

Why spend summer at Scout camp?

by Gerald Alleman

After returning from a week as a Provisional Scoutmaster at our Council's camp many of my acquaintances would question, "Why spend a week of your vacation at a Scout Camp?" Anyone who has had the opportunity to share a week in the out-of-doors with Scouts could give many reasons why. However, this year I'm able to give a reason which touched the hearts of individuals.

In our Provisional Troop we has 40 Scouts from throughout our council. One scout was from a handicapped troop. He was supposed to have been less normal mentally than others and this I question, because some of the so called "normal" boys didn't seem to have as any mental capabilities as this Handicapped Scout.

This Scout who had never earned a Merit Badge made up his mind at our pre-camp Troop Meeting that he was going to earn the swimming Merit Badge. Religiously each morning he left the site and went to the Swimming Merit Badge instruction [continued on page 10]
