

Mary Eberly heads band parents

Mary Catheryn Eberly, 207 W. Main Street, Mount Joy, was elected president of the Donegal Parents Band Club at the regular monthly meeting. Serving with her as incoming officials were Ken Barnhart, vice-president, Loretta Portner, secretary, and Gloria McKain, treasurer. Directors, elected in addition to the officers, were Helen Hendrix, Shirley Sagerer, Patrick Kenney, Jr., Patricia Eichler, Maryanne Coover, Verdella Spickler, Glen Oberholtzer and Jane Balmer. It was reported that thirteen tons of scrap paper were collected by the recent paper drive; that Arthur Bachman was appointed as assistant to Mr. Glen Leib as instrument instructor; and that the next session of the band club will be held in September. Mrs. Eberly has served as band uniform chairman for two years. She is employed as a secretary at Grandview Elementary school and prior to her employment was a volunteer parent at Grandview.

She is a member of the Lancaster County Assoc. of Educators' Secretaries. She is now arranging committees for the next term. DID YOU HEAR? In ancient Yugoslavia, the official method of execution was 'defenestration,' meaning that the doomed person was thrown out of the palace window.

How to put your favorite recipe in the Mount Joy Joyceettes' Cookbook

Cookbook

The Mount Joy Joyceettes are preparing a cookbook containing 250 or more favorite recipes from women of our community. We would like for you to be one of the women whose name will appear with recipes in our book. Your name will be printed in the book with you recipe below it.

This cook book is to commemorate the 25th Anniversary of the Mount Joy Joyceettes. The books are plastic bound so they lay open when in use, and the cover may be kept clean with a damp cloth.

In addition to the 250 recipes, the book will contain a complete section of specially selected, authentic, up-to-date basic cooking information. We are very pleased with these additional pages of "Kitchen Handbook" material and with the clever "thumb index" for quick reference. There are charts and information on ways to Use Leftovers, How to Carve,

Time Tables for Meat Cookery, Quantity Recipes for 100 People, Suggestions on What to Have for Dinner, Substitute Ingredients, a Metric Conversion Chart, Spice Charts and much more. There's all the basic cooking information one could wish for collected and bound together with our community recipes into one book.

We want our book to be representative and successful and we would like to include your name and recipes in the book. Please write or type your favorite recipes, preferably in different food categories (e.g. Main Dishes, Appetizers, Bread and Rolls, Cakes and Cookies, Jelly and Jam, Soups and Salads, Vegetables, Desserts or Miscellaneous) and send your recipes and your name and telephone number to Mrs. Cindy Stoner, 25 N. Barbara St., Mount Joy, Pa., or to Mrs. Sue Thomas, 130 S. River St., Maytown, Pa. 17550.

Smaller sewer plan for Mount Joy Twshp.

A Mount Joy Township citizen group seeking to reduce the size of a proposed sewer project asked their township supervisors to intercede for them against the township sewer authority.

The supervisors said they have little say in the issue, but agreed to gather information on the matter.

The citizens wish to reduce the size and scope of a $5.1 million sewer project by eliminating outlying areas north of Route 283 from the plan. They say the project will place the township heavily in debt and create a heavy tax burden.

The majority of the sewer authority members have opposed compromise efforts in the plan.

Township Solicitor William C. Crosswell told the group of about 30 persons that the supervisors have the power to appoint members to the authority, approve its charter and even to disband the authority.

"But they have no actual control over the scope of the project," said Crosswell. "The Authority Act clearly puts the scope of the project in the hands of the authority."

"That scares the daylight out of me," commented David Stapler, the only member of the concerned citizens who sits on the authority.

Stapler accused the supervisors of dodging the sewer controversy and neglecting to attend authority meetings. "You gentlemen don't even know what's going on," he declared.

60th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Gerberich of Mount Joy were honored at a party at their home celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary, on May 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerberich were married May 24, 1917 by the Rev. Fuller Bergstresser at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Middletown. Mrs. Gerberich is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Antrim of Middletown. Mrs. Gerberich's maiden name was Sarah Frances Antrim. Mr.

Gerberich is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gerberich. They are the parents of three children: Mary Elizabeth Murphy, the late Francis A. Gerberich and the late Clyde E. Gerberich, Jr. They have 5 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

The drop in party at 274 W. Main St. in Mount Joy was attended by approximately 150 guests. Mrs. Joseph E. Murphy, Mrs. Clyde E. Gerberich, Jr. and Mrs. Jerome Brubaker acted as hostesses.
