

THE WEEKLY MARIETTIAN.

The Local Mariettian.

Saturday, October 13, 1860.

The election passed off very quietly—considering—the vote polled, &c. The highest vote ever polled at this box at any previous election was 483; on Tuesday 607 were polled; no stone was left unturned and every voter that could possibly be got to the window, was there; 172 majority for Curtin—who'd-a-thunk it with all the combinations against him!

Frederick Cooper, the popular and well known proprietor of the Red Lion Hotel, Lancaster, was stricken down with apoplexy on Tuesday morning last and died in the afternoon of the same day. He was 45 years of age.

The property known as Mundorf Island, situated in the Susquehanna river, below Safe Harbor, belonging to the estate of Isaac Mundorf, was sold for $8,700, to Jacob Warfel.

On Tuesday morning as a man named Eshleman, was on his way to the South East Pole, Lancaster, he was taken suddenly sick, entered Snyder's tavern, where, in a few moments, he died.—His death was attributed to a disease of the heart.

Mr. Henry Messersmith, a citizen of Mount Joy, aged about 78 years, was found dead on last Wednesday morning between the hours of 11 and 12. He was found lying upon his bed by one of the family who had gone to call him to dinner.

NATIONAL
resident, James Buchanan, of Pennsylvania;
the President, John C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky;
Speaker of the House, Wm. Pennington, New Jersey;

On Monday night about 9 o'clock, a fire broke out in the borough of Manheim, which, before it could be stopped destroyed four large barns. Several dwelling houses were in imminent danger, and were only saved by the most strenuous efforts of the citizens. The barns destroyed belong respectively to Messrs. Philip Arndt, David Fisher, Joseph Miller and Nathan Worsley. The loss is about $5000 which is partly covered by insurance.

We were shown by our young townsmen, William H. Peters, a most beautiful likeness of Abraham Lincoln, done on steel by Sartain, from a miniature by John Henry Brown, a Lancastrian artist of considerable reputation, now a resident of Philadelphia. Mr. Brown went to Illinois at the instance of Hon. John M. Read to take the likeness. It differs very much from the rough pictures we see hanging at shop windows and does great credit to the artist and the engraver, besides adding a vast deal of good looks to the next President. A copy can be seen at Dr. Hinckle's Drug store window.

NOT DROWNED: We copied an article some time since, from one of our Lancaster exchanges of the mysterious disappearance of Mr. Campbell, receiving and shipping clerk at the Iron Works of David Reeves & Son, of that place, and was supposed to have been drowned.—It will be recollect that Mr. Campbell went to the creek in the evening with the avowed intention of taking a bath. He was alone at the time, and as his clothing was found on the banks of a stream the next morning it was the prevailing opinion that he had been drowned. For several days after his disappearance, the stream had been dragged, but the body of the supposed drowned man could not be discovered. He was given up as lost and the affair created considerable talk in the neighborhood. Imagine the surprise of the citizens of Safe Harbor on Saturday last, in learning that Mr. Campbell had reappeared at his home, alive and as "well as could be expected." Where he had been all the time, no one knows, and he himself can give no reliable account of his whereabouts, nor the reasons for his mysterious departure.

On Saturday afternoon last, says Tuesday Evening's Lancaster Express, an accident occurred near Martic Forge, Martic twp., by which Henry Garrett, a laboring man, was instantly killed. It appears that Mr. Campbell, assisted by a boy, was sawing a large log with a cross cut saw, on the side of a hill, and had just cut off the stump of the log, when it slipped away and rolled down the hill, striking Garrett in its way and crushing him beneath it. The log remained upon the unfortunate man until the arrival of some neighbors, who removed it, and found Garrett quite dead. The deceased leaves a wife and seven children.

THE TONAGE TAX CASE.—The Supreme Court, now in session at Sunbury, delivered an opinion affirming the decision of Judge Pearson in the suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the tonage tax overdue. Judge Pearson decided the tax to be constitutional, and the Supreme Court, in affirming the decision, have thus decided that point against the Railroad Company.

HE REFUSED TO ANSWER.—When in the Senate of the United States on the 17th of last May, Mr. Davis asked Mr. Douglas "if as chief executive of the United States he would sign a bill to protect slave property in State, Territory, or District of Columbia"—he refused to answer.

General Washington's harpsichord, now the property of the Mount Vernon Association, has been varnished and repaired at the Messrs. Green's factory, Alexandria. It is a singular-looking affair, about 10 feet long, and varying from 4 feet to 8 inches in width.—It was sent down to Mount Vernon recently, for the Prince of Wales to see it.

526 pages. Price $1.25.

Literary notices from the Press throughout the Country.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—"This book is composed of a series of letters, written in an interesting style of narrative, embodying the social features of social life on different kinds of plantations. We can bear testimony, from our own personal observation of similar scenes in the South, to their truthfulness as here depicted. They are portrayed in a vivid, interesting style, and we would like to see the book in the hands of thousands of deceived people, who have no personal knowledge either of Southerners or Southern life, except what they have gained from partisan journals, or those who intentionally have written to deceive."—[Daily Republic, Buffalo, New York.]

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—"This volume is in the form of letters. They give, so far as we can judge, faithful pictures of Southern life, and are poignantly written. The author, and we are pleased without prejudice, presents scenes quite different from an 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' the pictures presented here are quite graphic, and we think the portraits painted are in very nearly natural colors."—[Boston Daily Bee.]

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—"We have rarely peeped within the covers of a more appetizing volume. Although not indeed an answer to the foul untruths in the Uncle Tom trash of the last few years, it is nevertheless a book which deserves to be read. The author, and we are glad to believe that the book will be read in thousands of northern homes. The south also should take it benignly for independent of its truthfulness and integrity it is one of the liveliest and most entertaining books of the year."—[Greensboro Times.]

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—"The enterprise publisher, G. G. Evans, Philadelphia, of Gift Book Establishment, is weekly issuing new works of interest and appeal to every country, and in his style of transmitting business news looked upon as an institution, for diffusing knowledge, unequalled by any in the country. We commend this book to all."—[Daily News.]

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—"This is a captivating volume, strongly illustrative of Southern life. The heart of the author is with her theme, and she carries the interest of the reader along with her, and she, in her amusing off-hand style, delineates the peculiarities of a Southern home."—[Press.]

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—"Whatever bears the name of Professor Ingraham is sure to involve the stamp of striking effect and wide popularity. This is just the case with 'The Sunny South' on the Southerner at Home," which appears from the press of G. G. Evans, under the editorship of the graphic Professor. It is vivid in style, keenly observant, interesting in plot, and in purpose and manner it obviously springs from a warm heart, and will be as warmly welcomed by a host of readers."—[The New Yorker.]
