Dank and foul, dank and foul, By the smoke-grimed town in its murky cowl; Foul and dank, foul and dank, By wharf and sewer, and slimy bank; Darker and darker, the further I go, Baser and baser, the richer I grow; Who dare sport with the sin-defiled?

Strong and free, strong; and free, The flood gates are open away to the sea's Free and strong, free and strong, the sea's Cleansing my stream as I hurry along To the golden sands and the leaping bar, And the taintless tide that await me afar. As I lose myself in the infinite main, As a soul that has sinned and is pardoned again, Undeflied, for the undeflied, Play by me; bathe in me; mother and child! CHARLES KINGSLEY.

Oleansing Wheat.

About the year 1846 a Mr. Bantz invented and patented a process for "unbranning and cleansing wheat." The object of the process, with its later improvements, is to remove from the grain of wheat, before grinding, the outer innutritious cuticle. and to leave only the nutritious part of the grain to be ground up. The process is based on a close scientific analysis of the structure of the wheat kernel, and takes off merely the thin outer layer or hull, leaving intact the layer immediately within, which is found to be rich in nutritious substance. The kernel of wheat subjected to this process comes out whole, clean, and of light color. It has lost its whole exterior coating, excepting in the deep crease which marks one side of it, and is freed from every impurity. Besides the diminished liability to injury The monetary affairs of the country are by heat or insects, in wheat thus prepared rapidly verging to a common ruin. Money is apparently plenty, but never has it been so scarce in the history of the Government. Coin is the only money, and nine persons bolting; a part of the good flour is carried the carpet is the only money, and him persons bolting; a part of the good flour is carried "Make the room neat," replied the out of ten fail to receive or pay out a five-bright little, one, understanding the look, and at once beginning to gather his toys silk and satin and velvet so highlin price; which the clientist pronounces the most valuable, but which cannot be separated never were they seen so common on the from the wonthless hull by grinding, is lost. Bantz's process, however, removing the worthless part and that alone, leaves the whole of the rest of the grain for use our view. It has drained our feities in and leaves it in a state, too, which greatly Now—as all the dictionary makers will testify—it is very hard to give good defi-nitions; but did not little Georgy give happy to him when he comes."
