SATURDAY, APRIL 13, 1861.

Everybody recollects the diamond wedding of the rich old Cuban and the young New York belle. A recent letter from Cuba says: "It may interest my fair readers to remember that Havana is the home of Signor Ovidio, the hero of the diamond wedding. Here he is known as a mulatto, at least half black, and he is said to be a Blue Beard for brutality. He is rich; but, as he and his bride are of course excluded from all good society, his wealth can hardly compensate his lady for the slights and seclusion to which her life is henceforth destined. A sad and dearly bought conclusion of so brilliant a bridal."

SEIZURE OF THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.—The following is an extract of a letter received in New York city from a gentleman of high position in Washington. It is dated on the 2d inst: "The possession of the seat of government by the southern confederacy is an event most confidently predicted to take place within sixty days. The wife of a United States Senator told me an anecdote illustrative of the purposes of the President of the southern confederacy. He holds a very eligible pew in the Rev. Mr. Hall's church, and a lady, wishing to obtain it, wrote to him that she would give what he gave for it. He replied, 'that so far from relinquishing my (his) pew, I have ordered an engraved plate to be affixed to it bearing my name.' A lady just from Montgomery, in taking leave of Mrs. Davis, asked, 'And what message must I bear from you to my lady friends in Washington?' She replied, 'Tell them I shall be happy to receive their calls at the White House some two months hence.' This is very elaborate, trifling, or unsurpassed castle building."

On Saturday last two officers, who had been ordered to embark on the expedition at New York, waited on General Cameron, and requested to be informed what was the object of the movement, and whether it was intended to operate against the seceding States.—With the utmost coolness, the Secretary of War replied "Give me your commissions; you are dismissed from the service from this very hour." Such will also be the fate of every officer, in either branch of the service, who having put his hand to the plough, looks back in this hour of our country's peril.

DEATH OF JUDGE MCLEAN.—The Hon. John McLean, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, died at his residence in Cincinnati, Ohio, on Tuesday the 2d, instant, aged 76 years. He entered Congress from the Cincinnati District, Ohio, in 1812, was made Postmaster-General by President Monroe in 1823, was continued in that office by J. Q. Adams, but displaced in 1829 by Gen. Jackson, who made him Judge of the Supreme Court, which office he has filled with eminent fitness for more than thirty years. He was a leading candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1856 and 1860. Judge McLean was not only a distinguished statesman, a superior administrative officer, and an able jurist, but an eminently pious and good man. He was one of the most active members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and amid the multiplicity of his other duties found time to devote much attention to its important business affairs. Judge Logan, of Illinois, Mr. Lincoln's late law partner, and a conservative member of the Peace Congress, is named as his probable successor. The Supreme Bench of the United States is now as follows: Chief Justice Taney, of Maryland. Associate Justice Wayne, of Georgia.

OUR MILITARY FORCE.—From an official source, we learn that the whole number of organized volunteer companies in this State is about 500, averaging about 40 men to a company, making an aggregate of over 20,000 unformed volunteers. The entire military force of the State is about 355,000 men capable of military duty. The arms of the State are all in the possession of the volunteer companies, and comprise 12,080 muskets, 4,706 rifles, 2,809 cavalry swords and sabres, 3,147 pistols, 69 pieces of ordnance, being six pound bronze cannon. Of the above there are only about 2,500 muskets of the new model, 1,200 improved rifles, and 500 cavalry swords.

The balance are unfit for active service, being mostly of the heavy old flint lock. The 69 pieces of ordnance are in good condition, with the exception of the carriages. From the above it will be seen that the volunteers of the State have but 4,200 effective small arms, leaving an actual deficit for them alone of 14,800. No arms are furnished to the militia by the State itself. All that are now issued to the militia are furnished by the United States to Pennsylvania.

The sum of $200,000 is annually appropriated to the purchase of arms, to be distributed among the States and territories, in proportion to their representation in Congress. In addition to the fifty uniformed companies now enrolled in Philadelphia, two regiments have been formed, which are intended for immediate service, whenever called upon by the Governor of Pennsylvania, or the President of the United States.

In reference to requisitions being made upon the Governor for troops, the sixth section of the militia law of April 2d, 1822, which is still in force, provides "that when the President of the United States shall have made a requisition of a part of the militia of this State for public service, the Adjutant General shall take the most prompt and efficacious measures for detaching and supplying with all necessary arms, equipments, ammunition and provisions, the number of men required, and for having them marched to the place of rendezvous.—Provided, the volunteer troops and companies shall be first detached, and may be kept in service any time not exceeding six months." The second section of the same act provides "that the militia may be called into service by the Governor in the event of a rebellion, or an actual or threatened invasion of this or any neighboring State; but no portion shall be detained in service, at any one time, for a longer period than three months, under the mere requisition of the Governor, without the direction or assent of the President of the United States."

THE SWISSHELM DIVORCE CASE.—In the matter of divorce for James J. Wiswelm, for a divorce from Jane G. Wiswelm, a final decree allowing the application was made in the Court of Common Pleas, of Allegheny county, on Saturday. Mrs. Wiswelm formerly edited the Saturday Visitor, at Pittsburgh, and is now editing the St. Cloud Visitor, Minnesota, a sprightly and interesting sheet. Family differences, with the nature of which the public are already sufficiently familiar, induced her to leave her husband, whereupon a petition for divorce on the ground of desertion was filed, and a decree to that end allowed on Saturday, as stated above.

The report that Hon. Jeff. Davis had "bought a pew lately" in the church of the Epiphany, in Washington, for his own use, "when he captured the city," is without foundation. This unequalled remedy is now for the first time introduced to the public. It was providentially discovered by a missionary while traveling in Arabia. He was cured of Consumption by its use after his case was pronounced hopeless by learned physicians in Europe.

He has forwarded to us in writing, a full account of his own extraordinary cure, and of a number of other cures which have come under his observation and also a full account of the medicine. At his request, and impelled by a desire to extend a knowledge of this remedy to the public, we have had his communication printed in pamphlet form for free distribution. Its interest is enhanced by an account which he gives of some of the scenes of the Straits, Mesopotamia and impurities of the blood should use the MAKORA ARABICA, discovered by a missionary in Arabia.
