DIED-Near Calcutta, Ohio, on the 15th o December, 1868, Mrs. JANE WOOD, in the 86th year of her age.
She was born East of the Mountains, but removed to Pittsburgh at an early day. Her husband died in Pittsburgh, and soon afterwards she removed to the country. She first made a profession of religion in the Union church of Hanover, but afterwards became connected with the Old School Presbyterian church at Calcutta, Ohio. She loved God, his Word, his Sabbath, and his sanctuary. She was gathered home as a shock of corn fully ripe. She lived with her son-in-law, Thomas Moore, during the last thirty three reces. three years.

DIED.—At her residence in Canonsburg, Jan-nary 31st, 1864, Mrs. MARGARET SAMPSON, in the 82d year of her age. M'Connellsville, Ohio, where, in November, 1832, she was admitted to the communion of the love for the Saviour and his cause, and through a long life oreditably sustained that profession. In all the changes of a life reaching to four-score years, the vows of her youth were not forgotten. She manifested a decided love for the Church and its ordinances, and continued to frequent them until the infirmittes of age began to shut her out from that privilege. DIED-At the house of Thomas Moore, near Calcutta, Ohio, on the 21st of January, 1864, Miss MARY H. MOORE, in the 40th year of her sge.
She was a native of Beaver County, Pa., and was brought up in the bounds of Mill Creek church, with which she became connected in early life by a public profession of religion. She adorned her profession by a walk and conversation according to godliness. She was of a singularly mild and gentle disposition. Most of he time, during the last five years, she spent in Allegheny City. While dwelling among strangers, she sought a home in the house of God, and gained the respect and confidence of her pastor and fellow-members of the Church of Christ. During the last year of her life, she remained at the house of her brother. Thomas Moore. She was calm and hopeful in prospect of death, and cheerfully gave up the world in hope of a better inheritance beyond the grave. She had a desire to depart, but expressed a willingness patiently to await God's time. Her disease was consumption, and as she gradually approached nearer and nearer her end, her faith grew stronger and her hope brighter. Her last words were, "I am

DIED On the 19th day of March, Mrs. MARY JANE, wife of Mr. Charles Fleming, Agent P. R. R., Irwintown. Under most painful circumstances did God's holy will appoint this departure. A youthful wife and mother, after an illness of but a few lays, has been torn away suddenly and unexnectedly from the home which she adorned and lessed. Gentle, dutiful, and affectionate, she had endeared herself to all who knew her, and especially to those who knew her most intimately. Her sincere faith in Jesus, illustrated by er consistent Christian life, was crowned and consummated by a most joyful and triumphant eath. In the midst of great bodily agony, she constantly gave expression, as the paroxysms of anguish allowed her to speak, to the most ardent ongings to depart and be with Jesus. With a heroic Christian resignation, she called her parents, husband, children and friends to her edside, and bade them farewell, in words whose touching beauty and power will not soon pass from the memory of those who were permitted to hear them. May the solemn warnings and holy raptures which made that chamber "privi-leged beyond the common walks of life, quite in the verge of heaven," bring their blessed fruit in our lives, and assure an eternal reunion to

The deceased was a youth of great promise, of intelligence, and of devoted piety. It was his father's desire, if called by God, that "he should blow the Gospel trumpet." He was devoted to his books. He attended the West Newton Select School, where he was a diligent and obedient student. The testimony of his teacher and schoolmates is, that he was a kind, manly, pious and devoted scholar. He was always a favorite with his teachers and schoolmates. He carefully shunned everything that was evil, and was always ready to do good. At home he was the unsellor and reprover of his brothers and sisters. He was the son of godly parents, and being trained up in the fear of the Lord, he early years ago, he manifested deep convictions of sin and a concern for the salvation of his soul. In conversation with, his father about religion, he told him that he felt he was a great sinner, but he was "pleading for mercy." He was often found in his closet upon his knees in prayer.

DIED-On the 19th day of March, Mr. GEORGE LARIMER, of North Huntingdon Tp., Vestmoreland County, Pa. Though not in communion with the Church of Christ, Mr. Larimer gave abundant evidence, full of consoling assurance to his surviving friends, that he had made his peace with God, through a crucified Redeemer. His loss to the Church, to whose interests and prosperity he was earnestly devoted, is a very heavy one, and so-ciety could spare few men so ill. His life was a remarkable and noble exemplification of almost every virtue which gives it beauty and power for good. Just, truthful, upright and honorable, he enjoyed the confidence and respect of the whole community. Industrious, temperate, an enemy to all immorality and religion, full of kindliness and charity, auxious for the promotion of every good and worthy object, it was impossible not to trust him implicitly and love him heartily. It is with a sense of bitter sorrow, of personal loss and bereavement, that we write these feeble words of grateful remembrance. The matron of the hospital, in speaking of her death, said, "I never saw any one more perfectly resigned to the will of God. Although her desires to see her family were often ex-pressed, she died without a struggle, sweetly alling asleep in Jesus." While a devoted husband, affectionate children, a large circle of friends, and the church, mourn her death, it is not without hope; and they have the assurance that her departure from her friends on earth was to the company of the edcemed in heaven, where "No battle word

This School has been in successful operation under the same Superintendence for more than thirty-five years. It is well and favorably known. It was the design of its founders to establish an Institution on Christian principles, whose aim would be to give not only thorough culture to the intellect, but the religion of Christ to the heart. In this sim, God has greatly blessed them. During its entire history the favor of the Holy Spirit has rested upon it.

Steubenville is remarkable for the beauty and healthfulness of its situation; and is easy of access from every direction by the Ohio River and Railroads.

A large Gymnasium has recently been added to its educational apparatus.

NOTIONS AND SMALL WARES IN GREAT VARIETY

AT AS- WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. MOORHEAD, DENNISON & CO.. 81 MARKET STREET, PITTSBURGH. MUSIC IN THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

Rvery Superintendent and Teacher knows the value of music in the Sunday-School. It is one of its chief ettractions and most profitable exercises. If you would have your Sunday School well attended, MARE ITS MUSIC ATTAGOTIVE. If you would have your Sunday-School efficient as a means of good, MARE ITS MUSIC REFICIENT. Song has peculiar power to raise the heart and arouse the feelings. At the is, in some measure, at least, understood and appreciated, and the problem, offen a difficult one, is how to make the nusic what it should be.

No one means is more important to this end, than a good accompanying instrument. However excellent the leader may be, he needs an instrument to help him; and where the leader has not much confidence in himself, an accompanying instrument so for thore value, tuch an instrument eader has not much confidence in himself, an accompany-m; instrument is of yet more value, tuch an instrument will attract and interest the children; will induce them to try to sing, and render it much easier for them to do so. It will add vastly to the impressiveness of the music; and, in-feed, so great is its value that no Sunday-School which has unjoyed the use of a good one, will alterwards be satisfied to low without ane.

enjoyed the use of a good one, will alterwards be satisfied to do without one.

A great/difficulty in the way of the general introduction of accompanying instruments in Sabbath-Schools has been the lack of these, which were both desirable and available. Such an instrument must have good quality of tone, for this is the first essential; it must have great volume of power, because it should be sufficient to guide and suttain (though not overpower) a chorus of hundreds of voices; it must be compy little space, because not many Sanday-school recoms have much to spare for such a purpose; it must be durable, not liable to get out of order or out of tune; and last, not least, practically, it must be afforded at a moderate cost, for few Sunday-Schools can afford to expend a very large sum for an instrument. The melodeon has failed, chiefly because it lacked power or volume of tone; the various harmoniums, school organs, &c., have had more power, but have been deficient in quality of tone, and in other respects. power, but have been dencient in quanty of tone, and in other respects.

MABON & HAMILIN, having been long extensively engaged in the manufacture of melodeons and harmoniums (for which they have invariably taken the first premiume at all industrial rairs and exhibitions) have had constant evidence of the need of a better instrument, such as had been described, for Sunday-Schools and churches, as well as for private use. The experience of this want led them to the institution of many experiments, looking to such improvements, the first important result of which was the introduction by them of the harmonium several years since. This instrument was an improvement upon the melodeon in several nstrument was an improvement upon the melodeon in ser-ral respects. Assining at still better results, however, M. If. continued their experiments, and had the satisfaction, bushing more than a year since, of introducing the CABINET ORGAN.

troment similar in several respects to the melodeon trmonium, but possessing several very important im-ments over these instruments and all others of its genand narmounts, our passessing several very important insprovements over these instruments and all others of its generic class.

The CABINET ORGAN is recommended with confidence as a imirably suited in all respects to Sunday-Schools and churches, as well as private use. Some of its prominent excellences are its pure, round, organ-like tone; its great volume of tone, a sisping it to the accompaniment of large nuribers of voices; its canacity for expression, arising chiefly from the AUTOMATIC BELLAWS EWELL, a new invention of much more practical value than any improvement inade in such instruments for many years; its compact form, durability and quality of keeping in tune for years; its quickness of action, adapting it to the performance of very rapid music, and ITS, MODERATE COST. $335 will procure a double reed CABINET ORGAN, of five octaves compass, a most satisfactory instrument for any Sch ol. $110 is the price of a double-reed Organ with four octaves compass. Single-reed instruments are furnished at $55 and $100. The larger sizes at $250, $380 and $500 each, with six, eight and twelve stops, have, of course, much more power and variety. They are at least equal in power and variety, and qualify of tone to the best pipe or gen which can be built for double their cost, while they are more portable, durable, and less liable to get out of order. Any one who can play the piano, or melodeon a little, can play the Cabindy organ.

Or. if in any School there be no one who can already play, there will almost always be found some one who can and will learn enough in a very short time to accompany wall. welt.
The present is a good time for the introduction of such an instrument. Small contributions from the many interested in almost every Sabbath School, will raise the means. in almost every Sabbath School, will raise the means. The manufacturers will be glad to sand postpaid to any one interested, an Illustrated Catalogue, containing full particulars about these instrume ts, with testimony to their value from a majority of the most eminent organists and musicians in the country. More than two hundred such have given their written opinions that they surpass all other instruments of their class in the world. Address MARN REGULARDS NO. Marces E. New York
