Karen Albright to visit Penn State

Karen Albright, R.D. #1, Marietta, a junior at Donegal High School is one of 675 outstanding high school students who have been nominated to visit the University Park Campus of The PA State University for a weekend in April under the Penn State Scholars program.

Half will visit the campus April 15-16, the other half April 22-23.

Initiated in 1975 to recognize and encourage excellent academic scholarship, the program provides an opportunity for top students in the state to meet with Penn State faculty members and students, explains Dr. Glenn G. Carter, director of Secondary School Relations.

The high school students, accompanied by their parents, will meet with Penn State faculty members and students concerning career opportunities, academic programs, and other campus activities.

The students were nominated for the program by their high school principals as the top academic students in the junior class of their respective schools.

During the weekend, they will have the opportunity to experience college life, find out how Penn State is suited to their needs and interests, and compete for one of 30 Penn State full-tuition, four-year scholarships.

All students participating in the program will receive special recognition, including an early offer of admission to the University.

Correction

Donegal graduation day will be held on June 13th. In last week's issue, we incorrectly listed the date as June 18th.

Free films at Capital Campus

The Frederick Wiseman Film Documentary Series at Penn State-Capitol Campus will conclude with the films "Essene" and "Primate." Both will be presented free to the public in the campus auditorium.

"Essene" will be shown April 11 at 12:15 and 8 p.m. "Essene" is a religious film looking at life inside a monastery.

"Essene" was the recipient of the 1972 Gabriel Award presented by the Catholic Association for Broadcasters.

"Primate" will be shown April 18 at 12:15 and 8 p.m. "Primate" has to do with the routine investigations of primate life and behavior which are conducted at Yerkes Primate Research Center in Atlanta.

DID YOU HEAR...

The purple martin scouts are in the area checking out available living quarters for their summer visit. According to the friendly mailman, Ben Billet, the scouts will stay for about two weeks and then return for their flock.
