GLOSSBRENNER UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

This beautiful logo is being used by Glossbrenner United Methodist Church, Mount Joy, during the bicentennial year. Created by Fern Ney, a member of the congregation, the design features a dove held by the hand of God in front of the American flag. Around the design are the name of the church, the bicentennial dates, and the slogan "In God We Trust" which is the theme for the congregation's bicentennial observance.

Mrs. Ney sees a variety of meanings in the use of the dove symbol. It is, of course, a symbol of the Holy Spirit, but she sees the dove also representing the Church of God's gift to the nation. When she used the symbol, she had the Noah story in mind in which the dove represented the promise of new life to the inhabitants of the ark after the deluge. The dove is also a traditional symbol of peace which in this design God offers to the nation which can accept his gift.

This logo is being used on the cover of worship folders printed for use during 1976. It is also used to designate a monthly "Glossbrenner Heritage Notes" column that appears in the "Glossbrenner Herald," the congregation's newsletter. Book jackets for the church's hymnals with this design are in the process of preparation. A large reproduction of the logo hangs in the narthex of the church throughout the year.

A special bicentennial committee of the congregation, chaired by Richard Peifer, has planned a comprehensive program of events for this special observance. The celebration was launched at the Annual Congregational Dinner in November, 1975, with the unveiling of the logo and a slide presentation of the history of Glossbrenner Church. Glossbrenner Church dates back to 1839 and has the distinction of having been the first church building of the former United Brethren in Christ Church in Lancaster County.

Other special events of the bicentennial observance include the Communion service on February 1 in which the old crystal communion ware will be used and feet washing, formerly practiced in the church, will be demonstrated.

A bicentennial musical program written by Elinor Nicholas, the church's choir director, will be presented by the church's musical groups on February 29. A commemorative tree will be planted on the church's grounds on April 4. "Moments of History" will be presented in worship periodically during the year.

"THE MURDER OF LIDICE" AT ST. MARK'S CHURCH

by Richard Kohler
In May of 1942, a man wearing the black uniform of the Gestapo was found dead in the streets of the small village of Lidice, Czechoslovakia. This man was R. Heydrich, one of Hitler's cruelest henchmen. Nobody knows who shot him, but the Nazis decided to use the village of Lidice as an example. On June 10, 1942, the Nazis announced to the world that in reprisal for the murder of the Hangman, the village of Lidice had been destroyed, its men and boys shot, its women sent to concentration camps in Germany.

In memory of all atrocities of war, the Elizabethtown College Repertory Company will be presenting a multimedia readers theatre production of The Murder of Lidice at St. Mark's United Methodist Church, Mount Joy, on Sunday evening, February 15th at 7 p.m. The program will launch the annual observance of Brotherhood Week. It is open to the public at no charge; however, an offering will be received.

Following the production, the cast of the play will engage in dialogue with the audience concerning the event dramatized and its far-reaching implications for human society.
