

The Fonz examines postcard

A local postcard plays a brief role in a current movie, according to the Pennsylvania Dutch tourist bureau. The film is Heroes, starring Henry "The Fonz" Winkler and ex-flying nun Sally Field, now Burt Reynolds' latest companion.

Approximately 29 minutes into the film, Mr. Winkler shows the postcard, with a picture of an Amish family riding in a wagon, to Ms. Field. The card receives "prominent attention" at this point, according to the Tourist Bureau.

According to the Bureau's press release, "Winkler describes the Amish people as a 'Typical Pennsylvania Family,' he sniffs the card for a whiff of clean Pennsylvania Dutch Country air, and points to the card in a close up shot."

This star of post cards was supplied two years ago to Universal Studios by Marshall Dussinger of Mount Joy. Mr. Dussinger is the General Manager of Lancaster's StelMar Company, whose main business is Pennsylvania Dutch and Amish post cards.

Amateur tax experts needed

Are you a budding accountant? Think you know something about taxes? If so, the VITA program is looking for your help.

VITA stands for Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program, which helps elderly and low-income people fill out those confusing tax forms. The program was formulated by IRS, and is sponsored by Lutheran Social Services.

Last year VITA volunteers assisted 458 persons in the county. Most of the 1,024 forms filed were short forms (1040A's). All volunteers will get 12 hours of training by IRS people and local tax experts.

If you can fill out your own 1040A, you can help. Call 397-8118.

AARP to meet

Miss Ann Cervenak, Public Relation Director of the Bell Telephone Company will speak and demonstrate that "Science is not magic" at the next meeting of the Lancaster Chapter #530 AARP on January 13th, starting at 2 p.m., at the Hellenic Orthodox Church, 64 Hershey Avenue, a short business session, songfest and refreshments. #114 Visitors Welcome, E.D. Brereton.

United Way does well; will give $1500 to Mount Joy emergency services

This year 23 human service agencies affiliated with the United Way of Lancaster County will receive allocations totalling $2,357,662, an all-time high.

The allocations were decided by an all-volunteer committee, which put in more than 2000 man-hours of work figuring out the most effective use of funds available.

Among the groups receiving funding is the Mount Joy emergency associations. They will get $1,500.
