Money-we are now greatly in want of money and we hope all knowing themselves indebted to us for subscription, advertising or job work will make arrangements to close up their arrears. We will send out a collector in our place in a few days, when we hope all will be ready to meet him.

The concluding ceremonies of the Odd Fellow celebration on Friday evening last, took place in the Odd Fellow's Hall, in the St. John' House, by an esssy on Odd Fellowship, from Prof. Simon S. Rathvon, of Lancaster, formerly of this berough, who, by the way, was the first N. G., of Donegal Lodge of Marietta. After the reading of the essay, Rev. Mr. Clawges and Maj. E. D. Roath made a few remarks when the assemblage dispersed.

We have received from the publishers, J. B. Burr & Co, Hartford, Conn. a copy of the work entitled "Remarkable Characters and Memorable Places of the Holy Land." It is nearly a luxury, smidst the flood of books on the Nationa) Conflict and works of fiction of all grades, to come across-a work of the kind now before us. The reputation of the author, Charles W. Elliott, a well kuowa historian, who by purity and clearness of style, is acknowledged as one of the best of American writers; and the array of contributors to this work, comprising such eminent scholars and writers as President Woolsey, of Yale College, President Cummings, of Wesleyan University, Henry Ward Beecher, stc., should in itself be sufficient to command the attention of all general readers. The style is elegant and easy, and the matter is of such interest, and the narratives and descriptions so well told that one is drawn on, page after page, delighted and unwearied. The book is marred by no sectarian bias, while its tone throughout is uncompromisingly moral and exalted. The novel form in which the subjects of this work are presented cannot fail to please those even to whom the pages of ordinary history give but little interest, while at the same time, it bears so much of substancial instruction. Its illustrations, too, are very attractive features of the book, being some of the finest specimens of the Engraver's beautiful art. The Publishers have evidently spared no pains in the execution of the book, and merit the approval of the public for their enterprise and labor, through the extensive sale which we are glad to hear the Work is enjoying. The Work will be sold only by Subscription, and Agents are wanted to canvass for it. For full particulars, address the Publishers, J. B. Burr & Cc. | the brain, and cheer the animal spirits. Hartford, Conn. Jno. W. Wormly is the agent for this vicinity.

We are glad to learn that Dr. W. H. Beane, formerly of this place, is now very pleasantly located at Middletown, where he has had a suit of rooms very tastefully and conveniently arranged for the accommodation of patients. The Doctor read medicine in Middletown and, having married there, (a daughter of the late Rev. Joseph Ross.) has very naturally looked forward to making it our family and know he is worthy of all ernment stamp.

★ A party of sight-seers, headed by Col. A. C. Noyes, of Clinton county, several ladies of Camden, N. J., and several ladies and gentlemen of our place, took passage on a timber raft, on Thursday morning last, for Port Deposit, for the novelty of a trip down the Susquehanna river. We know, from the experience of two trips of the kind, that they will have an interesting time.

The postmaster at Newport, wrote the Post Master General with regard to the postage on drop letters. The answer was as follows: "Drop letters at your office (not being a letter carrier office) is one cent the single rate } ounce."

We were shown, a few days since. by Mrs. J. B. Taylor, of this borough, several copies of a small 8x10 quarto, called "The Hive," published at the sign of the "Bee Hive," in East King street, Lancaster, by Charles McDowell in 1804.

Because they are a specific Ague and Feve and all intermittents, and with all their potency as a preservative and a remedy, are as harmless as water from the mountain spring.

SCHENCE'S SEAWEED TONIC. This medicine invented by Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, is intended to dissolve the food and make it into chyme, the first process of digestion. By cleansing the stomach with Schenck's Mandrake Pills, the tonic soon restores the appetite, and food that could not be eaten before using it will be easily digested.

Consumption cannot be cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup unless the stomach and liver is made healthy and the appetite restored, hence the Tonic and Pills are required in nearly every case of consumption. A half dozen bottles of the SEAWEED TONIC and three or four boxes of the MANDRAKE PILLS will cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia.

Dr. Schenck makes professional visits in New York, Boston, and at his principal office in Philadelphia every week. See daily papers of each place, or his pamphlet on consumption for his days for visitation. Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likennesses of the Doctor, one when in his permanent location, which he has the last stage of Consumption, and the other now done. We have had the Doctor in | as he now is, in perfect health, are on the Gov-

BY CHARLES W. ELLIOTT.

It is not a work of theology, but of human life, full of remarkable characters, strange markable men who have made the Holy Land famous for all time.

II.—Of Abraham the Wanderer, and Moses the Deliverer; of Joshua the Conqueror, and David the Beloved; of Miriam and Deborah and Naumi; of the Prophets of old, and Apostles of Jesus; of the Baptist and the Women who knew and talked with the Saviour, and also of the Great Herod, and the magnanimous Saladin, with many others.

III. Of the great deeds and surprising events in which they were the principal actors; of the habits and manner of that Orient-many other places.

It will contain over 600 octave pages, including twelve pages of elegant Steel engravings, and be furnished to subscribers in a neat and substantial binding, at the following prices, payable on delivery:
