

The Mariettian

MARIETTA, PA. Saturday Morning, March 9, 1867.

THE VETO MESSAGE.—President Johnson, as was anticipated, has vetoed the new Reconstruction bill, and Congress has passed it over the veto by an overwhelming majority in both branches.

As soon as the veto was read, the Hon. Reverdy Johnson, hitherto one of the leading and most influential friends of the President, took the floor in opposition to it and in favor of passing the bill over the veto, which was immediately done.

THE NEW CONGRESS.—Both houses of the Fortieth Congress assembled shortly after 12 o'clock on Monday. Mr. Wade was chosen Vice-President pro tem.

In the House of Representatives Mr. Colfax was re-elected Speaker, who received 127 votes to 36 cast for Samuel S. Marshall of Illinois.

The President sent in no message to the new Congress, in view of the recent date of his annual Message.

It is not supposed that Congress will remain in session more than a week or two, but will adjourn over to June or July.

Mr. J. Hetherington, of the Toronto City Chamberlain's office, a few days ago received a bank note, on the back of which the following was written: This note is the last of forty thousand pounds sterling, all gone in fun within four years.

The Hon. Benjamin Wade, one of the Senators of Ohio, has been elected Presiding Officer of the Senate, in the room of the Hon. Lafayette S. Foster, of Connecticut, whose term as Senator expired on the 4th inst.

At the evening session the House resolution authorizing the erection of an equestrian statue, in bronze, of General Scott, was amended so as to read "in Franklin Square, Washington," or such other place as may be designated by the Secretary of War.

The President, at the last moment signed the Army bill, the Bankrupt bill and Bingham's bill, increasing the duty on wool and woolsens.

Congress was honored with two Veto Messages on Saturday. One of the Military Bill—the other the Tonnage of Off-see Bill.

Reverdy Johnson tells the South to submit to their destiny. They would not accept of the Constitutional Amendment, they must make the best of the present law.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Fortieth Congress without any formal arrangement.

Governor Swann has sent a message to the Legislature of Maryland declining the United States Senatorship to which he was lately elected for six years from March 4, 1867.

The Superior Criminal Court, of Boston, was the scene of a tragedy on the 1st inst. A man named Wm. H. Orne, who was convicted last fall of setting fire to a public building in Charleston, and who had obtained a new trial, had just been convicted a second time, and was about to be sentenced by Judge Russel, when his counsel went to him and spoke a few words to him, after which Orne declared his innocence of the crime of which he had been convicted, and just as he made the assertion a second time, unbuttoned his vest, and drawing an open jack-knife from his pocket, stabbed himself three times before the weapon could be wrested from him. He will probably die.

Two weeks ago we announced the death of the "Immortal J. N. Frece," a monomaniac who styled himself the "immortal J. N. the greatest orator, statesman and philosopher of the age," and who was known to most all the editors and newspaper men in the United States, but we learn since, that it was a false rumor. He was in Cleveland, Ohio, at the time his death was announced, and is reported to have pronounced the rumor of his own demise as a "pressure" which he could scarcely stand.

There is a man, born and raised in Henry county, Ky., connected with whose history is a remarkable circumstance. He was married on the 24th of February, his birthday, and on every two years thereafter, on the 24th of February, he was blessed with an heir, until three children were born to him. Strange to tell, on the next 24th of February his wife died, on February 24th 1866, the gentleman married, what will occur to him on the 24th of next February we have no means of knowing.

The Williamsport, Pa., Bulletin says one of the curiosities of the season is that of numerous grasshoppers appearing on the grass where the snow has melted off. Whether this phenomenon is general, or only confined to particular localities, we are not able to state.

About 8,000 hogs, 2,000 sheep and 150 head of other cattle are now slaughtered weekly at the Communipaw abattoir. The yards will hold 20,000 hogs, 15,000 sheep and 6,000 head of cattle. A new and more merciful mode adopted for slaughtering hogs, is to insert the point of a sharp lance in the back of the neck, at the base of the brain. The death of the animal is said to be instantaneous and is of course free from terror.

The foreman of Lawhie, White, & Co., Osecola, Pa., furnishes us with the equipment of their mill, with which over 11,000,000 feet of lumber were cut in eight months, as follows: 1 slabbing gang; 1 flat gang; 1 mully saw; 1 double-edger. This mill, our informant says, having all the late improvements, can cut more lumber with the same number of saws than any mill within his knowledge.

A. T. Stewart, of New York, the great merchant prince, has been in Washington for several days. His visit is in reference to the bankrupt bill, which he is trying to defeat. He is said to have had much conversation with members since his arrival. A very large amount is owing to Mr. Stewart in the South and the passage of the bill will entail a loss of over a million.

Charles Prescott, of Cortland, N. Y., has just recovered $840 in greenbacks which were taken from his vest pocket, last September by a provident mouse who lined her nest in a closet with them. The money was well preserved. He ought to pension that mouse for life. It has probably been as good as a savings bank to him.

Charles Dickens shocks the honest country people about his home at Gadshill, by playing croquet with his daughters, for health and recreation, on his lawn on Sunday afternoons. He must play the dickens with their religious susceptibilities.

Isaac Sarratt, John H's brother, who has been living for some time in Texas, has been to Washington to pay his brother's visit; their sister accompanied Isaac.

On our first page will be found an article from the pen of an old ex-Mariettian, which we copy from the Lancaster Express.

Reconstruction at Last.

The bill providing for the reorganization of the rebel States and their final restoration to the Union, as it was presented to the President, vetoed by him, and is now a law by the Constitutional action of Congress—we herewith annex, in order that the readers of the Mariettian may have a correct copy of this highly important measure:

Whereas, No legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property exist in the rebel States of Virginia, North-Carolina, South-Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Arkansas; and whereas, it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and republican State governments can be legally established; therefore

Be it enacted, &c., That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as in hereinafter prescribed; and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the First District; North-Carolina and South-Carolina the Second District; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the Third District; Mississippi and Arkansas the Fourth District; and Louisiana and Texas the Fifth District.

Sec. 2. That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said Districts an officer of the army not below the rank of Brigadier General, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals; and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have the power to organize military committees or tribunals for that purpose; and all interferences under color of State authority with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted, and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized affecting the life or liberty of any person shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district; and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except so far as they may conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death under this act shall be carried into execution without the approval of the President of the United States.

Sec. 5. When the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution and government in conformity with the constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State twenty-one years of age and upward, of whatever race, color, or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law, and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates, and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification who are qualified as electors for delegates, and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and when Congress shall have approved the same, and when said State by a vote of its Legislature elected under said constitution shall have adopted the amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed by the XXXIXth Congress, and known as Article 14, and when said Article shall have become part of the Constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom on their taking the oath prescribed by law, and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said proposed Amendment to the Constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the Convention to frame a Constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such Convention.

Sec. 6. That until the people of said rebel States shall by law be admitted to representation to the Congress of the United States, all civil governments that may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only and shall be in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States, at any time to abolish, modify, control, and supersede the same, and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act. And no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional government who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said Constitutional Amendment.

CHEAP RIDING.—It has been demonstrated in London, that men can be carried far more cheaply than they can carry themselves. The laboring man is conveyed to and from his home, distances varying from one to six miles, for one shilling per week, or less than two cents a trip. It is easy for him to see that his time and strength saved are worth more than this to him in wages at his work, and that many times this can also be saved to him in rent by fixing his residence out on the railway. Accordingly, two of the most costly railways in England command by this policy a laboring men's traffic which is nearly if not quite the most profitable they enjoy.

J. W. Horner of Parkersburg, West Va., says that Dr. H. Anders Iodine Water cured him of Scrofula. He had thirty seven running ulcers when he commenced taking the medicine. Persons afflicted should make a note of this, and send to J. P. Dinmore, 36 Dey Street, New York, for a circular concerning this remarkable remedy.

A great belt lately manufactured by P. V. H. Van Kiper of Paterson, for a cotton mill in Philadelphia, measures 103 feet in length, 28 inches in width, and three-fourths of an inch in thickness. It consumed 100 hides and cost about 1200.

Great destitution exists in England among the poorer classes. Bread riots are daily threatened, and can only be kept back by the active charity of the better-to-do portion of the people.

There was more rain in 1866 than in any previous year since 1831, and 12-29 inches more than the average of that period, while the evaporation was 3-77 inches less.

A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will restore the hair, and that it is fully coming up to our representations. If your druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, postpaid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, providing entire satisfaction is not given.
