He has taken a very active part in his own State against secession. When the secession troubles broke out he went to Washington, and procured from the President, arms for the Home Guards, a military organization raised chiefly upon his suggestion, to counteract Buckner's army of the secession militia. By this movement, he and other Union patriots foiled Buckner completely in his efforts to "precipitate" Kentucky As a public speaker, Davis is togent and foreible.

Pedro V., King of Portugal, whose death has been announced, was born September 16th, 1837. He ascended the throne when barely sixteen years of age, but left the government in the hands of his father, as living libel on mankind: 3. There can be no regent, for some years. He visited England in 1854, and France in 1855. He journeyed afterwards to Rome, Naples, Missouri, is recovered and embraced in a South-Bardinia, and returned home by way of England. On his return he was formally orowned king, and assumed the reins of Provernment. He made himself at once greatly beloved by the care with which he sought to have justice done throughout his dominions, and the devotion he showed for the welfare of his people. When an infectious disease appeared in Lisbon, and drove all out who could get away, the courtiers vainly implored the young king to seek safety in flight. He resolutely remained to superintend the efforts made to save life, and by his example in the hospitals and elsewhere, inspired the physicians with energy, and his people with equal devotion. He showed courage not only in facing death, but in opposing the routine of his ministers.

Shortly after his accession he sent for a list of prisoners in the kingdom. A list was given him of such as the authorities deemed worthy of his Majesty's notice. He at once demanded a complete list; declaring that he did not dare overlook his meanest subject. The administrator of a petty district having died, his son asked for the place. The king was urged not to promise, because, said his minister, "the young man is too young-only twentyfive." "How so ?" replied the king, " am much vounger, and yet am thought capable of governing Portugal. Let the ap-pointment be confirmed." Great things were justly hoped of this young king, who was virtuous, energetic, and possessed of common sense. His death is a great loss to Portugal. He is succeeded by Louis Phillippe, Duke of Oporto, who was born October 31, 1838.

A bill passed authorizing the raising of twenty thousand additional troops in Kentucky, for service in that State.

The House agreed, if Senate shall concur, to adjourn from Thursday next (19th) till January 6th.

DECEMBER 17 .- SENATE. -- The day was occupied with petitions, resolutions, and debates, not leading to direct action. The House resolution table.

HOUSE .- The resolution relative to the confiscation of the slaves of rebels, was debated and referred.

Operations relative to the Income Tax are to e postponed till April.

A bill was reported, authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to construct twenty iron-clad steam gunboats by contract, or otherwise. It was stated that each would cost from $500,000 to $580.000.

After a brief debate, the consideration of the bill was postponed. The House then adjourned.

DECEMBER 16 .- The news from England has ccasioned no marked excitement among public men, the indignant tone of the British press hav-ing been anticipated; hence the absence of expressions of surprise. As to the Administration, there is reason to believe that neither the President nor any member of the Cabinet will be diverted in the least degree from their present course of conducting the war. A few days ago the House of Representatives passed a resolution calling on the Secretary of Var to furnish information concerning the disas ter at Ball's Bluff, but the General-in-Chief con siders that it would be injurious to the public service to transmit any reply at present in satisfaction of the request. Col. Murphy's 15th New-York Regiment made some interesting experiments to-day near the Navy Yard to show with what facility the means for crossing rivers can be arranged. A pontoon bridge, three hundred and sixty feet long, was thrown over the Eastern branch of the Potomac, on which the regiment, with heavy wagons, passed with perfect safety. A number of floats were plied over the river, the soldiers using shovels as pro-pellors. Our Government has replied to the invitation of England, France, and Spain to take part in the expedition against Mexico, declining to have anything to do with it.

Western Virginia. CINCINNATI, Nov. 14 .- A special dispatch from Cheat Mountain to the Commercial, says that on yesterday one of the hardest and best fought batiles of the war was fought at Allegheny Camp, Pocohontas County, Va. Gen. R. H. Milroy comnew before us the public mind should be well inmanded the Union troops, and Gen. Johnson, of Georgia, commanded the rebels. Ours was the attacking party, and the fight lasted from daylight till 3 P. M. The Union loss is only about thirty, while that of the rebels is over two hundred, including a Major and many other officers, and thirty prishave immediate interest were unknown. We were fighting for existence, and we did in those days what we should neither do nor allow others

Gen. Johnson was shot in the mouth, but no fatally. The 12th Georgia regiment suffered most.

Gea. Milroy's force numbered 1,800 men, from the 9th and 13th Indiana, 25th and 32d Ohio, and 2d Virginia regiments. Johnson's forces ed over 2,000.

The 9th Indiana regiment fought bravely to the last. After driving the enemy into their barracks no less than five times, our forces retired in good order for the night, intending to nenew the battle in the morning; but the rebels set fire to their camp, and retreated to Staunton. Gen. Milroy has driven the last of the enemy out of Western Virginia.

From Missouri.

STRACUSE, Mo., Dec. 15. - Scouts bring in news of a proposed meeting of rebel recruiting officers and the formation of a rebel camp in the timber The Federal troops in this district are kept actively employed. Squadrons, companies or bat-tailions of cavalry, and sections of light artillery, if required, are ordered out by Gen. Pope, with * reliance and a mystery which is always pro-ductive of good results. alone knows where the blow is to be struck, and for recess till after the holidays, was laid on the rebel spils in camp are thus thrown off the track, and the expeditions thus sent out are almost invariably successful. Scarcely a day passes without bringing news of a skirmish, and the capture of squads of Price's recruits. The expedition sent North a few days since, under Major Marshall, routed a band of rebels under Joe Shelby, and captured four Captains, two Adjutants, one Lieutenant and forty men, with arms, horses, wagons, a mortar, and other articles. The capture of leading secession recruiting officers and the breaking up of their embryo camps, is doing much to restore peace and quiet. Those who are disposed to lay down their arms and return to allegiance, are offered to do so.

Price's army is on its last legs. His men are leaving in large numbers, and if the present vigorous policy against those in arms, or who fur-nished and and comfort to the enemy, is pursued, a better state of things is sure to follow. Gen. Pope, who is now in command of the district embraced within the lines of the Missouri and Osage rivers, has established a school for the instruction of commissioned officers, at each cantoument, post and station within this district, and the most rigid rules are observed for the acquisition of military knowledge.

The Sumpter.

NEW-YORK, Dec. 14 .- Capt. Briggs, of the brig Joseph Park, reports that he was overhalled by the pirate Sumpler, which had the American flag flying, in lat. 6, North; lon. 42, when he was orlered to heave to, and an officer came aboard, saying the brig was a price to the Sumpter. At saying the orig was a price to the sumpler. At the same time the pirate run up his flag and hauled down the Stars and Stripes. The brig-was thoroughly overhauled, and every thing val-uable robbed from her. The officers and crew were only allowed their clothes. A hundred and sixty-five sovereigns were taken from Captain Briggs, who with his crew were put aboard the pirate, and the brig was then burnt. The Sump-ter then suiled Northward, not using steam, and reported herself to various foreign vessels as a United States craft.
