

Archers must file deer kill report card

Successful archers are reminded by the Game Commission that the number of the hunting license is needed on the deer kill report card which must be filed by successful whitetail hunters.

Prior to two years ago, the deer kill report card was a part of the hunting license, and the hunting license number was printed on the report card. Now, the report card is separate from the hunting license, and the license number does not appear on the report card.

During the past two years some report cards were mailed to the Game Commission by archers who forgot to include the hunting license number on the report card.

The Game Commission reminds PA motorists that more deer will be killed on the state's highways during the hunting seasons than at any other time of the year.

Whitetails will be particularly active during the period. Movements by hunters during small and big game seasons stir up spooky whitetails which head for other hiding places, often crossing highways to reach their destination.

Drivers should be constantly alert for whitetails which may suddenly bound onto the road in front of vehicles. The danger can be as great in the daytime as at night.

And, while the problem is generally more acute in "deer country," drivers should know that vehicles killed deer last year in every county of the state, including Philadelphia.

Reduced speed lessens the danger.
