Obituary;

John Willis Reapsome

John Reapsome, 16, of E. Petersburg drowned last week at a boys' camp in Ontario, Canada, where he was a junior counselor. He apparently drowned while canoeing alone across a lake at the camp.

He was the son of Rev. Reapsome, pastor of the Congregational Bible Church in Marietta. He was a member of the church and was active in the youth group of his father's church. He had attended the camp at which he died for several years and was a student at Hempfield High School. He would have been entering the senior class this fall.

John is survived by his parents, Rev. James W. and Martha Gray Reapsome; a sister, Sara A.; and two grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Reapsome, Landisville and Mrs. Evelyn Duffy, Havertown.

Hints for the elderly

Senior citizens will receive special consideration in the Emergency Fuel Program that is being started by the federal government. The program will prevent people's fuel from being shut off if they can't pay their bills (PP&L has its own program to prevent fuel cut-offs) and to help anyone suffering "dire need" because of high fuel costs.

To be eligible for the federal money, you must present evidence that your fuel bills were high between Oct. 1, 1976 and June 30, 1977. You must also have a low income (below $3,648 for 2 people, or below $3000 for one person), but ownership of a home or other assets doesn't disqualify you.

Refunds of $50 to $250 will be made to those who qualify. For information, call the Lancaster County Board of Assistance, (299-7476 or 299-7534).

More hints

Need financial help, a new apartment, or something to do in your spare time? The new "Resources for the Elderly" booklet published by the Office of Aging may give you hints on getting assistance. It gives a brief description of each program available as well as the phone number.

The last sections of the booklet contain phone numbers for complaints and emergencies: for example, consumer problems and ambulance.

You can get a free copy by stopping in at the Office of Aging (in the new courthouse annex at 50 N. Duke, Lancaster), or at the Schock Presbyterian Home, 37 E. Main St., Mount Joy.
