

DARE award winners at Riverview include, from left to right: Deane Portner, Theresa Smith, Pam Herr, Michael Shewbridge, Melissa Hinkle, Tina Martin and Teresa Meszaros.

photo by Corky Flick

Rebecca Wenger, Timmy Orth and Denis Cizauskas display their DARE reading awards.

Well-read students win awards

Jodi Bixler, a third grader in Mrs. Bateman's room at Maytown has qualified for the Reading Hall of Fame Award. Jodi makes the sixth child to receive the highest reading award at Maytown.

Denise Cizauskas, Timmy Orth, and Rebecca Wenger have learned to read well enough to receive the first DARE reading award, the Reader's club.

Grace Snyder is the first Grandview student to receive an award in project DARE. She is a fifth grader in Mr. Smith's class who just doesn't do things in a small way. To achieve the project's highest award Grace read 30 books, many of which were more than 200 pages long, and wrote a report for each one. Her reading was done in five categories and involved five book projects. Grace will have her picture placed in Grandview's Reading Hall of Fame.

Six of the first seven students at Riverview to receive DARE awards are from Mrs. Bowers third grade. Deane Portner, Theresa Smith, and Pam Herr will receive the Avid Readers Club Award, while Michael Shewbridge, Tina Martin, and Melissa Hinkle will enter the Reading Hall of Fame.

Teresa Meszaros in Mrs. Gingrich's 5th grade received her Readers club award and will begin working on her second certificate.

photo by Corky Flick

Fifth grader Grace Snyder displays her DARE award.

photo by Corky Flick

Jodi Bixler

Jr. musicians pile up points in elementary school classes

by Hazel Baker

At the close of the second marking period in the Donegal Elementary Schools, the total number of points earned by the students who are enrolled in the instrumental music program are recorded; everyone who scores 100 or more points becomes a member of the 100 club. If 200 or more points are scored, the student becomes a member of the 200 club etc.

The first listing for this school year contains thirty names, one of which made the 200 club, Tina Palmer of the Riverview School scored 225 points in 14 weeks.

Following are the names, listed by schools:

Grandview:
Tom Pekarek, Phil Peters, Patty Kline, Pam Greider, Kelly Drohan, Lonnie Earhart, Debra Freed, Kevin Becker, Amy Geltmacher, Tina Becker, Keith Mueller, Lester Reiner, and Jessica Eidemiller.

Maytown:
Jan Hess, Ellen Endslow, Jill Kerscher, Donna Watto, Samantha Ackerley, Cheri Johnson, George Cezauskas, Lynne Hart, Michelle Vogt, and Jennifer Wilson.

Riverview:
Tina Palmer, Whitney Kulman, Jennifer Swank, and Juanita Rex.

Seiler:
William Cox, Craig Roper and Allen Bubacz.

Morrell Shields is the instructor.

Jackie Rapp (left) and Teresa Meszaros (right) sang "Paper Roses."

Parents see talent on Riverview stage

Students at Riverview Elementary School put on a talent show for parents last Tuesday. A few of the many performers are shown below.

Doug Bryant sang "The Fox."

Mark Mengel performed at the piano.