Junior Troop 331 reports good year

by Sharon V. Marley

Junior Troop #331 just completed another busy year in Girl Scouting.

During the year we went roller skating, and Christmas Caroling. We had Junior Troop #32 in to play games for our World Games Badge. Junior Troop #35 came in to view our work of art for our Drawing & Painting Badge. Brownie Troop #19 came in to learn how to make sit-upons and dippy bags.

We also had a Holloween Party, Needleguild Tea, Christmas Party, and Thinking Day/Juliette Low Program.

We "adopted" "grandparents" at the Masonic Homes this year. We visited our "grandparents" every month and learned some very interesting things about each other.

The Cadette troop invited the 6th graders for a Banana Split Party, so they could meet each other before the 6th graders joined their troop.

On April 29, 30 and May 1 we went camping at Furnace Hills. Friday evening, April 29, we had a Scouts Own program and snacks. On Saturday, April 30, we took a 3 hour hike on another part of the Horseshoe trail. We made our lunch and ate it during the hike. During the hike we met some rather unfriendly dogs and two horse riders.

We made pizzas and taffy apples for snacks. They both were hits with the girls.

Tradition during our troop campout is initiation into the "Cow Club". Four girls and two leaders were put through the club with the help of "Bossie" and "Elsie". We also put them through the "Ooga Booga Boo Club." This club brought many screams and much laughter from each girl.

We would like to thank Diane Rice for going along for the third year. Also Sue Gantz, June Edwards and Linda Yourglvich for driving us to and from camp.

Our Court of Awards was held May 23 at the home of our leader, Sharon Marley. We put on a Scouts Own for our mothers before we received our badges.

Five girls were taken into the Cadette troop at a Bridging ceremony. These girls are: Betsy Marley, Kathy Henly, Wendy Gantz, Jackie Wealand, and Roberta Dissinger. Each girl also received a Cadette handbook from their Junior leaders.

June 6 we had Ply-up for the twelve new Brownies coming into our troop. This ceremony was held at Glossbrenner United Methodist Church.

The members of Troop #331 are:

Sharon Marley, Becky Heller, and Nancy Ettaro, leaders. Betsy Marley, Jackie Wealand, Kathy Henly, Wendy Gantz, Roberta Dissinger, Shari Eshleman, Lisa Ruhl, Liz Edwards, Carrie Yourglvich, Leah Aston, Diane Rusnock, Tammy Stoe and Carol Stoneseifer.
