Joe Coover

Joe Coover is DHS boy of month

Donegal High's Boy of the Month for December is Joe Coover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Coover of 134 No. High Street, Mount Joy.

Joe is active both in and out of school. He plans to attend a trade school upon graduation, preferably Stevens Trade, to study carpentry.

At DHS, Joe's activities are as follows: tennis 10; senior class play; and many musical activities. He has been in the band since 8th grade, and was band president this year. Last year he was in the County Band. He played in the orchestra for Brigadoon and Mirth of a Nation, and was in the stage band the last two years.

Joe was listed in Who's Who among American Students.

Outside the school halls, he is an usher at St. Mark's U.M. Church and is in the Youth Fellowship; is a member of Scout Troop #39, and recently earned an Eagle award and became an assistant scout master (also member of Order of the Arrow); he received the God and Country award in 1976; and is a member of the National Rifle Assoc. and the Mount Joy swim team. He likes to camp and hike.

Joe has worked as a life saving instructor at the Mack scout reservation, and mowed lawns at Harvestview apartments. He is now employed by Engle Printing Co.

Executive Timber.

In six exotic woods of the world. Cordia from the East Indies. Wenge from the Congo. Rosewood and tulipwood from South America. Teak from Burma. And walnut from North America.

Pick one up and roll the barrel between your fingers. The oils from your hand will polish the grain, enhance the color.

Now write with it. The tungsten carbide point glides with ease, leaving a clean, sharply-defined marking.

Executive Timber. It's more than just something to write with. From Hallmark.
