For the Presbyterian Banner. To Ministers.

MESSRS. EDITORS :- Permit me, through the Banner, to call the attention of ministers seeking a field of labor in the West, to the region of country lying between Bloomington and the Sangamon River, and especially to Leroy, as a central point for operating. At this place, (Leroy) there is a small church organization, and another at Cheney's Grove, and a missionary point at Mount Pleasant.

Leroy is a beautiful village in the county of McLean, and surrounded by a beautiful country, partly prairie and partly timber. It is on the road leading from Bloomington to Indianapolis, fifteen miles from the former place. This place ought to be occupied by Presbyterians, and we might have had a preponderating influence there by this time, if the place had not been overlooked. For further information address H. R. Colman, or Samuel Moore, Elders, Leroy, McLean County, Illinois. But will discountenance whatever may suggest even better visit the place and see for yourselves. a suspicion that it can in any event be abandoned. Yours, &c.,

PERSONAL.

Maj. Thomas D. Carnenl, late of Frankfort Ky., died of dropsy recently, at the residence of Nicholas Longworth, Esq., of Cincinnati. He was one of the original proprietors of Cincinnati, and after the company laid out the city, sold out his interest to Bakewell, Page & Co., Pittsburgh: In his various real estate operations he had amassed a large fortune. At the time of his death he was eighty-six years of age.

On Saturday afternoon, Nov. 24th. Rev George Croly, the well-known writer and preacher, was walking in the streets of London, not far from his own residence, when he was observed to stagger for a few moments and then fall, after which he immediately expired. A stroke of apoplexy had thus suddenly caused his death. Dr. Croly was eighty years of age, having been born in Dublin in 1780.

Monument to Tyndale.—It is proposed to erect a column to the memory of Wm. Tyndale, the translator of the Bible, on Nibly Knoll, Gloucester County, England, a site for which has been given by Sir Maurice Berkeley. Tyndale was born about 1484, in the village of North Nibly. and after a life devoted to the one noble object of opening up the treasures of God's Word to all classes in his native land, he suffered martyrdom near Brussels, in 1556. Governor Elected. Hon. Wm. Pickens was elected Governor of South Carolina, by the Legislature, on the seventh ballot. Secession Convention.

The South Carolina Secession Convention organized in Columbia, on the 17th, and elected Gen. Jamison, President. A business Committee was appointed, and the Convention adjourned to now universally acknowledged to be the best in

The Committee of Thirty-Three.

This Committee, being composed of one mem- able remedy: ber from each State, is, in these times, necessarily discordant. Men of the more moderate cast, and of substantial character, were selected, but still, they are the representatives of very diverse constituencies. On the 13th, on motion my private practice, and am prepared to say of Mr. Rust, of Arkansas, the Committee adopted, by a vote of twenty-three to six, the following: Resolved, That in the opinion of this Committee the existing discontents among the Southern specific or patent medicine ever before brought the Federal Government, is greatly to be reguarantees of their peculiar interests as recog- kind before the public. nized by the Constitution necessary to preserve the peace and the perpetuity of the Union should be promptly and most cheerfully granted.

of all statutes by the State Legislatures in con-flict with or violation of that sacred instrument.

and the laws of Congress passed in pursuance The resolution was adopted by a vote of 151 against 14. The preamble was adopted unanimously. Mr. Lovejoy offered a resolution making similar declaration with Mr. Adrain's, with the addition of a recommendation for the repeal of all nullification laws, and the assertion that it is the duty of the President to protect and defend the property of the United States. This resolution was adopted; yeas, 124. No

Mr. Morris, of Illinois, under a suspension of the rules, offered the following resolution, saying that it contained the language of Washington's farewell address: Resolved, That we properly estimate the im-mense value of our National Union to our collective and individual happiness; that we cherish a cordial and immovable attachment to it; that we will speak of it as the palladium of our polit ical safety and prosperity; that we will watch its preservation with a jealous anxiety; that we When you visit Cheney's Grove, juquire and indignantly frown down the first dawning o for Henry R. Mr. Morris' resolution was passed by a vote of

115 against 44. FRIDAY, 18th .- In Senate, Mr. Lane, of Ore gon offered resolutions, strongly pro-slavery, mendatory of the Constitution. Mr. Crittenden, of Kentucky, offered as amendment to the Constitution, providing a restoration of the compromise line, of 36° 30', and for the more certain execution of the Fugitive Slave Law, and for the removal of some of the obnoxious features of that law. His proposition was referred to a committee and ordered to be

Mr. Powell's resolution for a Committee of thirteen, on the present difficulties, was passed by the Senate. At the meeting of the Pennsylvania delegation, including the two Senators-Mr. Stevens alone being absent—the following resolution was passed unanimously: Resolved. That in our judgment it is the opinion of the people of Pennsylvania that the constitutional rights of all sections should be respected and secured; that all the laws should be faithfully and promptly executed, and that the Union of the States, the Constitution and the laws of the United States be maintained and enforced in all their integrity. The Committee of thirty-three are working diligently, and hope to suggest something conciliatory. In the meantime sundry of the members of Congress are trying to pave the way for them. The following circular was sent from Washington, December 31st, 1860:

DIED—In Tyrone City, on December 2d, 1860, Mr. JOHN B. STEWART, aged 57 years, 11 months, and 2 days. Mr. Stewart for many years had been a member of the resbyterian Church. His last hours were peaceful, and his final passing away as happy as the slumbers of a child. Preious to his death, he called his weeping family to his bedside, and expressed the fervent wish that he might meet them all in a happier world beyond the grave. His remains were terred in the Presbyterian burying ground, at Birmingam, in Huntingdon County.

DIED-Near Earlville, Ill., on the 30th of October, Mr JOHN HESLET, in the 80th year of his age. The deceased first united with the Presbyterian church of Laurel Hill, Pa., then under the care of Rev. Jas. Guthrie, at about the age of twenty-two. He often remarked, however, that he could not remember the time when he did not love the Saviour. He removed from Pennsylvania to this place, some years since, and was one of the original members of the Presbyterian church of Earlville, at its organization. He ontinued to show his love and attachment to the church by his constant and faithful attendance upon the ordinances and means of grace, until within a very short time previous to his death, when he was prevented by bodily infirmities. His piety was consistent and decided. He remarked to the writer, a short time before he died; that he thought his work was nearly done, and his sufferings here almost ended, and tha he must soon go home to his Father's house of many man-sions. His friends are comforted in his death with the ason Saturday, is said to have been offered the post of Secretary of the Interior. Mr. Bates mainver-all is well." These were his last words.

DIED—November 28th, 1860, at Port Washington, of dyp-theria, PHILIP JOHN, youngest son of Andrew and Mar-garet Howell, North Huntingdon Township, Westmoreland inty, Pa., aged 14 years and six days. But two months previous, he left his home with a buoyant heart, to attend the Academy at the above-named place, little nagining that he would return a corpse. So it was. Maignant dyptheria seized him, and in six days he became its he attention and sympathy of the kindest and most indulgent of parents, he was not wanting relatives and friends, who ness of his departure. His death was serenc; and as he severally bade them good-by, tendering a word of counsel to each, he told them he was going to his Saviour. Parents and relations may mourn, and they will mourn, because Philip John is not; but they need not mourn as those who have no hope; their loss, we trust, is his eternal gain. Stratton was pastor; and thence to Wells County ind., where he spent the remainder of his days as a memb of Pleasant Ridge church. He was the father of eleven chilren, only four of whom survive him. This family-flock had the benefit of the "church in his house," where they were early instructed in the knowledge and worship of God. For about half a century he was identified with God's people, cheerfully aiding to sustain the social and public worship of God, and the benevolent enterprises of the Church. An affec-tionate father, faithful friend, and humble Christian, he served his generation, and by the will of God fell asleep, trusting in Jesus, in full hope of a glorious immortality.

DIED—December 7th, in Knox Township, Jofferson Co-hio, JAMES CLARK, in the 84th year of his age. Mr. Clark was born in Tyrone County, Ireland, about the ear 1776, and emigrated to this country in 1801, and settled Lancaster County, Pa. In 1813 he was united in marriage o Miss Margaret Watt, and the following year removed t efferson Co., Ohio, and settled in the bounds of Island Cree congregation, and for a number of years was a worthy and stent member of that church. The promise of a coveant-keeping God was verified to him, and he was blessed in ceing nearly all his children members of Christ's Church and one a minister in the United Presbyterian Church, and nother an elder in Island Creek church. For the last thre years of his life he was afflicted with cancer in his face, and ir months before his death suffered greatly. Yet he was no eard to murmur, " for he endured as seeing Him who is in isible;" and faith enabled him to say: "Though I walk brough the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staff they comfort [United Presbyterian please copy.]

By Le Roy J. Halsey, D.D., author of "The Literary Attrac-tions of the Bible," &c. Pp. 460, 12mo. Price $1.00. This is no every day book, to be skimmed over and laid aside. It is a work of standard character, to be read and studied; full of thought and instruction, and attractive in attractive. studied; full of thought and instruction, and attractive in style.

Prof. Halsey is already well known and appreciated as a writer on the literature of the Bible. The present work bids fair to add to his popularity. His object is to inculcate Bible truths through Bible characters, with a special reference to the interests of the young, in adding them to develop their own characters, and to regulate their own lives.

The titles of the chapters will give some idea of the varied contents of this instructive younne: 1. General Influence of the Bible on Human Character. 2. Portraiture of Childhood in the Bible. 3. The Heroic Characters of the Bible. 4. Kings and Statesmen of the Bible. 5. The Prophets and Apostles of the Bible. 6. Incidental Characters, or the Lesser Lights of the Bible.

feb21-ff No. 821 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia REVIEW.

It is proposed to establish, at Danville, Kentucky, a new and original Quarterly Publication, to be called the DAN-VILLE QUARTERLY REVIEW—and to be conducted by a Society of gentlemen, of whom a portion are some of those connected with the Presbyterian Institutions at that place, and a portion reside elsewhere.

This publication is designed mainly for the exposition, advancement and defense of the Christian Religien, considered in its purely Evangelical sonse; and for open resistance to whatever is hostile to it, or inconsistent with it. In perfect consistency with that chief design, its pages will be open to the consideration of all other interests of man, and the discussion of everything that promotes or obstructs any one of those interests. The work is projected, and will be controlled by persons, all of whom are members of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, all of whom accept the Standards of that Church in their obvious sense.

The work will consist of about 176 pages in each quarterly number—making about 700 pages to the yearly volume; never less—more of its income shall justify it. It is designed that its mechanical execution shall be at least equal to any similar American publication; and strict punctuality is intended in the issue of every number. The price will be $3 per annum, payable on the receipt of the first number, with the usual deduction to clubs.

The object of this published Prospectus is to ascertain precisely, and at as early a period as possible, whether or not the projectors of this work are correct in supposing that there is such a necessity and demand for it, that the public patronage will be sufficient to cover the actual expenses of it. If it will, not, the enterprise will be first number will be first number will be first number will be first number is such an exersity and demand for it, that the public patronage will be enterprise will be first number is received by the subscriber. THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE. We trust that those who do not now receive The Tribune will subscribe for it without delay. The club price of The Weekly Tribune and Semi-Weekly Tribune is so low that "The charming story of Bessie Clifford will be read with interest by many good children."—Christian Era. there are but few in any community unable to take it. Henceforth, The Tribune, as the principal paper supporting the new Administra Commercial and Agricultural Intelligence, and the Literary Department, give to it interest and value which no other paer on this continent can boast of. How ably and success fully The Tribune has conducted the campaign now so gloiously ended, the result in New-York fully attests, and to he untiring exertions, signal capacity and foresight of Horace Greeley, is due much of the glory of the victory, over which a nation of Freemen is now rejoicing. It is, therefore, the duty of every true Republican to aid in giving The Tribune a still larger circulation. As evidence of its po and reliability, we may state that last week over Six Hun-DRED THOUSAND copies were sold—a circumstance unprecedented in the annals of journalism .- Guardian and Gazette, Phonixville, Pa.

SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE

meets all such emergencies, and no household can afford to be within it. It is always ready and up to the sticking point. There is no longer a necessity for imping chairs, splintered veneers, headless dolls, and broken cradles. It is just the srticle for cone, shell, and other ornamental work, so popular with laddes of refinement and tasts.

This admirable preparation is used cold, being chemically held in solution, and possessing all the valuable qualities of the beautient-makers' Glue. It may be used in the place of ordinary "USEPUL IN EVERY HOUSE."
