Letter to editor

Dear Editor;

In this week's issue of the Susquehanna Times, there is the report of the recent Donegal School Board meeting. Now I don't want to sound as though I'm picking on the School board (although there will be those who feel I am doing so), but I have a big question in my mind.

You will note in the School Board report, a newly-arrived resident requested permission from the School Board to enter his five-year-old son in the school's kindergarten system. This gentleman was told that all "kindergarten students must comply with our minimum age requirements. He could enter our first grade, if he successfully completes kindergarten." ...The School Board agenda, February 16, Superintendent's Report, page 5-A, Item 24.

Board president, Dale Arnold, told Dr. Hasler he and the other board members would certainly consider his request, not at that time, but later in the evening at their post-board meeting. Arnold further stated that although they were not allowed to make any decisions at a post-board meeting, they would let Dr. Hasler know what their decision would be.

Now let me state here, Dr. Robert Eshleman (and the only member to do so publicly), immediately made it known that he was in favor of the child's admission to the system, providing the scholastic requirements were met. Dr. Eshleman apparently is the only member of the School Board who at that time recognized the need for an exception to a hard and fast rule.

My question... why could the board not make the decision at the open, regular board meeting? Certainly there isn't anyone in this

...Flanagan

[continued from page 2] being appointed Police Chief of the borough, and calling him "Chief." While the mayor may not appoint his son to that position, he is very proud of what he did last week.

"I think it's an experience he'll never forget for the rest of his life," Mayor Flanagan told the Times. "Saving a life is something not everyone has an opportunity to do."

"Today," the mayor went on, "everyone dislikes policemen. But the policeman's job is to help; when people are in trouble, the first thing they do is call the cops.

Donegal School District who can't see the value in keeping a child in the school system after he has already spent five months in those circumstances, whether it be Donegal or any other system.

I sincerely hope our board soon learns that we, the public, can and do accept necessary exceptions to rules in unusual circumstances such as described in this letter.

Following that meeting, this correspondent was witness to one board member telling Dr. Hasler he (that member) was, and I quote, "definitely in favor of the child's admission to the school without delay."

My question again: Why not at the meeting, open to the public, whom they are to serve?

The story has a happy ending: the Hasler child, as of Monday, February 20, is enrolled and attending the Maytown kindergarten.

To Whom It May Concern;

This letter is to express my sincere thanks to the many people who helped me during the recent snowstorm.

I was stuck (but good) several times & without the aid of people like "Yogi Bear," the "Lifeguard," Miller's Mobil, Bill Strube, the "Plowman," Bud Mohr's men & several others whom I didn't even know—I'd probably still be hibernating!

Keep up the good work, guys. It's people like you who renew our faith in the human race.

With many thanks again.

Sincerely,
Lillian Greer

$1000.00 for Marietta Community House

Mrs. Robert Vanderslice, the treasurer of the Marietta Restoration Associates, presents a check for $1000 to Richard Smedley, president of the Board of Directors of the Marietta Community House. The money will be used to repair extensive damages to the Community House caused by the recent extreme weather conditions.

"I feel proud to be the supervisor of the police here in the borough. I'm real proud.

"I hold meetings once a month, and that gives me a good understanding of their problems."

The mayor mentioned that part-time patrolman Larry Waltz is now putting in three months of study at HACC, as required by state law. He also said that Chief Millar is doing well following his heart attack.
