

"Girls of months" honored by BPW

"Then and Now" was the topic of the program for the Mount Joy Business and Professional Women's Club, held Monday night in Hostetters Banquet Hall. Mrs. James Heilig, chairperson of the personal development committee, introduced the "girls of the month." Each girl represented one year in the BPW's history. Each girl returned as an honored guest and gave a resume of her career.

Mrs. Clayton Bell offered the Invocation.

Reports on the Hobby and Craft show held May 22 and 23 at the Donegal High School were given. Thanks were expressed to everyone who contributed to the planning and culmination of the project which was the kick-off event for the Mount Joy Bicentennial week observance. Proceeds from the craft show will benefit the many projects of the organization and the Bicentennial celebration.

Mrs. John Fry, president, announced that the next meeting, entitled "BPW Heritage", will be held June 28, and will be arranged by the Membership committee with Mrs. June Whalen, chairperson. Officers for the next term will be installed. The club will present a $500 scholarship to the winner at the annual commencement exercises at Donegal High School and it will enter its directory in the Bicentennial Capsule, which will be opened 50 years in the future.
