

More July 4th photos

The Marietta Community Chorus sang patriotic songs in the park last July 3d. They were halfway through 'It's a Grand Old Flag' when thunder crashed and rain began to pour. The chorus finished their medley, but the planned fireworks had to be postponed to the 4th because of the rain.

There were plenty of rides at the carnival.

Photographer Corky Flick captured the rockets' red glare (in black and white) in this time exposure.
