distance of three hundred fest. The engineer, a sober, reliable man, residing at Golumbia, named Alex. Fry, aged forty years, was run through the stomach by a heavy iron stay bolt, and his jugular vein severed by a bit of steel. The fireman, whose name we are unable to learn, was so seriously injured that he died a few hours afterwards at Columbia, to which place he was removed. The conductor of the train, Mr. McCaskey, was badly scalded, and taken to his home, in Lancaster. After the explosion the engine broke loose from the train and ran a distance of a half mile.

On Wednesday of last week, says our Lancaster exchanges, Mr. Henry Breneman, son in-law of Jos. Boyer, Esq., one of the County Commissioners, was drowned near his mill in West Hempfield township, under the following cir 186 Fourth Arrival of 1860 cumstances. About noon Mr. Breneman, went out with a rake in his hand to a fish basket near the mill, to rake the rubbish away from the basket, and when some of the family went to dinner, he was seen standing on the basket, leaning on the rake. Soon after, a servairt girl went to call him to dinner, but did not see him? She, however, noticed his hat send shy the alarm. His body was recovered, but too late for resuscitation. It was supposed that he was seized with a fit to which he was subject, and fell off the basket.

Whilst Governor Pollock way paying a visit to Lancaster on Thursday of last week, an impromptu serenade was gotten up. The Fencibles band, accompanied by about fifty members of the
