😴 President Johnson's eloquence is excused by his London supporters such as the fastidious Saturday Review, on the ground that the American people are so rude and uncultivated that everybody who addresses them must adapt himself to their low tastes. The universal disgust which Mr. Johnson's speeches have excited is the best answer to this libel on the American people.

There have been intimations in newspapers and in political circles that the President would probably modify his restoration policy, and recommend the adoption of the constitutional amendment, but there is no reliable authority for the statement.

MALARIA EVERYWHERE.---Rarely ha

there been a season as fruitful as this of mala rious diseases. Not only on the parairies and in the valleys of the West; not merely in all the old haunts of Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fever have these prostrating dis eases been unusually virulent; but they have extended to towns and cities never before in fested with them, and have ascended the mountains and attacked thousands of people supposed to have been placed by the laws of Nature above their reach. Hence we are compelled to admit that a fatal element pervades the universal air this season, and should at once resort to the only approved preventive of its consequences, Hostetter's Stomacn Bit ters, a tonic so potent, an anti-septic so per fect, an alterative so irresistible, and a stimulant so pure, that it enables the human system to resist and baffle all the predisposing causes of disease. With the confidence that one clothed in incombustible garments might move among blazing buildings, the man who arms himself against malaria with this powerful defensive medicine may walk a fever-scourged district fearless of its insalubrious atmosphere The intermittents and remittents at present a general in all parts of the country may be but the forerunners of a deadlier scourge now or
