me back some, I have been gaining strength of body, my cough is going away, and all my pains are gone; no soreness of the bedy, my bowels are regular, and my breath is sweet, and I thank God that I am now going about, and sew and read as well as ever I could. I have taken sixteen bottles of the medicine, eight of each now have a good appetite and rest well a night; my cough does not trouble me in gett ing up or lying down. I would here say to the afflicted with consumption or liver com-plaint, that Dr. Schenck is no humbug You can rely on what he says. Delay not; it is dangerous to trifle with these diseases. If you would be cured, go at once; and any one wishing to know the facts as herein stated can call at my residence, 117 West Houston atreet, New York city.
