Pioneer Fire Co. lends a hand

Members of the Pioneer Fire Company of Marietta played Santa Claus last Saturday, Christmas Eve, to George Buchanan of Columbia.

George, a member of the Pioneer company, was badly hurt in an auto accident several years ago, and is now unable to work. The other firemen gathered the contributed goods they are posing with above from local businessmen and residents. Not shown is a tree they also obtained for their friend. Their 2-hour good-will effort netted food, money, toys, and “just about anything you could name,” according to fire company president Harold McKain.

The firemen extend their thanks to all the merchants and members who helped out.
