Black and Christian in South Africa

Guest speaker talks on Apartheid and religion

"I, who have been born and brought up in Johannesburg, have no right to be in Johannesburg. I have to seek permission from white people to be there."

The words are those of Motlalepula June Chabaku, a native of Johannesburg, South Africa, and a black woman. 44 years old, she speaks eight languages, has worked as school teacher and social worker, and is now a student at Lancaster Theological Seminary.

On Sunday, Sept. 25th, Ms. Chabaku will speak at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Mount Joy, on the topic, "Being a Christian in South Africa." The meeting is open to the public, and will take place at 7:30 PM in the fellowship hall of the church.

Although born and raised in South Africa, Ms. Chabaku is not a citizen of that nation. "Because of the preponderance of pigmentation in my skin, I am not a citizen... These are Christians doing this to other Christians in a Christian country," she says.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Lutheran Church Women of Trinity Church.

Guest pastor at Assembly of God Church

The Rev. John Kellner, a professor at Valley Forge Christian College, will be the guest speaker at the Marietta Assembly of God Church on Sunday, Sept. 25th, at 10:30 AM.

Rev. Kellner, a college counselor, is an expert on Divine healing. He has experience with both pas-total and evangelical work. Rev. Kellner will speak on "Perfect Redemption" and, after the service, will pray for those who are sick or in need.

The public is cordially invited to the service. The church is located at Rt. 441 and Oremine Rd. The Rev. Leroy Hoover is the pastor.
