DHS art show

As science projects filled the Donegal High School last Thursday, the high school lobby was transformed into an art gallery with student work displayed the entire length of the area.

Cash prizes were donated by the Student Council in six different categories.

Judges for the show were Wayne and Jackie Madsen of "The Print Shop," Marietta, and also Claire Lavin of Marietta. Wayne is a student at York Academy of Arts while Jackie holds an art degree from Kutztown State College and teaches art in Middletown. Claire Lavin operates the "Chateau Art", a studio-gallery where she teaches art.

Patty Floyd, a senior, emerged as the big winner with the "Best-of-Show" award and prizes in four categories. The "Best-of-Show" was a Charcoal drawing entitled "Seashell". First runner-up for this award was a clay sculpture entitled "Tribute to the American Amusement Park" by Janice Rogers, a Junior.

Prizewinners in each category were:

Drawing: 1st prize, Patty Floyd; 2nd prize, Floyd Runkle; 3rd prize, Keith Pomroy; Honorable mention, Nancy Stehman and Richard McBride.

Pen and Ink: 1st prize, Scott Hershey; 2nd prize, Tina Simmons; 3rd prize, Rick Kinsey; Honorable Mention, Floyd Runkle and Vicki Fogie.
