

School board meeting

The Donegal School Board spent most of last Thursday's meeting listening to Joe Siberski's hearing for reinstatement. (See accompanying article.)

In other business, the board accepted the Certificates of Election and administered the oath of office to newly elected board members. They were Jere Duke, Edgar Jones, and Jeff Hartzler. Dale Arnold was elected president, and Thomas Meckley was elected vice president, of the School Board.

Donald Kugle was elected board representative to Lancaster County Vo-Tech Joint Committee, and Dale Arnold as alternate.

Thomas Meckley was elected board representative to the Lancaster County Tax Collection Bureau, and Jere Duke was named the alternate.

PSBA (Pennsylvania School Board Association) representatives will be Dr. Robert Eshleman and John Weidman.

The PSBA is conducting a survey of school boards on the question of state football playoffs. The board seemed cool to the idea. They will send their vote to the PSBA later.

The Donegal Band Club asked for permission to prepare and advertise specifications for purchasing band front uniforms from the '77-'78 budget for about $7000. Thirty-five uniforms and thirty-five busby hats for the color guard, and seventeen uniforms for the majorettes would be included in the purchase.

The board found the idea acceptable, but they would not guarantee that the money would be available. Citing the cost of repairs to the school buildings this year, they didn't give the go-ahead for fear of a misunderstanding. One board member said, "the club may feel we are going to purchase the uniforms" instead of merely approving the specifications. The board will prepare a letter on this subject.
