Transit authority driver contest

The Red Rose Transit Authority (RRTA) has announced a Favorite Driver Contest.

Reed Rodman, RRTA Executive Director, said: "We know we have an excellent staff of bus operators. We feel those persons who use the RRTA bus system know that also, so we are asking them to tell us who their favorite drivers are and why."

Any person submitting an entry is eligible to win any one of three $25.00 U.S. Savings Bonds to be given away at a random drawing. The driver voted the most favorite RRTA driver will receive a $100 U.S. Savings Bond, while the second most popular driver will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond.

"It takes skill and patience to drive a big bus 25,000 miles a year in traffic, road conditions, and all kinds of weather", stated James Scheiner, RRTA Operating Manager. "The problem of driving is further compounded by the condition of our present bus fleet, the oldest urban fleet in the country."

Many bus operators do more than just drive a bus. They do those little things that can make a nice day even nicer. That's when an RRTA driver says "hi" or smiles; gives helpful advice; operates on schedule under difficult conditions; calls our stops; gives you a good ride; keeps calm and cool and much more.

This Program runs thru December 24, 1976. The winning drivers will be announced Thursday, January 20, 1977, as will the persons who randomly win the $25 U.S. Savings Bonds

Contest forms are available on all RRTA buses and at the RRTA offices (825 E. Chestnut St., 2nd floor, Lancaster-397-4246).
