The course will be conducted in such a manner, that those who can command one hour daily, can secure all its advan-tages. Dr. A. will endeavor, by questionings and oral dis-cussions, to lead his pupils to perceive truth for themselves. From Win. C. Bryant, Esq. I am glad to learn that the Rev. Dr. Alden is about to un-dertake the instruction, in this city, of a class of young la-dies in certain branches belonging to the most advanced stage of education, and involving principles by which ques-tions relating to the most important interests of society are decided. I have a very bigh opinion of Dr. Alden, both as a man and as an instructor. The extent and exactness of his attainments, his clearness and facility of communication. and his kindly manners, are qualifications of a high order; but he adds to these one of inestimable value : that of taking hisambition in the skilful and successful inculcation of knowl-edge. The opportunity of being taugit by such a man--we well endowed, so experienced, and so distinguished in his vocation-is not of the ny resented to young ladies anywhere, and I cannot doubt that many will make haste to take ad-vantage of it. It will be a favorable symptom of the state of inveltigence and the love of useful knowledge in this commu-nity, if this class should be immediately filled up. WM. O. BRYAZ, T. From Chev. King. Lt. University of the Lity of New-York. I regard it as one of the most important events in the de-partment of education, that a higher course of mental train-ing is about to be offered to young ladies, who have comple-ted the usual Academic studies, by Dr. J. Alden, President of Jefferson College. No man within the range of my acquaint-ance is better fitted than he to accomplish what he proposes in his circuiar. His past success is a sufficient guarantee of what he will do n this, altogether new, effort in our city. I do most heartily commend the matter to my lady friends. ISAAC FERRIS.

Dr. Alden is about to enter upon the work of Education in this city. He comes from the presidency of Jefferson College, where he has been eminently successful in all relations, be-ing compelied by the health of the family to change his resi-dence. In his professorship at William, and his presidency at Jefferson, he acquired a wide and well-earned reputation as a teacher, combining with thorough and varied scholar-ship, a peculiarly facile, genial and pleasing method of im-parting knowledge, making the mysteries of science easily intelligible to the young, and rendering the abstruss studies of the higher departments of learning a pleasant pursuit. budding flower as the very first to fade of a that now remained in their garden. In an unexpected hour, and in the midst of apparent perfect health, diptheria, which has recently desolated so many firesides, made its sudden and insidious approach; and no medical aid seemed done.

But in all this bereavement, the cup which these parents were called to drink, was not one of unmingled bitterness. Though the child which they had loved so well, had not made a public profession of the name of Christ, she was the child of prayer, and consecration to God. And more than that, she had not forgotten the God of her fathers. Naturally of a very diffident and retiring disposition, it was only when the solemnities of such an hour came upon her, that she was able to lay it aside. Then the deep thoughts of her heart found utterance in words which revealed the child's faith, and hope there, the work of God's Spirit. When told that she could not live long, she replied, "I rejoice that I am going to die, and rest in heaven, where parting will be known no more.

DIED-Near Slatelick, Armstrong Co., Pa October 31st, 1862, of diptheria, Miss SABAH JANE KISKADDEN, aged 18 years.

It was only about one year after this young disciple had made a public profession of her faith in Christ, that her trust in her Saviour was called to endure the most severe of all earthly tests. She had stood by and seen her younger sister, through suffering, pass away from her vision, with all the sweet and cherished memories of life's morning. And yet in the midst of all those tears which she shed, there vere no hard thoughts of God. Bather, she renembered the beautiful hope that God had given her sister, as an anchor of the soul, for such a trying hour, and she sought for such an assurance for herself, that she, too, might leave a testimony for Jesus. Even when she stood and looked for the last time at the quist resting-place where kind friends had laid her sister's body, she remarked to some one that she herself would be the next that would be brought to the silent, narrow house. And the utterance seemed almost prophetic. In less than two weeks, the same fatal disease laid her low, but she only calmly waited for the voice that was to call her to an eternal rest.

DIED-October 27th, 1862, near Edinburgh, Ohio, of diptheria, JAMES R. HATFIELD, in the 16th year of his age.

He became an anxious inquirer after salvation, during a precious revival of religion, enjoyed by Apple Creek church in 1860. In the pring of that year he gave credible evidence hat a work of grace was in progress in his soul. Owing to his youth, (being only in his fourteenth year.) he was counselled by his parents not to unite for some time with the church. Accordingly he did not make a profession of religion until the last communion season of that year. He gave the Session very satisfactory evidence of piety. His life since has been circumspect. He was indeed an exemplary young man. He tried to walk as becometh the Gospel. He bld fair for a long and useful life. He was, how-ever, suddenly attacked with diptheria in a maall his care upon his Saviour, and found him precious. He was willing to depart and be with tors of the Collegiate Dutch Church. I have long been acquainted with Dr. Alden, and have long regarded him as one of our most able and thorough instruc-tors. In the department to which he has devoted himself, as President of Jefferson College, he is, I think, unsurpassed, perhaps unrivalled. The plan for a Young Ladies Post-Graduate Class covers that department, and I can have no doubt that it will be carried out with efficiency, and will be of singular advantage to those who may avail themselves of it. THE SOLDIER FROM HOME. By Rev. Dr. J. B. Waterfrom any simple preparation, in the nope that he may times contribute to the benefit of others. I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because i was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chieff an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encourage-ment to try them, when suffering from great and long con-tinued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not feit for aix months before, and had almost despaired of regaining me to the use of them.
