

Mennonite church will host Bible Institute

John Drescher

Don Augsburger, Harrisonburg, Va.; Nancy Miller, Lebanon, Pa. and George Kimber of Messiah College, Grantham, Pa.

John Drescher, formerly of Mount Joy, is pastor of the Scottdale Mennonite Church. He has authored several books in the field of family life and devotional meditations. Rev. Drescher will teach courses on the book of James and Philipians and Parent-Child Relationships using his book,

"Seven Things Children Need" as a text.

In their sixth year of operation the Keystone Institutes continue to offer high quality instruction in Bible, Church history, and related subjects. Ten institutes are scheduled for the current season, eight to be held in Pennsylvania and two in New York State. More than 25 instructors are on the staff.

College credit can be arranged for Keystone courses through Eastern Mennonite College and Messiah College.

Each institute provides day time and evening classes. Persons may enroll for one, two, or three courses. Baby sitting services are provided.

A Keystone Bible Institute will be held at the Mount Joy Mennonite Church, Donegal Springs Rd., Mount joy, January 31-February 4, 1977.

Keystone is a Bible institute operated by churches in the Anabaptist tradition. Seven Mennonite and Brethren in Christ conferences are represented on the Board of Directors. A welcome is extended to the entire Christian community, pastors, and lay persons, to participate in the classes. Many are finding them highly inspirational.

Instructors at the Mount Joy institute are John Drescher, Scottdale, Pa;

We Get Carried Away When It's Time To Say Thank You.

How carried away can we get?

Well, we want to express a "Thank You for being our Customer" in the sincerest way possible. But, if we get too carried away, we may end up sounding insincere.

How do we convey a meaningful "Thank You"? One way: we show you that we mean it.

In the past year, we've made an effort to provide the friendliest, most efficient service possible. This year, we intend to try even harder.

We know that our continued better service is the best way to thank you, every day, for banking with us. Good service is the best way to show how much we appreciate you, our present customers, and our future customers as well.

Please accept our sincere "Thank You". We hope our relationship will be a good one for many more years. We promise to do our best to keep it that way.

"Call us to do your work"
