

the cost being about ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Banner of the Cross, the High Church paper of Philadelphia, has been compelled to suspend its issues.

Owing to the derangement of business and of national affairs, and particularly to the stoppage of the mails in the seceded States, so much has been lost in time and in substance, that it is impossible for us to continue the paper.

According to the following account, taken from a Baptist paper, Dr. Brady, who lately left this city on account of his connection with the South, was not very favorably received at home.

We are informed by an intelligent member of the church of the New School Presbyterian Church, that when Dr. Brady's family reached Georgia, he was waited upon by a committee, and requested to take the oath of allegiance to the Constitution of the Confederate States.

He was then informed that ten days would be allowed him to reflect upon the subject. At the expiration of ten days the committee again waited upon him, when he again refused to take the oath, and was then shut up in prison, where he still remains.

Dr. George B. DeWitt, D.D., of Detroit, a veteran clergyman of the New School Presbyterian Church, has given two years to the service of his country in this war.

The gardens of Shakespeare--An appeal has recently been made in England for contributions toward the purchase of the gardens of the great dramatist, at Stratford-on-Avon, which are now advertised for sale as a building site.

The first secessionist--When General Greene retired after the battle of Eutaw, to the Santee hills, in September, 1781, the South Carolinians endeavored to persuade the Maryland and Virginia troops to desert and to follow him.

The Philadelphia North American states that Commodore Dupont, of the famous Naval Expedition, should be added to the list of Christian warriors. It adds: "No man has ever sailed with him who does not honor and love him, while no ships ever exhibited better discipline than those which he commanded."

Benjamin Stark has been appointed United States Senator from Oregon, in place of the late Colonel Baker. He is a native of Connecticut, and in politics, a peace Democrat.

Judge Brier, of the Supreme Court, recently expressed a reluctance to try a case of piracy. He said he was always firm, but kind; rigid, but lenient. No profanity ever polluted his lips, and no carelessness of living ever set a bad example to younger men who were serving under him."

Last week, says the correspondent of the New York Tribune, a South Carolinian, resident in Charleston, who has brains as well as money, subscribed and paid for $10,000 of these 7.30 Treasury Notes.

Gen. McClellan's staff and body guard now amount to two hundred men. They present a splendid appearance, as they gallop at full speed along the lines during a review.

Gen. Scott, shortly before his retirement, obtained positive information that his estate, all of which is situated in Virginia, had been seized and sequestered by the officers of the so-called Confederate Government.

A pompous young preacher once asked Dr. Emmons how he liked his sermon. The doctor (thru his ninety years old) rose from his chair, protruded his cheeks, inflated his chest, gave a significant puff, and then sat down without saying a word. To another young man he said, "Your sermon was too much like Seekonk Plain, lily and dew." When he heard the whole catechism, he inquired, "Young friend, do you ever expect to preach again?" "Yes, sir; I hope to." "Well, if you do, in the world will you preach about?"

In arguing with an Universalist once, Dr. Emmons fairly drove the poor Universalist to a corner. As last he exclaimed, "Well, doctor Emmons, every tub stands on its own bottom." "True enough," said the doctor, his eyes sparkling with glee, "true enough, but what will become of those tubs that have not got any bottom?"

Dr. Samuel Stanhope Smith, President of Princeton College, was considered one of the greatest preachers of his times. He was remarkable for his ability of manner, amounting almost to bombast. He had a brother, Dr. John B. Smith, of Union College. The brothers met in New York, and the Princeton Doctor preached. On the way to their lodgings, Dr. Samuel said to Dr. John: "Brother Jack, what did you think of my sermon?" John replied, "I think as all very well, perhaps, but I could not help thinking you preached, instead of Jesus Christ and him crucified; Sam<sup>l</sup> Smith and him dignified."

This same Dr. Samuel Stanhope Smith was the grandfather of ex-Vice-President Pickens, now a Brigadier-General in the rebel army. The mother of Breckinridge, daughter of Dr. Smith, is now residing in Baltimore with her son-in-law, Rev. J. Bullock, D.D., pastor of the Franklin Street Presbyterian Church.

The total number of collieries in Great Britain at present is estimated at two thousand six hundred and fifty-four; of these, the thousand nine hundred and forty-three are in England, two hundred and thirty in Wales, four hundred and five in Scotland, and seventy-one in Ireland. In 1857 the coal produce of the United Kingdom exceeded sixty-five million tons. The value of this coal is estimated at $88,500,000, and its annual value when consumed at $100,000,000. Beside this sum it is estimated that the coal raised in the month of June, 1872, 600,000 tons. The total output invested in the trade is supposed to exceed $92,000,000. In 1861 the number of persons employed in the English coal mines was two hundred and nineteen thousand; at present there are at least two hundred and fifty thousand.

Washington. No great movement has yet taken place, though there is said to be great activity in every department of the service, and the preparations for winter quarters are on a scale quite too limited to induce the thought that the whole army is to tarry.

Troops are still flocking together, and are to do so some time yet. But the army probably does not increase. Fifteen thousand left here for Port Royal; and fifteen thousand more are said to be on Annapolis, awaiting transports for the South. It may be a wise policy to keep the rebels in large force at Manassas and along the Potomac. They do but little harm, and are doing nothing to prevent the operations of the South open to the attacks of naval expeditions.

November 14--A special order has been issued by Gen. McClellan, relieving those members of Gen. Fremont's staff, who were appointed from civil life, from any further service in the field. The order also discharges all those persons appointed into the military service, who have not been sanctioned by the President.

Harney has gone to Fort Monroe. His presence, by many, that he will command the reinforcements, and participate in the campaign on the Southern coast.

Gen. Sherman, who has been superseded by Gen. Buell in Kentucky, is reported to Gen. Halleck in Missouri.

The reconnaissance of Mathias Point, made on Monday last, was thorough, and was skillfully executed. It was made by the 1st and 2nd Regiments of the 5th Brigade, under Col. Graham. They penetrated into Virginia over four miles without encountering any of the rebels. A boat was captured, and a number of prisoners taken, and a few pickets, two of whom were now still endeavoring to escape.

Nov. 17--The President has appointed Capt. A. H. Foote as Flag Officer of the fleet in the Gulf of Mexico, and Brigadier-General Major-General. This arrangement obviates any possible conflict of authority between the commanders respectively of the land and water forces.

From every indication there does not appear to be any doubt but that the navigation of the Potomac will be resumed in a few days. The rebel batteries are once silenced they will be kept silent.

When the news of the capture of Port Royal reached the Confederate camp at Manassas, General Johnston declared his intention to return at once to the protection of their own State. Orders were issued at Headquarters to prevent their departure.

It is believed at Headquarters that any considerable number of troops have been withdrawn from the rebel army opposite Washington, in consequence of the invasion of South Carolina by the rebel forces, which has been reported. The rumor, however, which impels him to his inclination to resign unless a more vigorous policy be adopted in the conduct of the war, is not without foundation.

Port Royal. In our last we gave a brief account of the capture of this place by our fleet, and the advantages as a basis of military operations in the South Carolina.

There were 1,800 rebels on Hilton Head, and 1,600 on Bay Point. We have captured 500 men, 600 muskets, and any quantity of ammunition. The road by which the rebels escaped was covered with rifles, muskets, knapsacks, etc. We have taken at least 2,500 blankets, and tents for 8,000 men. The rebel camp at this year at Richmond. The others were from Norfolk, including an English gun captured in the last week of the month.

After the capture of the forts and the landing of the army, the work of extending the fortifications, and of adapting them to the wants of their new possessors, was commenced. Security was thought by our commanders to be preferable to extended conquests--conquests which might be public interest. Prices range at about 20 cents.

The cotton question is declining somewhat in importance. It is said to be a public interest, and some still coming from India. The mills can work at a half to two-thirds time, all Spring.

The English Government has ordered large shipments of ball cartridges to Canada, but the shipment of the Armstrong guns has been discontinued.

The convention for intervention in Mexico has been signed, and preparations are actively progressing.

amongst you with no feelings of personal animosity, no desire to harm your citizens, destroy your property, or interfere with any of your lawful pursuits. We are desirous of securing to you the same rights and privileges which we enjoy, beyond what the causes herein briefly alluded to may render unavoidable. Citizens of South Carolina, the civilized world is appealing to you to stand by the principles of justice, and to refrain from committing any crime against your own mother, the best, the most enlightened and, therefore, the most prosperous of nations. You are in a state of active rebellion against the laws of your country. You have lawlessly seized upon the forts, arsenals, and other property belonging to our common country within your borders, and with this property, you are in arms, waging a ruthless war against your Constitutional Government, and they are committing the crime of a Government which you are bound by the terms of a solemn compact to live under and faithfully support. In doing this you are not only making your country a scene of blood and carnage, but you are also making it a scene of political and social anarchy, and you are threatening the civilization of our country with a barbarism which is impossible with civilized man.

The interests of every citizen in the night of our country are being sacrificed to the interests of a few. We are desirous of securing to you the same rights and privileges which we enjoy, beyond what the causes herein briefly alluded to may render unavoidable.
