

The Mariettian.

MARIETTA, PA.

Saturday Morning, April 6, 1867.

An act was passed finally in the Legislature on Tuesday, authorizing the Governor to appoint a State Inspector of almshouses and prisons.

The American department in the Paris Exposition is reported to be less complete in condition than the department of any other country.

It is announced concerning the new women's paper which is to be established in New York, that two female biographical reporters have been imported from London to do the city affairs.

The rapidity with which improvements are being extended in Philadelphia, says the papers of that city, is indicated by the fact that, during 1866, more than nine miles of street were newly paved.

McFarland, who lately shot the correspondent, Richardson, followed his wife after she had gone home to her father in Boston, to get possession of her two children.

A. T. Stewart, Esq., the "dry goods prince" of New York, is an Irishman, and came to that city in 1835 with one dollar in his pocket.

Taking medicine to cure diseases occasioned by a deficiency of iron in the blood, without restoring it to the system, is like trying to repair a building when the foundation is gone.

The President, on the 30th of March, issued a proclamation, convening an extra session of the United States Senate, on Monday, April 1st, for the transaction of Executive business.

The Blair county Whig urges the Republicans of that District to unite in requesting Ex-Governor Curtin to become their candidate for the State Senate.

A family recently went West from one of the towns on the line of the Vermont Central Railroad, consisting of the father, and mother, and twenty-four children.

The Pennsylvania Legislature has increased the pay of its members from one thousand dollars per session, to thirteen hundred and fifty dollars.

News in Brief. Fred Douglas is writing a life of John Brown. Artemus Ward was insensible for nine days before his death.

There are one million more women than men in England. P. T. Barnum has been defeated for Congress; in Connecticut. Only one white man in eight, in the South can write his name.

The bar of a steamer about to engage in the St. Louis and New Orleans trade was rented for $10,000 per year. Chicago has the largest lumber trade of any place in the world.

A gentleman in South Carolina recently sold a tract of land for $700 which he refused $15,000 for before the war. Garret Smith, the well known Abolitionist, has written a letter to Wm. Lloyd Garrison.

A young man named F. Whiting was kicked in the breast by a horse at a circus in Portsmouth, Va., and died from its effects. In telegraphy it appears that the new world leads the old.

A little six year old urchin, away up in Maine, being unable to drive an obstinate cow out of the barn, set it on fire. "She run then," so the boy told his mother. Sterling Price, formerly Governor of Missouri, one of the bitterest and boldest rebels and the last to lay down his arms.

The oldest printer now living in the United States is said to be Mr. Robert McKnight, of Cahaba, Alabama, who was born in 1783. He is now 84 years old. Thurlow Weed has purchased the Commercial, which he intends to run as a fancy paper.

The Virginia Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the selling or giving away of liquor at any locality near a place where polls are held. Hon. George Reid Biddle, a United States Senator from Delaware, died at Washington on Friday.

The records of the Post-office Department show that in the Dead Letter Bureau there have been 600,000 dead letters destroyed in the last year in which were enclosed $260,000 in drafts. Ex-Confederate General Bankhead, lately city attorney of Memphis, was assaulted by an unknown man on Saturday night last.

The Wisconsin Assembly has passed, by a vote of 63 to 22, a resolution to submit to the people the question of extending the suffrage to women. A Missouri blacksmith has prepared a horse shoe for the Paris Exposition.

In the Deseret News, published in Utah, a Mormon woman states that she would rather have the hundredth part of a Mormon man for a husband than the whole of a Gentile. Intelligence is received from the city of Mexico to the 13th of March, and possesses interest.

Governor Patton, of Alabama, has published a long letter, in which he advises the people to accept the terms proposed by Congress for Reconstruction cheerfully, and carry out the law faithfully. John Leutz, who has been under arrest for a week on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of John Fitzpatrick in Williamsburg, N. Y., on the 18th ult., has, it is reported, made a confession.

Spring work is coming on in the field, orchard and garden, and in the grounds about the house as well as in the house. The best information about the most pleasant and profitable method of performing this work is, of course, to be found in that large, reliable and cheap journal, the American Agriculturist.

We have received the April number, and it fully carries out the Publishers' promise to always keep on making every number better than the previous one. This, like every other issue thus far this year, has eight large pages extra.

They are enjoying a tremendous sensation in Liverpool, England, where a youth of seventeen, disguised as a young lady, has, by the connivance of the lady principle teacher, been residing for a year past in a fashionable girls' boarding-school, patronized exclusively by the aristocracy.

A lady named Mary Thompson was garrotted and robbed of $140 in bills, a new silk dress and a pair of gaiters, in Lawrence street, near Willowby Street, Brooklyn, about eight o'clock last Thursday evening. She was attacked by three ruffians, who unfortunately escaped.

RELEASE OF JEFF. DAVIS.—Senator Wilson, last week, introduced a concurrent resolution in the Senate, providing that if Jeff. Davis cannot be tried at once, that he be released from confinement. The resolution meets with some favor in both branches of Congress, but it cannot pass. A substitute to release him on bail, it is thought by some, could readily be adopted. In that event Jeff. will never hang "on a sour apple tree."
