SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1861.

THE QUESTION OF FORT SUMPTER: The well informed Washington correspondent of the North American, says that all speculation in regard to the withdrawal of the troops from Fort Sumpter | length, the same width at the end and may cease, for when the council of military officers, headed by Gen. Scott, decided that reinforcements could not be sent, the question was morally deter- sented to Hon. Abraham Lincoln, Presmined, and nothing but the formalities remained to be executed. The orders may be issued one day or another, but separable," in handsome gilt letters. On that involves merely a point of time, and does not effect the real case in any way whatever. And so far as collecting the revenue at Charleston is concerned, it cannot be done without an extra session of Congress, for no means have been provided by which the President may on the 23d of February accompanied by enforce the laws as they stand, or exert | his step-daughter, taking with him, also, any authority beyond what exists. No Administration ever commenced its career under such difficulties, and the necessity for the presence of Congress becomes more apparent and imposing every day, unless Mr. Jefferson Davis and his followers should pursue a course wholly different from what is now expected. The revenue question cannot long be deferred, even with every disposition to avoid collisian and to postpone a direct issue. It must come sooner or later, and while Mr. Chase will doubtless exert every influence to promote conciliation, he cannot omit the duty which confronted him the first moment he entered the Treasury. There it stands, and it must be performed. It admits of no escape or retreat.

IMPORTANT TO INVENTORS,-The patent law provides that all patents hereafter granted shall be in force seventeen years from the date of issue, and their extension is prohibited. It authorizes the compulsory attendance of witnesses in litigated cases; enlarges the right to patent designs in moulding, casting, electrotyping, &c., enables the commissioner to dispose of rejected models, and to dispense with models when the design can be represented by a drawing, and discriminates between the inhabitants of the United States and those of other countries. It also requires labels on patented articles, and cuts off all patents not prosecuted within two years.

SUICIDE AT CARLISLE BARRACKS. 'soldier at Carlisle Barracks, named Jno. Rich, cut his throat on Tuesday morning days appeared melancholy, the effect, he thought, of some family trouble, but had not given any intimation that he intended to kill himself. He had served a previous enlistment of five years, and, it is in gold, to be sent to his grandfather, Jas. Thompson, of New York.

THE MISSION TO SPAIN,-William Culien Bryant, of New York, thus writes in the Evening Post: "Some of the Washington correspondents of the daily papers speak of Mr. Bryant as a competitor for the post of Minister to Spain .-It is but just to him to say that there is not the least ground for making the use of his name, that he is not a suitor for any office in the gift of the Federal Administration and is as far from expecting any as from asking it.

At a large dinner party given in Washington City a few evening since, Wigfall essayed to make a speech, and alluded to Mr. Breckinridge's defeat for President in a rather unparliamentary manner. His only excuse was his condition, and Mr. Breckinridge wittilv replied that his defeat was no special wonder when he came to look at his supporters. Wigfall collapsed.

President Lincoln has a very aggravating way of dealing with the office seekers by whom he is daily beset. He refuses to grants any private interviews but insists upon receiving all verbal communications in the presence of third parties. By this means he undoubtedly escapes much pertinacious annoyance.

Smith was a farmer, owning a good farm, well stocked, and very easy in his circumstances. He leaves behind him a wife and six children. His paramour was a daughter of his wife by a former marriage, and lived in his family.

Supposed Suicide.—A man named Elias Brookhouser, residing in Saegertown, Crawford co, Pa. was found dead in a field near that village last week. He was a harmless, inoffensive man, but of very intemperate habits. He had lately threatened to take his own life. When found he had several scars upon his neck and abdomen, which he had evidently made with an old knife found upon his person.

A deputation of citizens of Eastern Pennsylvania waited upon Hon. John Sherman, at Washington, and presented im with a cannon ball, dug up on the battle field of Brandywine, The ball was handsomely inlaid with a silver olate, on which was engraved:

"This cannon ball was dug up on the pattle-field of Brandywine, on the hill occupied by the American forces, and is supposed to have been fired by the Hessian forces, under General Knyphausen." "Presented to Hon. John Sherman, of Ohio, in token of appreciation of his eloquent speech before the grand mass meeting held on the battle-field, September 11, 1860, in furtherance of the election of Lincoln and Hamlin.

He subsequently published a paper at said the day before the occurrence he the county seat, Pittsville, called the handed over to his bunk-mate about $100 | Pike County Advertiser, from which he was called to a position in the State Treasurer's office, where he took an active part in ferreting out Governor Matteson's delinquencies.

> South Carolina has drawn more money from the National Treasury than any other State in the Union, according to her population. She has had a larger representation in Congress than any other State of no greater white population, consuming of foreign importations. She has been a tax upon the General Government, and to get rid of her and her burdens is a godsend. Let her go, and God in his mercy forbid that she should ever return!

The names of John Sherman, Jno. Hickman, and John C. Fremont are spoken of in connection with the respective missions of England, Spain, and A young German, who has been | France. CARE OF STOVES AND PIPES .- When the stoves are no longer needed, they are quite frequently set aside in an outbuilding, or other out of the way place, with no further thought, until again wanted for use. If neglected, the rust of the Summer may injure them more than the whole Winter's wear, particularly the parts of sheet iron. They should be kept as free from dampness as possible, and occasionally cleaned if the rust be observed.
