

The Mariettian

MARIETTA, PA.

Saturday Morning, December 22, 1866.

In his report upon the condition of South Carolina, General Sickles relates that in one case, where a freedman was murdered, the two men who killed him sat upon the coroner's jury, and united in the verdict that "the deceased came to his death by causes unknown."

During the past year the War Department have sold 104,474 horses for $5,630,417.30, and 102,954 mules for $7,685,225.96. Other animals have been sold for $14,953,432.19, making a total of sales of animals, no longer needed for military purposes, of $15,269,075.54.

The Maine Farmer gives the Agricultural Department at Washington a sharp rap for publishing long scientific directions, communicated to it by a foreign professor with an unpronounceable name, by which bones can be converted into manure, as something new and valuable, but which has been in practice here for at least half a century, and can be described in three or four lines of plain English.

The house of C. O. Fulton, Esq., proprietor of the Baltimore American, was destroyed by incendiary fire one day last week. Mr. Fulton has been distinguished for his advocacy of loyal principles. He was recently removed from the Collectorship of Baltimore by President Johnson and this loyal act of Johnson was followed by burning his house over his head.

John S. Rock, Esq., the well known colored lawyer of Boston, died on the third inst. He formerly practiced medicine, but gave it up a number of years ago to study law. A short time ago, on motion of Hon. Charles Sumner, he was admitted to practice in the United States Court at Washington, being the first colored man who ever enjoyed that privilege.

The Hon. Horace Greeley early in the present year offered a premium of $200 for the best native grape, hardiness of wood, productiveness, marketing value, profit, &c., considered. A committee of three of the best judges in the country have decided in favor of the Concord.

There is scarcely a doubt but that Nebraska and Colorado will be admitted as States at a very early day. They both have the requisite population and the people of both are heartily in favor of a State government.

The Hicksite branch of the Society of Friends of Philadelphia are erecting a spacious college at Westdale, Pennsylvania, for the education of their own children. It will cost about $200,000.

The Boys in Blue are making arrangements to have a grand demonstration in Harrisburg on the occasion of the inauguration of General Geary, the Governor elect.

The announcement is made that $60,000 has been paid by a Paris advertising firm for the exclusive privilege of posting bills in the building of the Paris Exposition.

Edwin M. Stanton and General Meade witnessed the performance of Ristori, on Tuesday evening, in Philadelphia, and were introduced to her after the performance in the green room.

The Richmond Times publishes an account of the burning of the New Ironsides under the caption, "Yankee iron-clad destroyed by fire."

Clement L. Vallandigham, it is said, has given up to hard drinking; that he houses himself for weeks, drunk all the time, and is a hopeless inebriate.

Lyon J. Levy, of the old Chestnut street firm of L. J. Levy & Co., died a few days since in Philadelphia, aged 68 years.

A Parisian recently committed suicide in the classic fashion; by going into a warm bath and opening a vein in his arm.

Samuel Young has been pensioned by the Virginia Legislature for injuries received during the John Brown raid.

It is reported that George H. Pendleton has approved of the universal suffrage idea of the Chicago Times.

"THE LITTLE CORPORAL."—This valuable little monthly and universal favorite for young folks is still "marching on." It is an admirable periodical, lively, entertaining, instructive and unexceptional in tone. It is published in Chicago, Illinois, by Alfred L. Sewall. The publisher proposes to send a magnificent steel engraving, from Raphael, entitled the "Heavenly Oberubs" as a premium for every three subscribers sent. We have received a copy of this engraving and it is a gem. It will be mailed free to all who send three subscribers. Mr. Sewall also offers to give Organs and Melodeons to schools or persons who send large clubs. The price of the Corporal is one dollar a year, in advance; sample copy, telling all about the premiums, ten cents.

DOGS IN HOLLAND.—An American traveler says, "In Holland dog power is carefully utilized. The Dutch are not much given to carrying heavy loads. They put their loads on a wheelbarrow and attach a dog at the lead; or they place them in regular wagons and have a harnessed team of two, and even four of these usually worthless animals to draw them. I have seen a team of dogs, going home from mill at full speed, drawing a wagon laden with a good grist and a full sized Dutchman seated on top."

The dwelling house of Mr. Frederick Lauer, the celebrated brewer of Reading, was entered by robbers on Friday morning last, at about 2 o'clock. Mr. Lauer heard a noise and getting up discovered that the thieves had been engaged in a general overhauling of his premises. His wife's furs and some of her silk dresses were gone, and a number of articles of wearing apparel were heaped together at the head of the stairs ready for removal. It looked as if a general sweep had been intended, but the rascals had fled with only a part of their booty.

At Princeton, last week, a man who was attending a grist mill attempted to take a cob from the feeder, and in so doing his arm caught in the driving rod, and was drawn in with it, so that it was broken in several places. A workman standing near, seeing his great danger, attempted to throw off the belt attached to the rod, but being unable to do so, he raved hold of him with full strength to save his life, but in doing so pulled the arm off at the elbow, tearing the flesh with it several inches above, making a most frightful wound.

The business of the County Court at Newbern, N. C., was suspended on Tuesday, in consequence of the order of Gen. Sickles, forbidding the infliction of corporal punishment on any one. The State laws prescribed it for certain offences, on both black and white. Considerable excitement prevails there on the subject. The magistrates are to meet to consider what action is necessary.

This is the centenary year of the introduction of Presbyterianism west of the Alleghany Mountains, and meetings therefore being held by different presbyteries in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio in commemoration of the event. These are not so much meetings for devotion as Presbyterian historical conventions.

The work of disinterring the Federal dead in the cemeteries in and about Nashville, for re-interment in the National Cemetery, six miles from that city has begun. The work is progressing under the direction of Chaplain Edinshaw, and is expected to extend through two years.

The Italian Parliament was opened on the 13th inst., by King Victor Emanuel, in person. In his speech from the throne the King said he would respect the Pontifical territory, and desired that the Pope should remain independent in Rome.

Saratoga is gossiping about the affairs of a town officer who married a dashing widow a short time ago, and in sixty-two days from the date of his nuptials, procured a divorce by proving that his wife was not as good as she should be.

It is stated that the recent seizure of a large number of distilleries in New York and Brooklyn had the effect of closing nearly every establishment of the kind. There is more out awry in making and selling rum than in all other things combined.

According to an official despatch from Mr. Bigelow, the French Government has resolved to withdraw its troops from Mexico in one evacuation, in March next, instead of in three instalments, according to the original agreement.

General Scofield has decided that Dr. Watson, who was tried by the civil courts of Rockbridge, Va., for the murder of a negro and discharged, shall be tried by a military commission on the 17th instant.

The Philadelphians claim to have invented a method of converting sand into beautiful stone for building purposes, which rivals the old Roman concrete which withstood the action of two hundred years.

Notes in Brief.

The friends of Senator Foster allege that the President has tendered him an important foreign mission, which he has accepted, and will enter upon his duties immediately upon the expiration of his official term in the Senate, which expires on the 4th of March next. If so it will account for his late shakiness, and it will also account for his speedy removal as the presiding officer of the Senate and the election of the Hon. Benjamin Wade in his place.

A delegation of North Carolina Union men have called upon Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, and urged him to stand firm, and prevent them from being turned over forever to the Rebel leaders. They state that the same men are now in power as were during the war, and the same bitter hostility is exhibited towards Union men.

Three little girls, who state they were stolen from their homes in Buffalo by gypsies, have asked Mayor Morrison, a resident of Montgomery county, fell in to the locks at Manayunk but was immediately rescued. He walked home after his rescue but died next morning, it is supposed from the effects of his cold immersion.

The English Secretary of State, it has been announced, is prepared to give under certain conditions, a reward of $75,000 in gold, to the family of the late Jacob Snider, of Philadelphia, who invented the breech loading gun which is to be used in the British army.

A lady has gone into the freighting business from Nebraska City, which place she left last Tuesday with a train of five wagons which she owns and conducts herself, for Denver. She received the freight, hired the hands, and bossed the loading of the wagons.

It is believed at Washington that the present city charter will be abrogated by Congress and the government of the city be given to four commissioners to be either appointed by the President or elected by universal suffrage. Seven thousand dollars in gold and silver were recently found by an old hunter, buried in a keg, near the Mississippi river below Wolf Island. The treasure is supposed to have belonged to some rebel who was killed during the war.

William T. Bailey, editor of the Free South anti-slavery paper published at Newport, Ky., before the war, and destroyed by a mob, has recovered a verdict of $2,500 against the city for the destruction of his property. An enterprising darkey appeared in the streets of Richmond on Saturday in a light and handsome carriage which, with the exception of the running gear, was made entirely of straw, braided by himself.

A Congressional prayer meeting, with Senator Foster as President, and Representative Dodge as Secretary, was organized on Thursday in the Capitol. It will be held once a week. Pure salt in abundance has been found in southwestern Kansas. One report says it completely covers the ground, forming a crust, and can be shoveled up by cartloads.

The Secretary of the Treasury has signified his intention of sending a complete set of American coins and specimens of our national weights and measures to the Paris Exposition. A convention in favor of a ship canal around Niagara Falls has been held in Chicago, and a committee appointed to urge the passage of the Ship Canal bill before Congress.

In Windham county, Conn., last week a Judge refused a divorce to a couple who had been married but two weeks, on the ground that they had not yet given matrimony a fair trial. The President has pardoned John M. Wood, formerly Chief of Police in Troy who was convicted in 1864 of dealing in counterfeit currency, and sentenced to three years imprisonment.

A sentiment in a song expressing a hope that the north and south might at last live together in peace, was bisped, a few evenings since, in a Mobile theatre. Rev. Father Kinney, of Dubuque, Iowa, a Catholic priest, publicly embraced the Protestant faith in a Methodist prayer meeting, recently. Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts, has declined the mission to England to look after the United States' interests in the effects of the defunct confederacy.

The newest thing in the scientific world is cat's milk. Some great London chemist has discovered that it is powerfully restorative and invigorating. Arrangements are being made in Chicago for the establishment of a Union League Club House, after the example of Philadelphia and New York. The condemned Fenians at Toronto have been respited until next March.

A French physician has tried an interesting experiment with a cholera patient. The patient was rapidly collapsing when the doctor injected into his veins twelve ounces of water at a temperature of 104 degrees Fahrenheit. The man gradually revived and recovered after going through the usual stages of convalescence.

Captain Shepard, a wealthy citizen of St. Louis, aged seventy-one, was married to a blooming widow of thirty-seven on the 18th inst., and started on a trip to Cuba, where they will spend the winter, and will visit Europe in the spring.

The second wife of a gentleman of Hannibal, Mo., presented her husband with a pair of boys, on the 28th ult. The first wife of the same man gave birth to twins twice; the first pair being girls, and the second boys.

T. B. Peterson & Brothers, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, have just issued a new book by Mrs. Emma D. E. N. Southworth, entitled "The Bride of Llewellyn," which will, beyond all doubt prove to be the most popular and successful work that has ever been written by her, for she is beyond all question the most powerful female writer in America, if not in the world. No one ever read a chapter of one of her works, without wishing to read the whole book, and none ever read one of her books without admiring the rare genius of its author, and wishing that she might soon write another. Her scenes are life-pictures, her incidents are founded on facts, and her sentiments are characterized by a singular purity both of conception and expression. She has the rare faculty of saying what she means, and of saying it in such a manner that her meaning cannot be misinterpreted. In short, she possesses in an eminent degree those qualifications which are the peculiar prerogatives of a good writer; and while she delights the reader's imagination with her descriptive beauty, she applies home truths to his understanding with the force of rational conviction. The "Bride of Llewellyn" will be welcomed by all such readers especially; and those who have never read the works of this gifted woman should not fail to buy and read this new novel by this gifted American authoress. It is published complete in one large duodecimo volume, price $1.50 in paper; or $2 in cloth.

The Postmaster General has decided to officially discontinue all post-offices in the southern States where the late postmasters fail to make a return of money and stamps in their hands at the beginning of the war. Very few of the old offices in the Southern States have thus far been reopened, and except where special applications are made, no more will be for some time to come. During last week 136 offices in North Carolina were thus officially designated as discontinued. Out of eight thousand post-offices in North Carolina only three thousand have thus far been resumed.

The U. S. frigate New Ironsides was burned at League Island on Saturday night. She was built in Philadelphia, of Pennsylvania oak and iron, and was considered the best iron clad in our navy. The New Ironsides was launched at Kensington in May, 1862, and did conspicuous service during the rebellion. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

It is reported that Maximilian has received $25,000,000 from the Mexican Bishops, and that the merchants of Mexico have promised him $10,000,000 annually. On this encouragement he will stay in Mexico. A proclamation stating that he will remain is published in the papers of Vera Cruz.

Catharine Troutman, widow of Benjamin Troutman, late of Somerset county, is the mother, grandmother and great-grandmother of one hundred and fifty children, and is not yet seventy years of age.

ANN S. STEPHENS' NEW BOOK!

THE SOLDIER'S ORPHANS. By Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, author of "Fashion and Fame," "The Gold Brick," "The Old Homestead," "Silent Struggles," "Mary Derwert," "Rejected Wife," "The Heiress," "The Wife's Secret," &c. This new book, by Mrs. Stephens, has been pronounced by all to be by far the best and most interesting work ever written by her. It appeared in monthly instalments in "PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" during the last year, having been completed in the December no., where it proved to be the most popular, powerful and successful novel that has ever appeared in that Magazine, and it is now published complete and unabridged, in one large duodecimo volume, uniform with the "Gold Brick," "Fashion and Fame," and other works of Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, published by her. It will no doubt prove to be the most popular and successful work that has ever before been written by this talented American authoress.

"Mrs. Stephens has justly become a favorite with all American readers of prose fiction, and the announcement of a new work from her graceful pen is cheerful news to thousands of readers. And there is a rare treat in store for them, for in 'The Soldier's Orphans,' Mrs. Stephens has, if anything, eclipsed all her former efforts. There is less redundancy of scene and action, but there is far more artistic excellence, and an elaboration of causes and effects, attainable only by practised writers. The action of this new novel transpires in Philadelphia, and beyond the limits of the city the author does not permit her pen to stray. The time selected by Mrs. Stephens is recent, the late war, and she pictures with vivid distinctness the domestic suffering and sacrifices entailed by, and made for, the grand and heroic struggle for national unity. The plot is full of absorbing interest, the characters are graphic transcripts from real life, strongly individualized, and the contrasts formed by their individual peculiarities, mental and physical, lend a rare charm to the last act of Mrs. Stephens' book."

"The Soldier's Orphans," is published complete in one large duodecimo volume. Price, $1.50 in paper; or, $2 in cloth.

MRS. ANN S. STEPHENS' OTHER WORKS. The Gold Brick, 1:50; Mary Derwert, 1:50; Silent Struggles, 1:50; Fashion and Fame, 1:50; The Wife's Secret, 1:50; The Old Homestead, 1:50; The Rejected Wife, 1:50; The Heiress, 1:50; above are in Paper covers, or in cloth at $2.

The above books are for sale by all Bookellers. Copies of "The Soldier's Orphans," or any other, or all of the above popular books of Mrs. Stephens, will be sent to any one, free of postage, on receipt of price. Address all orders to the Publishers, T. B. PETERSON & BROS., 306 Chestnut-st., Philadelphia, and they will receive immediate attention.

Office on "Grove Lane," a few yards south of the Post Office corner, in "Fidelity" building, and only a few steps north of the "Flag" hotel.
