

Margaret O'Brien is honored at St Mary's

Miss Margaret O'Brien, 401 West Market Street, Marietta, was honored by members of the Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic Church, Marietta, for fifty years of service as church organist.

Following a special Mass Sunday morning a breakfast was held in the social hall. The guest of honor received gifts of appreciation for her many hours of service to the congregation.

Miss O'Brien, a native of Marietta, graduated from Marietta High School. She has retired from her position as assistant cashier of Farmers First Bank, Marietta Branch. Miss O'Brien is a member of the Women's Club of St. Mary's and the Marietta Senior League. She is a lifetime member of her church. She loved to hike and ride horses in her youth.

Dr. Robert Lombard served as master of ceremonies and 55 relatives plus members of the Parish attended the event.

Land use program

The Governor's Office of State Planning and Development has scheduled a meeting to discuss their land use program and to get local reaction to the recommendations.

The meeting will be held Thursday, October 21 at 7:30 in the cafeteria of the Mount Joy Vo-Tech School in Mount Joy.

Discussion on teenagers & law

A discussion about teenagers and the law will be held at the W. I. Beahm Jr. High School assembly on October 22, from 1:45 to 2:35 p.m.

Panel members will be Mrs. Horst, mother, news writer, and civic leader; Mr. Raymond Knorr, District Magistrate; Mr. G. Richard Shirk, East Donegal Township Police; Mr. Steve Englert, Marietta Police; Mr. William Reuter, Mount Joy Police; and Mr. Paul Smith, Donegal student council president (Sr. High).

Some of the questions to be covered include:

Are people allowed to have horses, pigeons, raccoons, living in the boro? Why are B-B guns not allowed within the boro? Why is jaywalking unlawful? Is there a limit to the number of trees that can be planted on a person's property? Why have a curfew? What is done to violators of curfew?

What happens to you if you get caught soaping windows or throwing eggs? What happens to you if you get caught breaking windows? What happens to you if you trespass— if no signs are posted? Is throwing corn okay?

What happens to runaways if caught? Are younger children treated differently than older teenagers who break the law?

What do you do with kids our age who steal small items out of little stores?

Can kids under age 18 smoke? Why do merchants sell cigarettes to kids? and Why must bikes have lights when the streets are light-

Meetings on rural poverty get underway

Public meetings in Marietta, Maytown, and Lititz this week will complete the current series of meetings on rural poverty in Lancaster County.

The Marietta meeting will feature state representative and Republican county chairman Sherman Hill, former chairman of the Health and Welfare Committee of the PA House of Representatives, and James Sipple, campus minister and adjunct professor of philosophy at Millersville State College, and was held on Monday, October 18 at 8 p.m., in the Marietta Community House, 264 West Main Street.

Rev. Richard Grant, Executive Director of the Lancaster County Council of Churches, and Dr. Anthony Ugolnik, professor of literature at Franklin and Marshall College, will be panelists at the Maytown meeting, Wednesday, October 20 at 8 p.m., in St. Paul's Lutheran Church on North Queen Street.

The purpose of the meetings is to bring together a wide variety of people with different perspectives. The group discussion portion of the meeting during which audience members express their views is the most important part of the evening.

The program is being sponsored by the Community Action Program of Lancaster County and The Public Committee for the Humanities in PA (an affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities) with the cooperation of the Lancaster County Council of Churches, the Lancaster County Library System, the Lancaster County Jaycees, and Elizabethtown, Franklin and Marshall, and Millersville State Colleges.
