"Sunshine Band" plans bazaar

A benefit sale of hand made items and food will be sponsored by the "Sunshine Band" members of the Crossroads Brethren in Christ Church, Mount Joy. The bazaar will be held at Hawthorne Electric, Route 230 (West of Mount Joy) on November 5, from 5 to 9 p.m. and on Saturday, November 6, starting at 9:30 a.m. Proceeds from the benefit will be contributed to the building fund. These members are arranging the event: Mrs. Joseph Wolgemuth, Mrs. W. Burnell Heisey, Mrs. Ronald Keener, Mrs. Katie Tyson, Mrs. Dwight Wolgemuth and Mrs. Lester H. Wolgemuth.

Among the items being offered for sale are: shoulder bags, scarfs, caps, afghans, quilts, night wear, scatter cushions, children's dresses, house plants, baked goods of all kinds (cakes, cookies, candies and home made bread.) The Reverend Allon B. Dourte is Pastor of the congregation.

Friendship Fire Co. Ambulance needs volunteers, gives training

Friendship Fire Co. No. 1 Ambulance, Mount Joy is seeking volunteers willing to take the proper training to the ambulance. Individuals wishing to volunteer their time must start an Advanced First-Aid Course or Emergency Medical Technician Course (EMT) within 6 months after joining. Crews also hold frequent training sessions on their own.

The ambulance has answered 310 calls so far this year. The ambulance services Mount Joy Boro and the surrounding areas. It is equipped with backboards, splints, oxygen, and complete first-aid supplies. A heart monitor-defibrillator, IV kit, and drug box was placed in service August 1976 with 12 people properly trained to operate the equipment under a doctor's orders.

The ambulance has just started a crew system and more help is needed to fill out the crews. Currently the ambulance is staffed by Registered Nurses, EMTs, and Advanced First-Aid cardholders. Anyone wanting further information or wanting to join the crew can contact the following persons:

1. Bill Martin 653-4584
2. John Farmer 653 4320
3. Ron Alleman 653-1684

E-town Jaycees promise surprises for unsuspecting Halloween guests

The Elizabethtown Jaycees promise many surprises for the unsuspecting visitors to the "Haunted House". The Jaycees note that live actors will be used to portray the spirits of the undead. Visits are expected from Dracula and many other ghouls and supernatural characters. This year's all new production, "Welcome to Your Nightmare", will feature three mazes, the pit and the pendulum, a torture chamber, the blinding experience, the monster's laboratory and other attractions of fiendish delight. The Haunted House will be open the evenings of October 27 to October 30. The planned hours of operation are 7 to 10 P.M. on Tuesdays and Wednesdays and 7 to midnight, the hour when strange things happen, on Fridays and Saturdays. The Jaycees Haunted House is located in a 150 year old carriage house at the rear of 406 West Bainbridge Street in Elizabethtown. Refreshments will be available. Admission is by donation; group rates are available. Please call Dave Kramer at 367-5720 for information. The proceeds of the project will benefit Jaycees community programs such as park improvements, safety town, senior citizens, and youth activities.

Mount Joy Lions plan Fun Night; Wednesday night for local kids

The Mount Joy Lions' Club will sponsor a Halloween Fun Night for all the children of Mount Joy and surrounding areas, at the

W. I. Beahm Jr. High School on Wednesday night October 27th. Films and programs will be from 7 to 9 p.m., and free refreshments will be served immediately following. A feature film for the season and cartoons will be shown, which will be enjoyed by all ages. The Lions' encourage all local children to attend this Fun Night.

Mount Joy Joyceettes planning early Christmas Bazaar Nov. 6

Photo shows Chad Wetzel scaring Betsy Meckley with a cookie monster. The cookie monster is not realistic enough to give Betsy much of a fright, but it is a beautiful hand-crafted item. You can buy the cookie monster or the lovely afghan on the back of Chad's chair at the Joyceettes Christmas bazaar.

Pack up your records, and come for an evening of fun and dancing.

Please bring your own container. Bazaar chairmen, Kathy

Bower, and Donna Wetzel invite you to come browse and shop for the holidays.

HALLOW-E'EN
by Chester Wittell

All hallows' phantom lord am I,
Whose empire circles earth and sky-
A sovereign, yet a crownless king,
To whom no subjects tribute bring;
And cornstalks lean awry.

A king? Nay, I am but a fool,
Empowered for a night to rule-
A wight of impish breed and rank
Who love to vex by trick and prank
With tinpan din while pumpkins grin
Immune to ridicule.

What time the street with dark nights tinges
Gates are lifted from their hinges;
Slinking forms that lurk aloof
Wizard carts to tree and roof,
And loud the rain of corn on pane
Upon the night impinges.

Dwarf, harpy, vampire, demon, fawn;
The undermost of Scylla's spawn;
Troll, banshee, kobold, pixy, fairy,
And all the offspring of Andvari:
These as kin are mine to win
And marshall ere the dawn.

From out the cresset-litten gloom
Gaunt grizzled warlocks leer and loom,
And old crones, clad in gunny-bags,
Consort with lean and withered hags;
For this the night when ghou and sprite
Hie forth from tower and tomb.

Thú's sheltered by the night's black cope,
I watch while goblins grin and grope;
Hear witches cackle; beldames squeak
In hoyden revel, cheek to cheek;
While here and there and everywhere
Dim spectres leap and lope.

A silly farce when all is told,
And yet a custom strange and old,
Whose origin is rooted fast
In the enigma of the past,
Whose solving none has ever done
The mystery to unfold.

Let earth in festive mood receive
The puckish nonsense and believe
That on the morrow it shall be
Amended by sobriety.
Not overmuch they ere in such
Amusement who perceive.
