PITTSBURGH, APRIL 5, 1862.

EUROPEAN INTERVENTION in our national affairs, is not likely to occur for some time. We noticed, last week, the abortive efforts of Southern sympathizers, in both Houses of the English Parliament. The Government stands firm on the basis of neu-

The French Legislative body has been also the scene of discussion on our affairs. When the Address in response to the Emperor's speech was before the Chambers, or M. Calvet Rogniat took streng ground our Secessionists. He was ably met by M. Morin and others. The friends of the Union cause offered as an amendment to the Address, this remarkable proposition: "France will abstain from any intervention in the civil war now raging in the United States of America; but she unhesitatingly declares that her sympathies are pledged to the Northern States, defenders rysville, 750;; Clear Fork, 720.; Martinsburg, 52.34; Mt. Pleasant, 916.; Lexington, 1.76; Bloomfield, 370.; Hayesville, 1.44; Ashland, 4.40; Mt. Wernon, 2.10; Bladensburg, 1.125; Slavery, and that it will thus again be savery and that the most serious origin cannot shall be savery and that the most serious origin cannot shall be savery and that the most serious origin cannot shall be savery and that the most serious origin cannot shall be savery and that the most serious origin cannot shall be savery and that the most serious origin cannot shall be savery and that the most serious origin cannot shall be savery and that the most serious origin of the savery serious origin or savery shall be savery and that the most serious proved that the most serious crisis cannot be fatal to peoples who do not separate democracy from liberty."

After discussing the amendment with much enthusiasm, they withdrew it. The Address then, simply approving of the Emperor's policy of non-intervention, was adopted. M. Billault, Minister, who spoke Fourth Tuesday of April. for the Government, declared that France, in common with all the great nations of Europe, was of opinion that the blockade was effective, and ought to be respected.

This will do well for the present; but our Government must be careful not to let foreign port damages our cause. We must Statistical Reports. be careful also to lose no battles. And we must make much progress. If the rebellion is not suppressed, or nearly so, in a year from this time, the Confederacy will be acknowledged. To do so, by that time, will correspond not only with English and French policy, but with our own. To every nation is accorded the right, of managing its own affairs; but it must so train from Dubuque, on Tuesday afternoon, yemadage them as not to inflict interminable injury upon its neighbors. War is an injury to all, and if we cannot settle our disputes, and relieve national intercourse of the incumbrance inflicted, in the space of two years, we must look out for strong remonstrances.

THE TELEGRAPH is a great convenience. but it, as well as the tongue and the pen, is often used to transmit falsehood. Shortly before we went to press, last week, it announced that Beaufort, N. C., had surrendered to Gen. Burnside, and that the Nashville was burnt in the harbor, and Fort Macon blown up. Another dispatch "confirmed" the former, and we ventured to announce it. The second day brought tidings that the Nashville was not burned, but captured; and the Fort not much injurea. Since then, we learn that Beaufort its next stated meeting at Eddyville, lowa, on had not even been attacked, and that the Third Tuesday in April next, at 7 o'clock Nashaille, with a valuable cargo, had safely ran the blockade. Now, however, there is but little room to doubt but that we have Beaufort, without a battle. Fort Macon is cut off from supplies, and must surrender

... CHE REBELS are now 'making' DESPE-BATE EFFORTS, and it behooves us, on our our part, to be both wise and brave. A few more well-fought battles will so discourage them, that their armies can no more be recruited. They collected their forces in West Arkansas, and made a on Tuesday, the 15th of April, at 11 o'clock fearful assault on Curtis. Their defeat was signal. They are calling out their people in mass, for another assault. Curtis is preparing for defence, and reinforcements are being pressed forward. If he shall be able to repulse them again, inflicting heavy damage, it will likely be the last hard battle in that quarter.

They made a violent assault upon the division of Gen Banks' corps, under Gen Shields, at Winchester. Their defeat there was overwhelming. They are exerting themselves to the utmost at Island 10, and to defend Memphis in Tennessee, and Corinth in Northern Mississippi, If they should be defeated in those places, it will go far toward breaking down their spirits. At Corinth it is said that Beauregard has seventy thousand men, and is fortifying. Gen. Grant is at Savannah, on the Tennessee River, some thirty or forty miles from Corinth, and Gen. Buell is on his way. thither, from Nashville. A severe buttle is expected.

NEW ORLEANS is reported as captured. There is no truth in the report. Rebel journals state that our forces have taken Fort Pike, a strong fortification on the pass between Lakes Brown and Pontchartrain. If so, it is an important acquisition. Our Government has no official statement of its capture, Commodore, Porter, with his mortar fleet, has entered the Mississippi, by the South-west Pass. In the river is held by 8,000 rebel troops, in the strong for-tresses, Fort Jackson and Fort St. Philip.

The enemy has also some strong batteries

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC IS not inactive, but we hear only a little respecting its movements. The right wing, under Gen. Banks, has pushed its Winchester victory some miles beyond Strasburg. From Strasburg there is a railroad to Manassas, and thence to Gordonsville and Richmond. From Strasburg to Manassas the road will be soon repaired, and will thus connect Gen. Banks with the main body of the army. The Alexandria railroad is already repaired; so that cars run to Manassas, and five miles beyond.

> Island No. 10 CHICAGO, March 28.—The Times' special Cairo correspondent arrived from Island No. 10. yesterday.

He reports the effect of our fire upon the rebel batteries as very serious. The upper battery was silenced. Sixty men were killed, and twenty or thirty more killed on the Island. The rebels still continue fortifying. Steamers can be seen continually running up and down, between the Island and mainland.

No tidings from Gen. Pope. Late news is received to the effect that the firing from the mortar boats has increased, and that the enemy is still strengthening the position.

Movement of the Rebel Forces.

ROLLA, Mo., April 1.—Letters from our army in the South-west say that information has been received there that the rebels under Price and Van Dorn are moving toward Memphis, in response to a call from Beauregard for help, and all the rebel forces in the West are ordered to ncentrate in Western Tennessee for a great and desperate struggle.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, March 29 .- All quiet. There have been no Merrimac demonstrations yet.
The steamer Swanee arrived from Newbern. All quiet there:
Gen. Burnside had gone to Beaufort, and had taken quiet possession of the place. No resistance whatever was made, and no burning of For Macous was still occupied by the rebels, from three to five hundred strong, but they were entirely cut off, and it must soon surrender.

From our Army in the South-West.

ROLLA, March 26.—Reliable persons just from our army in the South-West, say that the rebels, some thirty-five thousand, under Van Dorn and Price, have retreated entirely across Boston Mountains, and are now at Van Buren and Fort Snith, receiving supplies from Memphis and Little Rock via Arkansas River, which is high.

The Texan troops are much disheartened at the death of McCulloch, and Arkansas felt the loss of Gen. McIntosh, very severely.

The rebels are badly off-for clothing, and shoes.

Pike's Indians have returned to the Indian nation. They were not formidable in battle, being panic-stricken at the effect of our artillery.

Price received a Major-General's commission in the Confederate service on the 16th. Gen. Curtis's army fell back to Keitsville to seure forage.

Arkansas, North of Fayettesville, is entirely eaten out. Our forces are now camped at the head of Cross Timber Hollow, where water and forage are plenty. Our pickets extend into Arkansas, and the rebel nickets come North to the top of Boston Mountains. Fayettesville is unoccupied. Very little Union sentiment has been developed in Arkansas.

Washington.

March 27 .- Numerons applications have recently been made for patents for improvements in the manner of coating vessels with iron, and also for war projectiles. The inventive genius of the country seems of late to be additionally stimulated in the agricultural and petroleum oil departments, various means of using the latter having been presented for letters patent residence of her son-in-law, James Elliott, near Newville, Cumberland County, Pa., in the 82d, year of her age, Mrs. CATHARINE E. WILLIAMS, relict of the late George Williams, of Bellefonte, Centre County, Pa.

From early life she had been a consistent professor of religion, and although for some time before her death she was unable, through great infirmity of body and mind, to enjoy ordinary religious privileges, her surviving friends have the consolation to believe that she fell asleep in her 19th, year; and on the 21st, MARTHA, in her 19th year; and on the 21st, MARTHA, in her 16th year; children of Samuel and Mary Knox, all of congestion on the brain.

Such bereavements are deeply afflictive. Parents need much grace, to say meekly, "Thy will be done." How precious in such circum-ents need much grace, to say meekly, "Thy will be done." How precious in such circumstances is the Christian's hope, and the consciousness of having honestly and in faith discharged all our duties toward our offspring.

DIED—At the residence of her father, William Fouit, Esq., in Franklin, Venango County, Pa., on! Saturday, March 22d, at 11 o'clock A! M., Mrs. MARY E., LIVERMORE, aged 30 years.

Mrs. Livermore had been a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church from her seventeenth regular cavalry.

Arrangements will be made to unite the divisions of each army corps as promptly as possible. The commanders of divisions will at once report, and although her sufferings were severe and protracted she bore them with Christian to the commander of their army corps.
