Marietta Council rejects new store

Marietta Borough Council denied a request for the rezoning of property at Rt. 441 and East Clay Street, after a public hearing Tuesday night.

The request came from Penn Dairies, Inc. The company had submitted a petition to build a convenience store and self-service gas station at the intersection at an estimated cost of $100,000.

At the hearing, residents objected to the proposed construction, saying traffic would increase and that the existing stores were adequate.

The rejection had been recommended by the Lancaster County planning

Open house at St. Peter's Catholic School

Catholic Schools throughout the nation celebrated Catholic Schools Week from February 6th to 12th.

During Catholic Schools Week, St. Peter's School in Elizabethtown carried out two activities designed to show education which integrates academic training with moral and religious training. The teachers and students prepared a special liturgy to be celebrated with parents on Monday night. At this special Mass, parents and teachers renewed to the children of St. Peter's, their commitment to the educational needs of the children. Then on Tuesday, St. Peter's welcomed visitors to come and see some of the fine educational opportunities offered there.

At St. Peter's School in Elizabethtown teachers and students work and pray together in a community dedicated to quality education in a Christian atmosphere. St. Peter's is a unique school. In addition to daily religion classes, the value centered curriculum is enhanced by up-to-date and proven math, reading, social studies, language arts and science programs. Consistently, students have placed very high on national SRA Achievement testing results. This year's results are particularly outstanding. St. Peter's small class size enables teachers and aides to meet students on an individual and personal level thus affording educational progress at a multi-level schema. The unique characteristic of Catholic schools is one of the Christian message, community, and service. Students at St. Peter's evidence this in their friendly care, concern, and service to one another.

Anyone wishing further information about St. Peter's are invited to call the Principal, Sister Maureen Patrice at 367-1678.

E. Donegal may enlarge park

Rock Point Road Park was the main topic of discussion at last week's meeting of the East Donegal Supervisors.

Financing of the planned pavillion occupied the Supervisors for some time. Ways to cut labor costs were considered, but, due to Federal funding of the pavillion through HUD, "prevailing wage" must be paid to construction crews.

The Supervisors also discussed acquisition of land for the park.

Chief Shirk advocated that a fence be erected between the road and ball fields to prevent children from running into traffic. It was decided to investigate used steel cable from the Armstrong plant as possible low cost fence material.

Dave Houseal, a representative of the Maytown Civic Association, asked that ordinances be considered which would require sidewalks to be cleared of snow; limit the time a car could be parked in one place (to get rid of 'junk' autos); and zone out garbage collection companies.

Chief Shirk objected to the proposed parking rule, saying, "Suppose you've got a 48 hour limit. Then some guy gets sick for a week and he's in violation of the law."

None of the proposals were immediately acted upon.

Ways of cheaply fixing the 'Entering Maytown' sign on South River Street

(Route 743) were considered. The sign was recently knocked down by an auto. Chief Shirk advised moving the sign off the bend to prevent frequent damage.

Supervisors Abram Groff and Lloyd Fuhrman, as well as four members of the Park Commission, met Monday night with contractor Dan Gohn to discuss his plans for the park pavillion, for which Dan Gohn and Associates are bidding.

Mr. Gohn had another meeting to attend and left Jack McSherry, an engineer, to outline and discuss the plans with the Park Commission and Supervisors. They discussed the various design possibilities in detail.

The submitted plans call for an open sided structure measuring 32' by 48' at the base and 38' by 50' along the roof edges. The pavillion would have wooden post supports and cedar shake roof.

The Supervisors have $10,000 to spend on constructing the building, so they aimed to get the largest roof for the money, even considering a dirt floor instead of a concrete slab, a suggestion of Lloyd Fuhrman. Eventually, they plan to add lavatories, a kitchen, and electrical wiring when more money becomes available.

Mr. Gohn is asking $2000 for his engineering fee. This would be a cost in excess of the $10,000 allotted for the pavillion materials and construction.
