The National Honor Society inducts 17 at DHS ceremony

Last Thursday seventeen students were inducted into the National Honor Society at Donegal High.

Chairman Phil Good and Historian Cynthia Charles spoke. Jacob Sherk spoke on scholarship, Randall McCoy on service, Greg Lindemuth on leadership, and Joan de Vitry on character. Phyllis Shope called the roll of new members, and Michael McMullen welcomed them to the Society. Eileen Penyak spoke on behalf of the new members.

Mary Kanoff, accompanied by Mrs. RoAnn Lau, sang "Bridge Over Troubled Waters."

Mr. Donald Drenner, principal, then introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Robert Longo. Mr. Longo is an attorney from Lancaster and a former assistant D.A. He was once drafted by the Houston Oilers, but decided on law when he didn't make it as a pro football player.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the members, faculty, and guests. Tea was served by Mrs. Sadie Brooks, coordinator of DHS nurses, Mrs. Mimi Peraro of the foreign language department, and by Miss Kathy Wiler of the home economics department.

Previous members of the National Honor Society, not newly inducted, are: Hollis Baker, Jay Behling, Cynthia Charles, Joan de Vitry, Cynthia Emenheiser, Steven Eno, Jeanne Freed, Keith Gebhart, Phillip Good, Barbara Hallgren, Nancy Hess, Linda Hostetter, Mary Kanoff, Barbara Landis, Gregory Lindemuth, Grant Markley, Randall McCoy, Michael McMullen, Jennifer Neiss, Loris Raber, Jacob Sherk, Phyllis Shope, Ann Studholm, and Mark Weidman.
