German coed visiting Mount Joy

by Eleanor S. Sloan

The Federal Republic of Germany, the Vermont based organization called Experiment in International Living and Mount Joy Rotary have combined forces to bring a good will ambassador to Mount Joy. Ulrike Schron from Wachtersbach, West Germany is a student at the University of Johann-Wolfgang-Goethe in Frankfurt. She has completed all but a year and a half of her education and her majors are English and Geography.

Ulrike was met in Washington, D.C. by Andy Rey-mer and Lester Hostetter after having spent time in that area and New York City. She has also visited the States of Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, and a few of the Eastern PA Counties.

Ulrike enjoys swimming, cooking, sewing, embroidery, reading and has been an eager and interested student in learning the American way of life.

Ulrike will be spending two months in the U.S. and while in Mount Joy will be staying at the Reymer's, Sloan's, Schlosser's, and Lester Hostetter's. These families feel it is a high privilege to open their homes to a student each year and enjoy participating in this experiment.

Ulrike will be speaking at Rotary on August 31st, telling about herself, her life in Germany and sharing her reflections about her visit to the U.S. At this time the Rotarians will wish her happy memories and God-speed as she returns to Germany the following week.
