

Poetry.

Jeau Only.

Jeau only! name most precious, Sweetest music, deepest bliss; Perfect fulness in its meaning, Rich as clusters from the vine.

For the Young.

From the Congregationalist.

Bel's Polywog.

By SOPHIE MAY.

The children had eaten their dinners under the oil-tree on the bank, and were ready to play. "Let's duck our heads into the horse's tail," said Bel, and I must say the cool water did look inviting.

of the water, leaving her shoes and stockings to the care of themselves. Her heart was heavy with a sense of guilt, and though she kept saying to herself, "I don't care," it was plain that she did care a great deal.

"good things," and how kind Mr. Allen was to take care of themselves. Her heart was heavy with a sense of guilt, and though she kept saying to herself, "I don't care," it was plain that she did care a great deal.

Miscellaneous.

Biblical Curiosities.

The first division of the Old Testament into chapters was made by Cardinal Hugo, who flourished A. D. 1240. He wrote a Commentary on the Scriptures, and projected the first Concordance, which is that of the vulgar (common) Latin Bible.

Three Golden Rules for Cultivators.

They are golden because they will bring the gold. Read them: 1st, Make manure; 2d, Save manure; 3d, Use manure.

Pen with Potatoes.

Early peas-sown in potato rows will afford good picking for the table, and be out of the way before interfering much with the potato tops.

To Sweeten Butter Firkins.

Mrs. Arch. Cooper, Racine County, Wis., sends the following directions to the American Agriculturist: "Before packing buttermilk in firkins, put them out of doors in the vicinity of the well, fill them with water, and throw in a few handfuls of salt."

Bugs on Vines.

Every Spring, numerous inquiries are made how to protect vines from bugs. I am not troubled with any. Whether this is due to the result of my practice, or to the nature of the soil, I do not know.

Agricultural.

Peat Trees.

The well-trained dwarf, is a creation of human skill, as much so as any work of the architect. If a man does not know how to build, or cannot take time to learn, he should dwell as a small business for him. Standards are more easily reared, and a longer lived, and they grow quite so well for good soil and cultivation. They are much longer in coming into bearing, some varieties requiring fifteen years of good cultivation before they will give forth their treasures.

The Potato Rot. To prevent potatoes from the disease or rot, put a small quantity of salt into each hill, so as to have it dissolve and go down to the roots. It will cool the ground and prevent the rot; and even if the rot has commenced, the salt will cause it to go off, and lay a scum around the potato plant to be seen. Put the salt on when the potato are in a nearly-grown state. The extra quantity of potatoes will more than pay for the salt.

It would be desirable to have this inserted in all the papers in the world, especially in Ireland, where the rot is prevalent, and that nation makes great use of the potato. -W. E. Farmer.
