

... Gatling gun cuts up carbines

Mrs. Hunger said that she and her husband support themselves by selling Civil War replicas and winning shooting matches at skirmishes. Her husband's hobby is building antique rifles "from scratch," while she passes spare time in target practice. Sometimes she pretends to shoot at TV commercials. "It's good for your speed" she said. The couple got married, not in a civil ceremony, but a Civil War ceremony, with crossed sabres. Mrs. Hunger wore a hoop skirt. The marriage took place at dawn and was followed by a 32-gun cannon salute. Colonel Reaves Goehring, Jr., of Columbia organized the Fencibles in 1960 under the auspices of the Lancaster County Historical Society and the North-South Skirmish Association. Although based in Lancaster, many of the skirmishers live in Columbia. Local Fencibles who participated in the skirmish are: Arthur and William Best, John Boyer, James Haug, Charles Kelly, Harold Morrow, Francis Miller, Irvin Ney, Keith Noll, Brian Pennell, Charles Willis, Charles Lester, Ronald Youtz, Irvin Ney, Jr., and David Toumey.

More memories of Wild Cat Falls Inn

Last week's article on Wild Cat Falls Inn refreshed the memory of Albert Reinhold whose father E. L. Reinhold, organized the Wild Cat Club. He contributed the following information about the club:

by E. L. Reinhold

The Wild Cat Club, formerly the Glen Orchard, was started about 1904 by Mr. Edwin L. Reinhold of Marietta, PA, as a business and Political Club. The membership was $100.00 per share, and several years later contributing membership took in members at $15.00 each.

Its yearly outing was close to Memorial day, and members and guests came from Philadelphia, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, York, Harrisburg, and Lancaster. The Delegation from Pittsburgh came in a sleeping car to the Marietta Station. Members came from Jamestown, New York, and other prominent cities.

The members and guests met in front of the Cross Keys Hotel and then marched to the steamboat landing led by the Metropolitan Band of Columbia.

A plank Shad dinner topped off with Champaign was held in the large dining room for the 200 men, and afterwards, several speeches were delivered by out of town speakers.

The Club House had 8 bedrooms and members and their families could stay there a week if they so desired. There was a very large dining room and often dances were held in this room. There also was a buffet in an adjoining building.

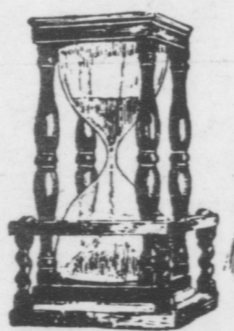

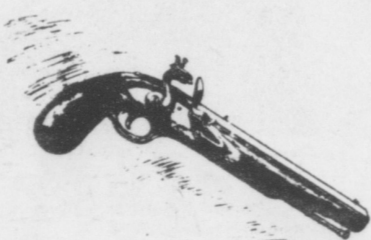

The Wild Cat Inn was owned by the Club, and for many years delicious chicken and waffles were served there
