WHAT THE PRESS SAY OF US: Arrandale & Co., of this city are now sending out a great variety of Dress Coat and pauts patterns, baimoral skirts, boots, shawls and other valuable articles, in dry and fancy goods, at one dollar each.

We confess our inability to see how this is done, but that it is done is beyond all question. This firm has had a long and honorable career, and is to be by no means confounded with the host of swindling and bogus concerns with which this metropolis abounds. We know the proprietors well and can personally vouch for the just and faithful performance of all their contracts.—National Workman, New York, Feb. 2, 1867.

York, Feb. 2, 1867.

EXTRAORDINARY GOOD FORTUNE.—Day before yesterday, at the Jewelry sales of Messrs. Arrandale & Co., two gold watches were drawn by two gentlemen known to this community, whose names we will not mention. Parties curious on this subject can be informed at the store in hing street, wards, consists ed at the store in king street, nearly opposite the Beaulain. We were curious on the subject, and inquired the names of the parties, and called on one of them, and were shown the watch he drew. It was a large double case gold watch, and we were informed that it kept time to a second since it had been in the possession of our fortunate friend. It would have been very natural to suppose that after one watch was drawn there was no chance for another for at least a month; but, strange to say, in less than an hour, another gold watch rewarded the worshipper of Fortune. Go all and do likewise.—Daily South Carolinian, Charleston, Feb. 12th 1866.

A QUARTER WELL INVESTED.—Mr. Eugene B. Carter, of the Monticello House, called in at the Lewelty Emparium, 28 M. in 7 00 to 12 00 ed in at the Jewelly Emporium, 78 Mein street, yesterday, and after paying his 25 cents suddenly found himself entitled to a musical box, valued at $300.

box, valued at $300.

We understand that he was offered $250 for the instrument before leaving the store, but refused to part with it. We should call this a quarter well invested. We understand a number of other valueble articles were received amongst which was a gold watch valued at $75, by one of the attachees of the Enquirer office.—Richmond Times, September 21, 1866.

Horse and Buggy Ban Away.—Mr. W. H. Wise, Union Hill, coach painter at J. J. Osborne's, last evening walked into the great sale of Arrandale & Co., 78 Mein street, and having paid 25 cents for a photograph found on opening the envelope that on the payment of one dellar he was antitud to receive fine. of one dollar he was cutitied to receive a fine horse, sett of new silver mounted harness and new buggy, valued at four hundred dollars! new buggy, valued at four hundred dollars! Mr. Wise appears to be a cool, self possessed sort of a man, and did not manifest the least excitement at his good fortune, merely remarking "that he was intending to purchase a horse and buggy soon, and had a stable all ready, so it would come in very well for him." —Richmond Wing, November 15, 1866.

EAPL-YMENT FOR LADIES,—The most cligible and profitable employment we have neard of for ladies, who have triends and address, is the sale of certificates for the "Grent forces,"

75 to 250 dress, is the sale of certificates for the "Great Jewelry Sale" of Arrandale & Co. A lady of our acquaintance has been very successful in this way, not only in filling her own purse but also in doing a good turn to those to whom she soid the certificates, as will be seen from our advertising columns. Gentiemen also can be thus engaged .- N. Y. Sunday Mercury, August .4, ibu4.

Double-Barbeled Fowling Piece CHEAP.—We understand Mr. G. W. Wilkinson, of this city, yesterday drew from the certificate box at Arrandale & Co's., 78 Main Street, a very fine double barreled fowling piece, valued at one hundred dollars, for piece, valued at one hundred dellars, for which he was required to pay the very moderate sum of one dollar.—Richmond Whig, eptember 29, 1866.

The Great Jewellay Emporium of Arrandale & Co., No. 254 King street, in the Bend, is still the prime object of attraction. The number of ladies and gentlen en who visited this establishment on Saturday last, was we understand, something labulous. The principle of charging a uniform price of one dollar for each article is one that cannot fail to be popular, especially when the stock contains, as in this case, many valuable articles of fine gold jewelry, and costly silver ware. of fine gold jewelry, and costly silver ware.— Charleston Daily News, February 19, 1866.
PIANO CHEAF.—Mr. John D. Bedford, at Old Dominion Saloon, No. 312 Broad street, yesterday got one dollar's worth of certificates and, on opening them, found one called for a Gold Composite Hunting Watch and another for a Rosewood Piano, valued with cover and stool, at $400.—Richmond Daily Examiner
