

McDevitt proclaims cerebral palsy week here, asks for contributions

Active in the fight against cerebral palsy are, left to right; Sherry Wilkerson, Loretta Geltz, and Mrs. Clair Carpenter.

Mayor Barney McDevitt has proclaimed Cerebral Palsy Week (Jan. 2-9) in Marietta. During the week, volunteers will be soliciting funds to fight this disease.

Barney urges everyone to give generously.

Volunteers are the backbone of a non-profit health agency like United Cerebral Palsy of Lancaster County. One group of volunteers will be marching in the community during early January for the 1977 Campaign. Others work on office detail while some are program instructors and aides for the Adult Day Classes or the recreational programs. In all program activities, transportation to the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd is most necessary.

A most active CP volunteer is Mrs. Clair Carpenter who has provided transportation for Saturday program for a number of years for western Lancaster County. Her group has included Tommy Sload, Woodrow Paules, and Loretta Geltz of Columbia, Charles Stewart of Silver Springs, Cindy Cover and Clara Aukamp of Mountville, and Sherry Wilkerson of Bainbridge. Sherry and Loretta are pictured with Mrs. Carpenter. Her initial involvement stems from her membership in the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd where all programs are held.

Persons born with cerebral palsy have the same needs, hopes, and desires as any so-called "normal" person. Through supportive program services of United Cerebral Palsy of Lancaster County and supplemental home visits by the Elks Home Service Nurse, individuals affected by cerebral palsy and other related conditions have an opportunity to share special concerns with the trained staff. In recognizing the importance of this segment of the population, the Lancaster County Commissioners and Mayors of the communities throughout Lancaster County have designated January 2-9 as U.C.P. Week.

The services of United Cerebral Palsy of Lancaster County are available at no cost to all cerebral palsied individuals and their families. Marvin Miller, 1977 Campaign Chairman, has announced a goal of $40,000 to continue and expand these special services. In many neighborhoods, volunteer marchers will be knocking on doors during early January while in other areas, a mailing has been sent. Additional contributions may be sent to U.C.P. of Lancaster County, 226 West Chestnut Street, Lancaster, PA 17603.

Mrs. Heisey to be president of Society of Farm Women

by Hazel Baker

Mrs. Warren Heisey, 107 Poplar Street, Mount Joy will assume the presidency of Society of Farm Women #8 at the January session to be held at the home of Mrs. Lewis Bixler. She was installed at the Lancaster County Convention of Farm Women.

Kathryn has been a member of this group for more than 25 years. She served on all committees and held the office of vice-president for two years.

The former teacher in Manheim Central School District served 45 years in the schools. She was principal of Elm Tree Elementary School for 14 of those years.

The Manheim native graduated from Messiah Academy and earned a BS degree from Millersville State College. She enjoys traveling and has toured South America, Mexico, the Holy Lands, Europe, and Alaska. She is an avid collector of antiques and prefers pattern glass.

Kathryn and Warren Heisey have one son, Burnell.

Mrs. Heisey is active in the Mount Joy Business and Professional Women's Club. She served as Sunday School superintendent for 42 years at the Crossroads Brethren in Christ Church, Mount Joy, and continues to substitute in that capacity. She participates in the Sunshine Band of that congregation.

Her volunteer work includes one day per week in the gift shop at the Brethren Village, Neffsville and each Wednesday morning she attends a neighborhood Bible Club.
