FIFTEEN CENTS

Twenty residents fight 10-unit development

Daniel C. Gohn, borough engineer and surveyor for Jones and Zink, developers, requested a variance on a setback requirement on a 2.3 acre tract of land east of North Jacob and Chestnut Streets and North of Apple Tree Alley, from the Mount Joy Zoning Hearing Board.

Residents from Park Avenue, adjacent to the area, objected to the proposed plans and cited a water problem now in that area. Pictures of the rear yards of some residents showed water bubbling up from a storm drain. The residents said this happens even after a heavy summer rain.

Other objections were to the overcrowding of land and overpopulation caused by the planned ten-unit, single-family, semi-detached homes.

A tavern now stands on the ground. Gohn said the lease for the tavern will expire in the next two and one half to three years. Plans call for no renewal of the lease, Gohn said. The building is to be renovated for residential use, he said.

The twenty residents who voiced their objections to the three-member board do not oppose all development in the area. They assured the board they would not object if certain conditions, such as the water run-off, were met, and the number of units was reduced.

The Zoning Hearing Board has 45 days to reach a decision.

Wrestlers 3d in AA sectionals; Cagers beat LCHS 83-77, lose to Camp Hill 68-70

The Donegal High School wrestlers posted 44 points to capture 3d place in the Class AA Sectional wrestling championships at Hempfield last week. Donegal had two champions; Jerry Garner and Tim Howell; and one runner-up; George Mohr. Photos on page 8.

The Donegal basketball ended its AA playoff career Mon. night when Camp Hill came from behind to defeat the Indians by 2 points. Last week, the Indian cagers defeated Lancaster Catholic 83-77.

Indian center Bob Barto didn't see much action in either game because of an injured ankle. Junior Kevin Bradley, substituting for Barto, shot spectacularly well. The Indians' defense suffered, however, without Barto's height and skill. More on page 8.

School custodians to vote on union

Custodial and maintenance personnel employed by the Donegal School District are scheduled to vote next month on the question of collective bargaining representation in an election to be conducted by the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board.

PLRB Executive Director Abe Belsky said the eligible employees will have two choices on the election ballot: the Donegal School Service Personnel Association, PSEA; or No Representative.

Included in the proposed collective bargaining unit would be all full-time custodial and maintenance employees. A total of 11 employees in those classifications are on the voting eligibility list. Part-time workers are specifically excluded. Also excluded are any supervisory, confidential or management level employees.

Late last year the service personnel association filed with the PLRB a petition for representation seeking the vote among the employees. Prior to ordering the election, the PLRB conducted a hearing on the petition with representatives of the school district and the association.

Labor board agents will conduct the balloting March 4, from 3 to 4 p.m. in the district's high school near Mount Joy.
