

Donegal Rangers let Texas wagon train enter Lancaster County

The Bicentennial wagon train was halted on the Columbia Bridge by a band of local vigilantes when they tried to enter Lancaster County. The Donegal Rangers leveled their rifles at the approaching caravan and asked them to state their business.
photo by Corky Flick

Mounted troopers grinned nervously as they explained that they were firm supporters of General Washington.
photo by Corky Flick

Mrs. John Fry to head B.P.W.

Photo shows BPW's new officers. The officers are Mrs. John Fry, President; Mrs. Herbert Sarver standing in for Mrs. Earl Koser, Vice President; Mrs. Albert Whalen, 2nd Vice President; Mrs. Ronald Hart, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Sandy Heisey, Recording Secretary and Mrs. Bary Etzel, Treasurer.

Officers and members were installed into the Mount Joy Business and Professional Women's Club recently at Hostetters Banquet Hall. Miss Naomi Myers, Director of District #7 served as installing officer for the installation of current officers, she was assisted by Mrs. Shirley Butz, both are members of the Columbia Business and Professional Women's Club.

These officers assumed their respective offices: Mrs. John Fry, president; Mrs. Earl Koser, vice-president; Mrs. Albert Whalen, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Ronald Hart, corresponding secretary; Miss Sandra Heisey, recording secretary; and Mrs. Barry Etzel, treasurer.

Mrs. Albert Whalen, chairperson of the membership committee, arranged the program which included group singing accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Baley and directed by Mrs. Patricia Enos.

Mrs. Eugene Eicherly inducted the twelve new members: Elizabeth Baley, Virginia Buckley, Patricia Enos, Margaret Eyer, Christine Graham, Gail Hoover, Ethel Huss, Grace Koser, Carol Lambert, Ada Thompson, Dorothy Wagner, and Marlene Bell. Mrs. Eicherly explained the BPW symbol and lead the group in the pledge. Each new member received a rose bud as a symbol of friendship.

Mrs. Whalen read, "To be the Best of Whatever You Are."

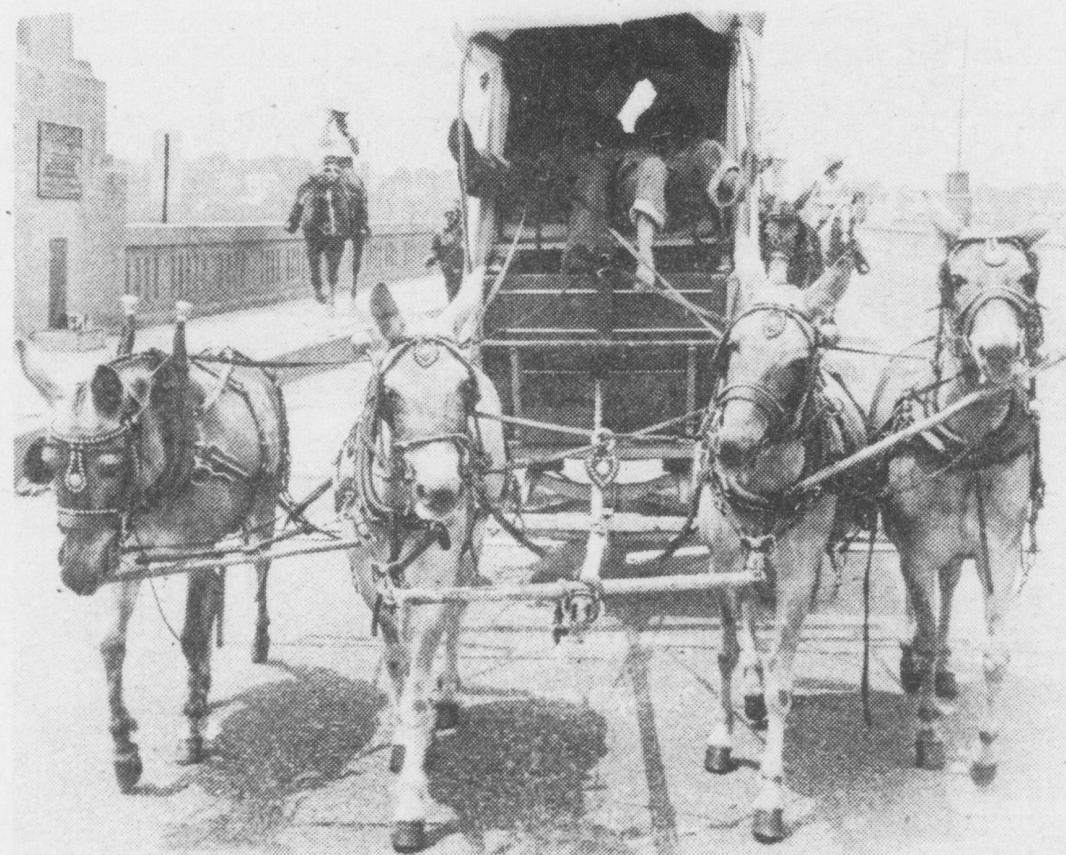

Mrs. James Heilig, personal development chairperson, introduced the girl of the month, Judy Stoltzfus, and her mother, Mrs. Henry Stoltzfus who was also a guest. Mrs. Lester Roberts, chairperson of the scholarship committee introduced the winner, Kathy Beach, winner of the Mount Joy BPW scholarship of $500. Mrs. Jane Beach, mother of the recipient was introduced.

Mother of the year, Mrs. Warren Foley, sponsored by the BPW was introduced by last year's recipient, Mrs. Gilbert Hamilton, who presented her resume.

Mrs. John Fry, president, gave a report of the state convention held in Pittsburg recently. The local club won four awards: attendance; equalizing member; outstanding achievement of expansion; 100% contribution toward foundation and for equalizing membership in 1975, and a traveling gong for the largest increase for membership of clubs with over 80 members.

The group voted to attend the play "Annie Get Your Gun", at the Fulton Opera House in August. The benefit is sponsored by District 7 of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

The wagon train then proceeded peacefully across the river. photo by Corky Flick

Marietta gets new dump truck

The borough of Marietta has acquired a bright yellow 1976 dump truck. Photo shows three of the town's younger citizens inspecting the truck. From left to right are: Bill Randler, Harold Mauss and Buzz Halterman.